General Manager Spear has directed by the Board of Har Commissioners to review and port on the recommendatio Harbor Engineer Nicholson no action be taken for the pr toward dredging a uniform foot channel at Los Angeles bor.

Engineer Nicholson reported the board that in his opinion was more important that suff depth be maintained along wharves than to dredge a foot channel, and he said that Angeles is today as well equi to handle deep draft vess any Pacific Coast port. Nich son further said that Los An Harbor has more berths of th five-foot depth at low tide either San Francisco or Se and that at these northern there are no facilities for doc at wharves at low tide for ve drawing forty feet of water. called attention to the fact the United States government appropriated funds for the dr ing of the main channel incl the turning basin to thirty-five at low water. This work will after June 30 next. On the c pletion of this dredging, Engi Nicholson said, Los Angeles bor will have as deep, and in cases, a deeper channel than of the important harbors of world that are not natural water harbors.

The cost of dredging a f foot channel to Pier No. 1 in Outer Harbor is estimated by engineer at $500,000, while dredging of a forty-foot cha to the inner harbor will req an expenditure of several mill of dollars. Engineer Nich recommended that new whar struction provide for a forty depth alongside, and these wha can be reached by deep draft sels at high tide.

FLYER HUNT CONTINUES

Abandonment of Quest Refused

Hope Given Up for Flyers' Safety But Search is to be Pushed

Belief Expressed That Huge Racer Has Plunged to Bottom of Sea

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—All hope of finding Commander John Rodgers and his gallant crew of four on the seaplane PN-9, No. 1, has been given up by local navy men, following receipt of news from Hawaiian waters that the latest reported discovery was only a fishing sampan. Yet in spite of lost hope, the search will continue until every part of the area has been covered.

Capt. E. S. Jackson, commander of the aircraft carrier Langley in charge of the search, refused to abandon the hunt for the missing plane at this time. In reply to a query today from Capt. Stafford H. Moses, flight project commander, as to the advisability of abandoning the search, Capt. Jackson sent the following reply: "Not ready to express opinion until informed of areas searched by destroyer squadrons and other units of battle fleet returning from ..."

DESTROYERS CONTINUE

The destroyers referred to, took on fuel all supplies today at Pearl Harbor and by night were speeding on their way to join in the search. They will be joined tomorrow by other vessels from the battle fleet, and it is probable that one or more of the battleships will enter the area to act as base ...

It is believed here that nearly all vessels are aiding in the search, assisted by every airplane possible. A score of planes from the ... are operating over the ... area.

"I believe now that the giant plane went under the minute she struck the water," said Capt. Moses yesterday, in expressing his ... over the tragedy in which ... men have probably lost their ...

"I want to make it plain, however, that no storm was raging at the time. Misleading reports have been sent out regarding the weather conditions, and should be corrected. There was a squall and the sea was choppy, that was all. Whenever it rained, it always does for a short period at that time of year around the Hawaiian Islands."

ENGINES OF AUTO DRIVE NEW PLANE

Full-Sized Airship With Large Radius Gives Proof of Worth in Paris

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Sept. 7.—For the first time in the history of aviation, successful practical flights were carried out here by a full-sized airplane, driven only by ordinary automobile engines. The machine used was a special make, designed by the inventor, M. Demonge. Two engines were used. They were ordinary nine-horsepower Bugallis.

The airplane which according to experts, may herald a new era of flying, is unusual principally in the fact that it possesses no fuselage body. A Milerons tail rudder is attached to a single front wing by two steel rods only. The pilot and passengers are installed in the center of this front wing between two engines. Its span is slightly more than thirty-eight feet and its greatest width is about ten feet and its thickness about twenty-eight inches.

Weighing 1500 pounds fully loaded, the Demonge airplane has a radius of 600 miles which can be increased to 2400 miles by additional gasoline reservoirs. The engines consume only two gallons per sixty miles. The average speed of ninety miles per hour can be reduced as low as twenty miles. Another advantage is the fact that the engine is started by means of an ordinary crank from the back wing.

The pilot and passenger are seated in the cockpit between the engines.

Runaway Youth Wants It Known He's Safe in Jail

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YUMA (Ariz.) Sept. 7.—Robert McLachin, 11 years of age, wants his father, C. G. McLachin, shipyard worker, of 718 South Alma street, San Pedro, and his mother and six sisters and three brothers to know he is safe tonight in the best quarters Yuma County Jail affords.

Bobbie left San Pedro Thursday with Rolland Griffin, 14, of 717 South Alma street, San Pedro. The boys did not take their parents into their confidence when they decided to see the world. Today in Yuma, Rolland left Bobbie while the latter slept and the younger boy hunted up Sheriff Chappell to tell him about it.

"Rolland ditched me; he isn't a good sport like I thought he was," Bobbie told the officer.

Bobbie has had enough of adventure. One night on the desert he and his companion spent atop a billboard.

"The coyotes were howling hungry-like and we saw a snake before dark," Bobbie explains.

CHURCHES COMPILE PROHIBITION EFFECT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Completion of a report on the "social consequences of prohibition" in the United States was announced today by the Department of Research and Education of the Federal Council of Churches. Conclusions of the report were withheld pending its publication next week, but the study was described as a "review of vital statistics, crime trends, living conditions and related subjects as affected by prohibition."

RIFFS ROUT SPANIARDS

Dictator's Force Mowed Down

Landing Attempt Repulsed by Tribesmen With Machine Guns

Withering Fire Rakes Ranks of Troops Debarking from Warships

BY RAYMOND FENDRICK
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Sept. 7.—The attempt of Dictator Primo de Rivera to debark troops at Alhucemas Bay this morning ended in disaster. The Spanish lost 500 men killed out of a detachment of 28,000, and the remainder fled back to Penon Island in barges under a cross fire of machine guns and 75's.

One Riffian shell smashed the radio installation of the battleship Alfonso XIII, and Dictator de Rivera, who was aboard directing the operations, had to transfer his headquarters to the battleship Jaime I.

The landing operation commenced at 11 o'clock this morning after the French and Spanish aerial and naval fleets had bombarded the Riffian trenches and barbed wire on the Alhucemas hillside continuously for eighteen hours. At least 150 French and Spanish planes participated in the bombardment. It was about the tenth aerial and naval bombardment of Adjir and Alhucemas in as many days.

ORDERED ASHORE

The landing party, composed of Spanish and foreign legionnaires were loaded on motorized barges on the north side of Penon Island, which is 1000 yards offshore and ordered to intrench at the foot of the hillside.

The naval barrage was lifted slightly, but as the barges grounded and the legionnaires started wading ashore, a tornado of Riffian machine gun fire broke loose from three sides.

The legionnaires fled back to the barges immediately, leaving 500 dead behind to redden the shallow water with their life blood.

The aerial and naval fleets continued to bombard Alhucemas all afternoon and Dictator de Rivera will try to land troops again tomorrow.

Another allied fleet has bombarded the hills at the mouth of the Lau River since Sunday morning, but has not dared send troops ashore yet.

The Spanish also attacked along the Melilla and Larache fronts today, without success. The break in the Spanish front in the Tangier zone has not yet been repaired.

YANK FLYERS AID

An American air squadron bombarded Shehuan today in company with two French squadrons.

A communique announces that the whole French air force in Morocco, numbering between 200 and 300 planes, has been put at the service of Dictator Primo De Rivera since Saturday, and have continually bombed Adjir and Shehuan, the principal objectives. Adjir is only sixty miles from the French front, and Shehuan is only twenty miles from the French base at Ocuzan.

Several squadrons of bi-motored Farman Goliath bombers, which carry several 500-pound bombs, have arrived at Fez.

Senor De Rivera had airplanes drop 500,000 copies of an ultimatum in the Riff yesterday saying that Riffians who submit in three days will be received with loving arms guaranteed personal security, clothed and well fed, while others will be terribly punished.

EUROPEAN CONDITIONS IMPROVING

Department of Commerce Official Sees Evidences of Economic Progress

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Unmistakable appearances of fundamentally improved conditions are evident in Europe, Assistant Secretary of Commerce J. Walter Drake said today, commenting upon observations during an extensive tour of Great Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland and Italy.

Mr. Drake studied economic conditions affecting American trade and conferred with field officers of the Department of Commerce.

"The improvement in conditions varies from country to country, but none the less there is a gain in industry, in transportation and in commerce, in spite of the adverse factors that have held these countries back since the armistice," said Mr. Drake. "Generally speaking the agricultural population is all employed with good prospects for successful results this year. In the industrial field, while it is apparent that progress is being made, particularly in some localities, yet, as a whole, there is nothing that should cause the American business man to be stampeded into the fear of European competition.

Labor Secretary Declares Industrial Consolidation Will Aid Employment and Cut Costs

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MOOSEHEART (Ill.) Sept. 7.—Industrial consolidation as a step to eliminate waste in production, assure steady employment, reduce costs and curb overdevelopment, was advocated tonight by Secretary of Labor Davis in his Labor Day address, broadcast from the Moose headquarters, station WJJD. Laws which make economic consolidations illegal serve no public interest and should be altered to conform to present-day tendencies, Secretary Davis asserted.

Secretary Davis cited the boot and shoe, bituminous mining, milling and transportation as industries in which vast economies might be effected by consolidations.

"The greatest source of unemployment in this country is the overdevelopment of industry," he declared.

GIVES ILLUSTRATION

He said 227, or 14 1-4 per cent of 1570 boot and shoe factories in the country ship 65 per cent of the industry's production. In this group, each man produces an average of 1696 pairs, valued at $5333.77. This group, alone, with steady employment would produce all present requirements. In the next group of 738 plants producing about 31 per cent of the country's shoes, the average production of a worker is 1388 pairs. In a third group of 605 factories the output for each employee is 1069 pairs.

"In other words 14 1-4 per cent of the factories employing 60.4 per cent of the workers now produce 65.6 per cent of the output and could, with steady work for 300 days a year, produce all the boots and shoes we need.

"The balance of these workers operate solely in an economic sense to prevent any of the workers from getting a full year's work; operate solely, from a labor point of view, to prevent anyone in the industry from earning a decent living.

"An analogous situation prevails in the flour-milling industry. Of 8019 mills, 228, with 42 per cent of the total workers in the industry, produce 62.1 per cent of the total output, an average of 8764 barrels for each worker. Another group of 953 smaller mills produces 26 per cent of the output, with a production of only 5234 barrels per employee. The remaining 6838 mills, produce 12 per cent of the total output, with an average production of only 2498 barrels a year for each wage earner.

PROPER LAW URGED

"It may be that the law stands as a barrier to any remedy. If so, I submit that there must be something wrong with the law. If this waste cannot be stopped under the existing law, then let us have a law under which it can be stopped. The United States Steel Corporation as a stockholding corporation has been permitted to gain such control as will enable it to stabilize the running time and output of its plants and in so doing it has been declared within its legal rights.

"For some time the Interstate Commerce Commission has been urging the railroad corporations to merge in certain cases for the purpose of cutting down overhead expense. . . . And yet we are told that any such corporate control of coal mining would constitute a crime.

"A law which will leave an industry free to do anything which it sees fit, make any sort of combination or absorptions it finds economical with the clear provision that such industries must keep their prices reasonable or submit to such court action as will make their prices reasonable, will go a long way toward remedying this overdevelopment problem which is becoming more serious every day.

"But with a realization of our own economic ills, I want to leave with you the thought that we are better off in America today than in any other country in the world."

FRAME HELD CRASH CAUSE

Engineering Specialist Says Shenandoah Collapse Due to Faulty Diagonal Bracings

[A full page of pictures of the Shenandoah disaster will be found on page 11, Part I.]

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Rear Admiral C. W. Dyson, engineering specialist, reported to Secretary of the Navy Wilbur today that the collapse of the Shenandoah probably was due to faulty diagonal bracing in the craft.

Admiral Dyson was sent to the scene of the wreck by Secretary Wilbur to make an independent investigation. He reported upon his return today that he found that some of the diagonal bracing had pulled loose from its supports. This bracing is of vital importance, giving to rigid airships their longitudinal strength. With the bracing weakened Admiral Dyson thought it not surprising that the Shenandoah had failed to withstand the storm.

GAS CELLS STOLEN

Theft of some of the big gas cells by souvenir hunters and mutilation of ohers, Admiral Dyson said, made it difficult to determine to what extent any failure occurred in that part of the craft. He made a thorough examination of such cells as were left.

"Many of the published reports dealing with the reduction in the number of safety valves gave the impression that some of the gas cells could not discharge," said Secretary Wilbur in commenting upon Admiral Dyson's report. "Admiral Dyson found that all of them could discharge into a common system. Of course, it remains to be determined whether the reduced number of outlets in the common of helium at a sufficiently rapid rate."

FUNERAL RITES SET

Funeral services for four of the victims of the Shenandoah will take place at Arlington Cemetery tomorrow morning. They are: Lieutenant-Commander Zachary Lansdowne, commander of the ship; Lieutenant-Commander Lewis Hancock, Lieut. J. B. Lawrence and Lieut. E. W. Sheppard.

STATE FAIR OBSERVES LABOR DAY

Street Parade and Field Carnival Feature Program at Sacramento

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 7.—Starting with a street parade through Sacramento's business section, and including a typical Labor Day field event and luncheon, the State fair's first official Labor Day program was held here today.

A luncheon was served in a tent at the south end of the grounds to members of all labor unions, their families and guests.

The address of the day was delivered by Charles F. Curry, Congressman from Sacramento.

Dental clinics, demonstrations of child welfare and the judging of entries in the women's building kept hundreds of women visitors entertained all morning.

American Hurt by Student Mob in Shanghai Riot

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SHANGHAI, Sept. 7.—C. C. Elrod, an American employed by the municipal revenue department, was seriously injured today when he was attacked by members of a mob of 6000 students marching on the central police station in the heart of the foreign settlement.

The police opened fire on the attackers, wounding three, after a British policeman, attempting to rescue the American, had been badly mauled.

The students, armed with bamboo sticks, hurled missiles during a demonstration as a memorial to the "student martyrs."

British police and Chinese mobs who were on parade clashed near the international settlement Monday, resulting in three of the former and one of the latter being wounded. When the police tried to stop the demonstrators, the Chinese stoned them. The police opened fire in retaliation.

DOVE OF PEACE HOVERS OVER LEAGUE ASSEMBLY

Hopeful Start Made on Security; Painleve Urges Arms Parley Under Geneva Auspices

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

GENEVA, Sept. 7.—With a hopeful start made in settling the supreme problem of European security, the sixth assembly of the League of Nations took up its work today in an atmosphere of confidence and with the conviction that world peace can be placed on a solid foundation. This spirit of optimism dominated the discourses delivered by Paul Painleve, Premier of France, who called the Assembly to order, and by Senator Raoul Dandurand of Canada, whom the Assembly elected its president. The same spirit seemed to radiate both inside and outside the Assembly hall as statesmen from fifty lands established their first contact of the situation to review the world's affairs.

M. Painleve made one thing clear at the start. This was that when satisfactory security has been achieved by the negotiations between the Allies and Germany and other desirable regional guarantee pacts have been erected, the Council of the League of Nations should invite the powers to a conference looking toward the reduction of armaments. Incidentally, he emphasized that co-operation for the maintenance of peace must have its root in the League of Nations.

TREATY EFFORT

M. Painleve characterized the negotiations with Germany as an effort to bring about agreements or arbitrations treaties, in conformity with the Covenant of the League of Nations, for the maintenance of peace. He explained that the result of the negotiations, if they succeed, will be to bind certain nations, which are members of the League, by obligations similar to those provided for in the Geneva peace protocol.

The protocol, M. Painleve said, has failed of ratification chiefly because of the refusal of some powers, including England, to accept the system of penalties against an aggressor state therein provided. He boldly suggested a way out of this difficulty concerning the protocol by counselling the creation of a modified protocol which would not bind immediately all the countries of the world by the same universal formula, but would include a series of regional pacts between states which are perhaps prone to conflicts, leaving all other members of the League bound by the general obligations of the covenant.

Painting a word picture of the United States of sixty years ago, when rent by a terrible Civil War, M. Painleve declared that Europe could learn a lesson from the way the United States had found itself and solved its terrific problems. He received an outburst of wild applause when he declared that the possibilities of lasting peace are not less strong in Europe today than they were in 1867 on the American continent.

He argued special concentration on the solution of international economic problems, saying that if economic forces are allowed "to break loose in all their brutality, all agreements will collapse and the specter of war will suddenly appear."

CO-OPERATION CITED

"On the other side of the Atlantic," he said, "there is a great democracy which stood at the cradle of the League, but which has not accepted any official participation in it. It desires to serve the cause of peace in its own way. But the ideal by which the Fatherland of Washington and Lincoln is actuated is so human and approaches so closely to your own, that the League and America are impelled by force of circumstances to cooperate freely for the good of humanity."

He emphasized that the Permanent Court of International Justice—"the principle of which apparently is approved by President Coolidge"—has its existence separate from the League and then remarked that the United States had taken part in all the League's humanitarian work, while numerous Americans have given the League the benefit of their exceptional capacity in difficult missions. He predicted that such points of contact will increase in the future.

FORGOTTEN FORTUNE TO BE DIVIDED

One-third of $55,000,000 Estate Will Go to Heirs in San Francisco

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—One-third of a forgotten fortune of $55,000,000, which for a century has lain dormant and unclaimed in the Bank of England, London, may be divided among three San Francisco descendants of Don Juan de Segui, Spanish pioneer of Guatemala, who was driven from Central America by political vicissitudes and died in England about 100 years ago. This information was given out today by Mrs. Victoria Abella, who said she was a great-granddaughter of the Spanish don and that word of her good fortune had just been received from Guatemalan agents of the Bank of England.

Mrs. Abella, who is well to do in her own right and prominent socially, said the $18,000,000 representing one-third of the estate, would be divided equally among herself and two children, Henry Abella and Mrs. Frank Davidson King, a married daughter. The Abella family came here in 1920 so the two children might complete their education. Henry is a law student at St. Ignatius College. Mrs. Abella said the remaining two-thirds of the estate will go to her four sisters in Central America.

"We knew that Don Juan left some holdings in the Bank of England," said Mrs. Abella, "but we had no idea that the amount was so large. His widow made no attempt to claim the property after his death and the matter was allowed to lie dormant."

Typhoon Raging Off China Coast Delays Shipping

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

Four American Sailors Killed in Ship Blast

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SHANGHAI, Sept. 7.—Four American sailors were killed and three wounded by an explosion in the generator of the United States destroyer Noa this afternoon. The explosion happened while the Noa was returning from a town on the coast rendering service to the Chinese ship Faiching, which was beached a few days ago.

Help was rendered the Noa by the Admiral liner President Grant upon its entrance into Shanghai Harbor.

VACATION HELPS COOLIDGE

President Fit and Ready to Return to Desk Following Work and Play at Seashore

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SWAMPSCOTT (Mass.) Sept. 7.—Greatly improved in health as the result of his eleven weeks mixture of vacation and work on the Boston north shore, President Coolidge is now ready to get back in the harness at Washington again. Physicians who have been with him constantly state the President's health is better than it has been for months.

The President spent Labor Day working in the morning and reading during the afternoon. Shortly after breakfast he called for the morning mail and spent several hours answering correspondence and handling routine matters.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

John Coolidge, the President's son, celebrated his nineteenth birthday today by watching the yacht races at Marblehead from the deck of the Mayflower. In the evening there was a birthday cake in his honor. Col. and Mrs. George Harvey were dinner guests.

It was emphasized in official circles today that President Coolidge will be compelled to order court martial proceedings against Col. William Mitchell if the War Department finds he has been correctly quoted in his violent denunciation of government officials charged with the conduct of aviation.

President Coolidge's attitude cannot be obtained today, although his advisers are firm in their belief that he will act promptly.

DAVIS TO ACT

In some quarters it is stated that the chances of Acting Secretary of War Davis winning a permanent place in the Cabinet may be largely determined by his success in handling the Mitchell case. Mr. Davis has been in active charge of the department for six months and is strongly backed for Secretary Weeks's post. It is believed that if he handles this case in a way which pleases the President it will greatly enhance his prospects for becoming the next Secretary of War.

Preparations are being made for a quick removal of the White House from Swampscott to Washington, and it is expected a definite date for leaving will be announced tomorrow.

DOVE OF PEACE AT ASSEMBLY

First Session Promises to Solve Problems

Canadian Senator Elected as League President

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson One of Interested Crowd

States already has afforded European pessimists a lesson upon which they cannot meditate too often," he said.

"If these pessimists had reached manhood sixty years ago," the speaker went on, "what a gloomy, sanguinary future they would have predicted for America. The United States had been rent for four years by a terrible civil war. The ground was covered with ruins and the hearts of the people were filled with a hatred which the presence of the former negro slaves—liberated by force—appeared to render forever ineradicable. Nevertheless, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, these States—with a heterogeneous population, and interests so diverse as often to be directly opposed—live peaceably side by side under the protection of a Supreme Court, whose authority, which is partly moral, has never had to resort to penalties.

"The war songs under which the armies of Grant and Lee met in furious combat now have become national melodies, sung with equal good will by all the citizens of the United States.

"We must of course, guard against broad analogies, and no one will imagine that the history of the new continent can be repeated in our old continent of Europe, with its ancient traditions and nationalities."

CHANCE FOR PEACE

Nevertheless M. Painleve continued he desired to emphasize that the possibilities of a lasting peace existing today in Europe can be transformed into actualities by good will.

This is imperative, he declared, for the present situation is unstable and either the atmosphere of distrust in which Europe is plunged will vanish, or it will grow and inevitably cause a hideous war really meaning the end of European civilization.

The present security negotiations never would have been begun unless the League Assembly had erected the Geneva peace protocol, he said. He recommended reexamination and amendment of the protocol to meet the most serious objections against it or consideration of the advisability of applying its principles to partial agreements, like the proposed Rhineland pact. Whatever method to attain peace is followed, he pledged France's unreserved co-operation.

At the opening of his address, the speaker alluded to the presence among the spectators of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and paid tribute to the memory of the late American President who played such a great part in the formation of the League. This reference evoked an outburst of applause.

DANDURAND CHOSEN

The election of Senator Dandurand of Canada as president of the Assembly, marked this afternoon's session. M. Painleve, as the retiring chairman, paid a tribute to Senator Dandurand as a statesman of high capacity and deep knowledge of juridical questions, and referred to Canada as common ground of British and French views. In Canada, M. Painleve said, French civilization lives peacefully and in brotherly union with British, constituting an example to the world of how to handle successfully the problem of the treatment of minority populations.

Senator Dandurand joined M. Painleve in hailing the League of Nations as a successful and noble enterprise, dedicated to make the world safer. He expressed confidence that the enlightened collaboration of statesmen gathered in an atmosphere of devotion to the well-being of humanity will contribute to the establishment of peace founded on justice.

SESSION INTRIGUES MRS. WOODROW WILSON

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

GENEVA, Sept. 7.—"It is magnificent," Mrs. Woodrow Wilson said to personal friends tonight after spending the entire day closely following the opening day deliberations of the League of Nations Assembly.

She left the League auditorium deeply affected by the day's experience. She was particularly impressed by what Dr. Eduard Benes, Foreign Minister of Czecho-Slovakia, told her of a practical attribute of the League of Nations which is not generally known.

"Do you realize," he said to Mrs. Wilson, "that by spending four weeks each year at Geneva I see every Foreign Minister in Europe? Like other Ministers, I am able to treat in this neutral atmosphere many questions existing between us, which are amplified later into important agreements. The League of Nations founded by your husband is a great time-saver."

ington today from Lakehurst to attend the funeral of her husband. She declined to comment upon the charges by Col. William Mitchell against the administration of the air services of the Army and Navy.

Mrs. Lansdowne, following the disaster, was quoted as blaming navy officials for sending the Shenandoah on its ill-fated trip.

DEPARTMENT EXPLAINS UNDERTAKING DIFFICULTY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Inadequate undertaking facilities in the Ohio district where the Shenandoah met disaster, made it impossible to give the measure of care in preparation of the victims' bodies desired by officers in charge of the work.

This explanation was given by Navy Department officials tonight on learning that Howard W. Spratley of Venice, Ill., father of William H. Spratley, mechanic, who was killed in the disaster, had wired Secretary Wilbur protesting against the condition in which the body of his son was received and the absence of an escort.

The lack of naval facilities so far inland as Ohio, made it impossible to send escorts with the bodies, the officials explained, and they were sent with express charges collect on delivery because the naval paymaster had not arrived at the scene to make disbursements. The department will reimburse relatives of the disaster's victims, they said, upon receipt of an account of money expended.

GROWERS GET ONION SEED FROM ENGLISH

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LAREDO (Tex.) Sept. 7.—An effort on the part of speculators to control the Bermuda onion seed crop of the Canary Islands met with failure and the Texas onion growers have been able to purchase from T. M. Reid of London, Eng., a sufficient supply of seed for this season's planting purposes. One shipment of 16,000 pounds of Bermuda onion seed has just arrived here from Teneriff, Canary Islands. It is sufficient to plant 5500 acres. The sowing of seed in the seed beds is now in progress and in a few weeks the young plants will be ready for transplanting in the open fields.

CHARGES FORCE AVIATION CRISIS

Mitchell's Denunciations Assure Action

Expect Issue to Reach President Finally

Showdown on Air Defenses Held Unavoidable

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Premeditated insubordination on the part of Col. William Mitchell of the Army Air Service in charging the Army and Navy air services with "incompetence, criminal negligence and almost treasonable administration" cannot be ignored by the government. Something is bound to happen to Col. Mitchell as a result of the charges, but there will be a showdown all along the line on the whole air defense issue. President Coolidge has already issued orders that this shall not be done by "star chamber proceedings."

While the President may follow his customary procedure of letting his subordinates, Secretaries Weeks and Wilbur, act first, the issue raised by Col. Mitchell eventually will reach Mr. Coolidge and be dealt with by him. It will not end with the court-martialing of Col. Mitchell, as prescribed by the Army regulations.

ATTACK BITTER

Col. Mitchell's attack not only on the Army Air Service, of which he is a member, but principally on the Navy service, which has suffered most in the recent air disasters, exceeds in ferocity anything of its kind in recent history. The disagreements of Admirals Sims and Fiske with naval policies in the past pale in venom and significance in comparison.

In Army circles Mitchell has been a real trouble maker for a long time. He has been single-tracked on the question of establishing an independent air service with no one but active flyers in it. In advocating and defending this proposal he has been intolerant and arrogant with all who have disagreed with him. He has resigned his job in protest more than once, only to have his resignation handed back to him with the suggestion that he return to his desk and go to work.

There has been a well-defined opinion in high administrative circles that Mitchell has been deliberately seeking a martyr's role for some time, but the President and Mr. Weeks have consistently refused to satisfy him in that respect.

GOES TOO FAR

In this new attack, however, he has plainly gone too far. Mitchell will have ample opportunity to prove his case, according to information here today, but he must take the consequences in the end.

It can be said now that both the President and Mr. Weeks have all along recognized the good points in Mitchell's service and criticisms of the Air Service and have agreed with some of the latter.

The President, however, has never been convinced that Mitchell is right in his contention that there should be an independent air service. Military men generally have been of the opinion that services trained to operate with the fleet, on the one hand, and with infantry on the other, would serve the real purpose better in time of war than an independent service under a separate command.

WORLD WAR EXPERT MAKES PUBLIC FINDINGS

W. B. Shearer, experimental expert for the American Navy during the World War, who has been investigating naval conditions on the Pacific at the request of Senator William H. King of Utah, last night made public through the Associated Press a report on aviation affairs which he has forwarded to Senator King, and which reveals the United States air services standing 16 per cent in size and effectiveness, as compared with France and Japan 100 per cent each, and Great Britain 58 per cent.

The report, which also deals with the American Army air strength in conjunction with the Navy, submits the following estimates as necessary increases to bring these services up to a standard comparable to the air strength of foreign powers:

Officers, 4000; men, 30,000; machines, 4000.

Referring to the American Navy's surface and submarine craft, which are declared to be essential to the country's defense in co-operation with the air, the report points out that of naval vessels in commission and reserve, Great Britain has 673, the United States 408 and Japan 300.

In the Pacific, it adds, the speed of the United States Fleet is only sixteen knots, as compared to Japan's twenty-two knots, and declares that the greatest American naval guns are outranged 3000 yards by the Japanese.

The Shearer report, referring to Col. William Mitchell's attack on the Army and Navy Air services, says:

"Col. Mitchell brings out a vital point in his charges, namely, that an air attack on this country would come via Alaska, where only forty-six miles of water separate us from Asia.

"Many will support Col. Mitchell if he will confine his attack to where it belongs, to the political heads. He knows that both services, the Army and Navy, are forced to play politics.

"Congress knows the facts. The direct fault and remedy lie with the people, who are not interested in the Army, the Navy or national defense. The popular slogan of 'reduce taxes' has killed all sense of proportion."

Summarizing the situation on the Pacific, the report says: "The fleet must be fully maintained, naval bases must be built and, above all, our air defense must be developed."

DECOLLETE DINER PROTESTS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Sept. 7.—Whether the Southern Pacific Railroad can require a male passenger to wear his coat while being served in the dining car will be passed upon by the Arizona Corporation Commission as a result of a complaint made today by Nealy A. Pennington of Tucson. In a long letter to the commission Pennington charged that while en route to Phoenix from Tucson Saturday T. L. Woodling, a steward, required him to don his coat before serving him. In his letter he explains that he wore a new shirt which cost him $4.98, offering this fact as evidence that he was properly dressed.

WILL CONTINUE FLYERS' SEARCH

Capt. Moses declared that everything humanly possible was being done and will be done to locate the missing flyers. He refused to express any opinion as to what might have been the cause for the PN-9 No. 1 being engulfed the moment she hit the water.

Capt. Moses said:

"People will want to know how this terrible thing happened. All of us would, but frankly, I don't know. No one does, and probably never will.

"The plane was last seen by the Farragut at the 1600-mile station. Later she was spoken through the radio by the Aroostook. It is uncertain whether the plane passed the vessel on the 1800-mile mark, and that uncertainty has made it necessary to extend the search over a large area.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY

"It is a terrible tragedy, but in memory of these brave men, the Navy ought to continue to carry on. We will ultimately make the flight to Hawaii successfully, and demonstrate that it can be done without disaster. It is the last big feat to be achieved by aviation.

"Our heads, however, are now bowed in grief at the loss of our comrades. But for their sakes we must carry on."

Pinning their hopes on the PB-1, the big Boeing plane, which was unable to join in the hop-off a week ago, the local Navy men are anxiously awaiting permission from Washington to send the plane under command of Lieutenant-Commander James H. Strong, on its way. Strong said today:

"I am highly confident that the PB-1 can do it, and also confident that we will be permitted to try. We made a full load test on Sunday which was highly successful. We could have stayed in the air many hours, but because of the rain and low clouds did not attempt it."

The PB-1 is being held at Crissy Field in readiness to hop off as soon as Washington sanctions the flight. Another full-load test will be made tomorrow if the weather conditions are right, it was announced by Commander Strong.

CONGRESSMAN HITS HAWAIIAN FLIGHT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Congressman Charles F. Curry declared today, in speaking of the ill-fated Honolulu flight, bitterly criticised Capt. Stanford E. Moses, commander of the flight, in declaring the naval officer should not have been placed in command of such an expedition because "he had neither the experience, the temperament nor the knowledge."

"The present policy of the Air Service," Congressman Curry said, "is dictated by Army and Navy man long trained to other methods. These men are jealous of the new methods of warfare, and it is this jealousy and ideas of mistaken economy that are to blame for the numerous accidents in the flying service. Unification is the only solution of this serious problem."

BOYS NOW SITTING UP STRAIGHT ON BEACHES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—Ocean City boys who early in the season thought it impossible to recline on the beach without the supporting arm of the "girl friend" are now sitting up without any assistance.

This rapid development of stamina has been due to a warning shake of the head from Miss Lottie S. Olney, the beach censor.

In some cases, where the shake has not been understood, the glitter of the sun on the already highly polished police badge which Miss Olney carries in her little note book has dazzled the offenders into the paths of rectitude.

MYSTERY IN STABBING OF THREE GIRLS

Phantom Dagger Wielder Hunted by Officers as Montreal Assailant

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MONTREAL, Sept. 7. — Police were searching the city today for a "phantom dagger man," who yesterday stabbed three girls, wounding one seriously. None of the victims saw the assailant, and two did not realize until some time after being stabbed what had occurred. All three incidents occurred in the same district.

Flora Campbell, 26 years of age, was stabbed in the back while out walking, and was so seriously hurt that she had to be taken to a hospital. Cecile Ceriveau, 13, was stabbed while going to church. She saw no one at the time, she said, but felt a stinging sensation in the middle of her back, and after returning home from church found a small knife wound.

Laura Blanchard, 16, said she did not know when she was stabbed although she later discovered three wounds in her back.

Newport Beach Banker Quits as City Treasurer

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 7.—Lew H. Wallace, president of the First National Bank here, turned in his resignation as City Treasurer at a meeting of the Board of Trustees, asking that it become effective October 1, next. The board referred the matter to the committee of the whole.

Mr. Wallace stated he was resigning because of the increased cost of conducting the affairs of the City Treasurer in the face of the salary of $50 per month which the city pays. Mr. Wallace recently requested the Trustees to allow him $100 a month as rental charges for space and equipment in his bank devoted to the business of his office as City Treasurer. The City Attorney ruled that such payment would be illegal and it was denied.

Wallace has been City Treasurer for twelve years.

CHURCH MEMBERS IN SOUTH DAKOTA GAIN

TOTAL MEMBERSHIP 481,606 ACCORDING TO RECENT CENSUS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PIERRE (S. D.) Sept. 7.—There are 481,606 persons claiming membership in some church in South Dakota this year, compared to 360,335 in 1915, according to the official figures of the fifth State census, just compiled by the State Census Bureau.

This is 71 per cent of the entire population of the State, as against 61 per cent in 1915, Doane Robinson, director of the census, declares however that the indicated gain of 10 per cent is probably too large, and is rather an indication that the returns of the census this year are more complete than they were in 1915.

The Lutheran denomination is the most numerous as it was in 1915, with the Roman Catholics second. Every denomination listed shows a gain, except the United Brethern, the Mennonites, the Greek Catholics, and the Dunkards, who show slight reductions from the 1015 figures.

PRESS BODY OPPOSES TOLL FOR MOTORISTS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DEADWOOD (S. D.) Sept. 7.—The South Dakota Black Hills Press Association has gone on record as opposing the levying of a toll on all motorists passing over the "Needles Highway," as proposed by the South Dakota State Park Board. The Needles Highway, one of the scenic drives in the country, is traveled annually by thousands of motorists, and the proposed toll of 50 cents on all cars passing over it would bring in a considerable sum for the maintainance of roads in the Custer State Park, in which the highway is located. The tax is opposed by the press association, however, on the ground that it would create an unfavorable opinion of the State in the minds of tourists visiting from other States.

CHILD SLAYER'S PAST REVEALED

Parents Hit for Hospital's Release of Defective

Murder of Mary Daly Called Result of Negligence

Killer Denies Guilt When He Appears at Hearing

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—While candles burned tonight about the small coffin of 6-year-old Mary Daly in the home of her parents in Montclair, N. J., the investigation centered upon the record of Harrison Noel, her 20-year-old "mad-boy" kidnaper and murderer.

Spurred by instructions from Gov. Silzer, officials began inquiries to determine whether asylum officials and doctors who had released young Noel were guilty of negligence.

Police Chief Reilly of Montclair declared that an affidavit sworn by Dix W. Noel, New York lawyer, avowing responsibility for his son's actions and so obtaining Harrison Noel's release from Bellevue Hospital in July, will make the father co-responsible for the string of crimes Noel confessed Sunday night. Chief Reilly said charges may be laid.

On the other hand, a spokesman for the Noels, H. C. Barber, took issue and asserted that Bellevue Hospital, by releasing Harrison under any conditions, made itself culpable.

Concurrently Dr. Guy Payne, head of the Essex County Hospital for the Insane, disclosed that Harrison Noel in 1923 tried to kill his father while the latter slept in a tent pitched in the woods.

The boy hacked his father in the head, and only an abrupt awakening saved the latter's life. Scalp wounds were inflicted and small arteries cut.

The boy had homicidal tendencies, long shown when he escaped from Essex County Hospital, June 28, last. He is booked there as an "eloped patient."

Dr. Payne said the father gave his word he would look after Harrison and would assume full responsibility for his actions if the hospital authorities would not detain the youth.

Young Noel, working his way to Europe as deckhand on the George Washington, attacked a cook on account of a bad grapefruit, and in his own boastful words, "laid him out" in the assault.

Subsequently he tried to kill a hospital attendant with a leg he wrenched from a chair. All this happened before the elder Noel gave Bellevue an affidavit and Dr. Payne his word that he assumed responsibility for his son.

Young Noel was committed there in February and escaped June 29. Permitted to go walking with his younger brother, Dix, he went to his home, ate dinner with their mother and then jumped on his sister's bicycle. The same day he turned up in New York and was taken to Bellevue.

Dr. Payne averred that the word of a reputable lawyer, such as he regards Mr. Noel, appeared to him to be adequate guarantee that Harrison would be properly watched over and committed to some institution.

Gov. Silzer in ordering an investigation sent to Dr. Payne a Montclair man, E. P. Earl, who is a member of the Board of Control. Mr. Earl went over the records in the cases and the circumstances of the "elopement." He will report to the Governor directly.

Mr. Earl, in a statement tonight, said that he considered the parents of Noel "highly culpable."

"They permitted him to drive a New Jersey car without a license; they knew he had a gun in his home; they knew he had expressed a threat to kidnap some child, and they were familiar with his previous murderous attacks on several people," said Mr. Earl.

"Under the circumstances I consider it exceedingly reprehensible that they allowed him at large."

SLAYER PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO CHARGE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MONTCLAIR (N. J.) Sept. 7.—Standing with bowed head and hunched shoulders in the tumble-down dance hall that is used as a town hall in the hamlet of Cedar Grove, N. J., Harrison Noel, 19 years of age, confessed slayer of Mary Daly, 6 years of age, and Raymond Pierce, 24 years of age, negro taxi driver, today entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of murder.

Recorder Evans held him without bail for action of the grand jury.

Less than half an hour after the arraignment at Cedar Grove, young Noel walked through the red-barred gates of the Essex County Jail at Newark, to face death in the electric chair, or, if he is declared insane, which seems more probable, life imprisonment in the institution for the criminal insane at Trenton.

The evidence will be placed before the grand jury when that body is impanelled on the 15th inst. Mason said a special commission will be impanelled immediately to pass on Noel's sanity. This commission, of three alienists, will be appointed by John A. Bigelow, Prosecutor of Essex county, and if Noel is found insane there will be no murder trial.

Before starting for Cedar Grove Noel was photographed and fingerprinted in Montclair Police Headquarters, and was arraigned before Recorder Trimble of Montclair on a charge of kidnaping a minor girl. Noel pleaded guilty to this charge.

The charge of murdering Mary Daly was not entered against Noel because the crime was committed within the jurisdiction of the Passaic county authorities, and it seems doubtful even if he will be indicted on this charge.

An inquest was conducted over the body of Mary Daly in Crandall's morgue, Paterson, shortly after last midnight. The death certificate showed death was due to bullet wounds.

According to the findings of the doctors the girl was choked and beaten about the head and face before the two shots that ended her life were fired.

Her face was powder burned, indicating the gun was held close to her head. Her neck was broken. Finger prints on the throat showed she had been strangled. The skull was fractured, but the fracture may have been caused when her lifeless body was to the quarry rocks, where it found early last night.

The body of Mary Daly, her home last Friday to the lawn of a neighbor, ried into the Daly home afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. would not be seen. Funeral rangements have not nounced, but it was learned tomorrow will follow a service.

GRIM VIGIL KEPT FOR FIEN

Fifty Armed Police Guard Nashville Street for Added Violence by Murdering Monster

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Sept. 7.—The figures of fifty silent men were silhouetted against the blackness of Delta avenue night tonight, the hour for the self-announced coming of the monster who for more than two weeks has terrified that section mysterious visits and brutal attacks.

Under an emergency curfew law, the neighborhood was completely evacuated after 9 o'clock, save for the specially picked cordon of deputy sheriffs, policemen and detectives who were dispatched to the scene of terror with instructions to shoot to kill any person making the slightest gesture of suspicion.

In his letter to the press Sunday, the "masked marauder," as he signed himself, specified only that he would enter a home on Delta avenue, Monday night, and that no one would live to tell the tale. He omitted the exact hour, but from the fact that all of his previous raids have been made between midnight and 3 o'clock police concluded that his latest attempt would not be made before those hours.

While the entire neighborhood came under the watchful eyes of the cordon, two houses in particular were under surveillance, both believed marked for the marauder's visit. One was the residence of Garfield Slater, who found in his mail box today a note bearing the same handwriting as that of the prowler's two previous letters, saying, "Look out for me, I am coming." Police identified the handwritings as being the same.

Another was that of Roy Covington, whose wife awakened early this morning, found the white masked man in her bedroom and fired at him. He escaped, flinging aside his mask. Mrs. Covington believes he was then a preliminary survey of her to be used in a visit tonight.

Police stood guard house until daylight.

Mr. Eastman Could Not Walk t ance, But COCO MINERA VOLCANIC IRON WATE

After years of suffering with rheumatism my condition became recently almost helpless. Through the advice of the manager of a large lumber company I began the use of Coco Volcanic Water and Volcanic Mineral Mud. Drinking the water seemed to thoroughly arouse my liver and greatly improved my digestion. When I first began taking the mud baths my wife had to assist me to the tub as it was practically impossible for me to take the baths without assistance. After drinking the water only a few days and after two or three of the baths the inflammation was removed and my condition improved to such an extent that I could take the baths without help and now am completing the course I am in better physical condition than in many years. I have perspired as I had never perspired in my life since pouring the volcanic mud into my bath water. My skin was dry and felt unnatural, the clay seemed to open the old pores, arouse my circulation and seemed to draw like a plaster. I actually feel today that Coco Water and mineral mud baths have made a new man, and life worth living. I have absolutely no interest in the treatment further than to assist my friends and anyone who may suffer from rheumatism or a similar ailment. Those interested may correspond with me or speak with me in person.

Why Take a Chance?

When your automobile engine "heats" or "knocks" you do not experiment with unknown fluids as substitutes for reliable oil.

Yet many an automobile owner today is pouring into his personal engine—his stomach—fluids about which he knows nothing whatever and in the hope that by unadvised experiment he may overcome a "knock."

When the human engine begins to "knock" use the same good judgment you would display in treating your automobile. Take it to an expert—your physician; do it immediately and follow his instructions carefully. That way—and that way only—lies safety.

HEAT VICTIMS PRAY FOR RAIN

Missouri and South Carolina Suffer in Drought

Weather Bureau Predicts No Relief in Sight

St. Louis Heads Midwestern Cities in Temperature

BY J. P. GALLAGHER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—The blistering September heat wave, somewhat of an innovation, that is leading the weather prognosticators into the belief that the climate of the United States, if not of the world, is undergoing a change, today abated in some sections of the country between the Rocky Mountains and the Atlantic seaboard, and in others grew more intense.

In two sections of the country, according to special dispatches to The Times Chicago bureau tonight, prayers were offered during the day for relief from unprecedented drought. In the portions of the Middle West, where electrical storms with accompanying high winds, brought relief, the remedy was worse than the ailment. Generally there seems to be little relief in sight.

PRAY IN WORST DROUGHT

Prayers were offered during the day in many parts of the Ozark region in Missouri for relief from the worst drought that section has known since the Government Weather Bureau was established at Springfield, Mo., in 1888, thirty-seven years ago. According to W. W. Talbott, observer at the bureau, the total rainfall to date this year has been 2.75 inches less than in the corresponding period during the famous dry year of 1901. Springs have gone dry and pastures are turning brown, forcing owners of large herds of cattle to turn to milk feeds. Thus hundreds of dairies dotting the Ozark sections are suffering from the effects of the drought. As the people prayed the sizzling rays of the sun drove the mercury to 98 deg. and the Weather Bureau reported that no relief was in sight at present.

Today was the day set aside by Gov. McLeod of South Carolina for the people to fast and pray for rain to break one of the worst droughts in the history of the Palmetto State. His proclamation was complied with generally. The weather man, however, could see no hope of immediate fulfillment.

ST. LOUIS HARD HIT

St. Louis continued to lead the list of Middle-West cities suffering from the heat, although slightly moderated temperatures were experienced there today. The list of deaths superinduced by the heat in St. Louis was brought to twelve in tabulations made public today. Rain has not fallen in St. Louis in nineteen days, and a record of twenty-one years was broken when the mercury rose above 100 deg. on three successive days.

In Knoxville, the temperature rose above 100 deg. for the fourth consecutive day.

In Chicago, although the sun was shining merrily most of the day, its blistering powers demonstrated throughout last week were dissipated by cool lake breezes. The peak today was 81 deg., against 96 Sunday. City beach superintendents announced tonight that all two-day attendance records were broken Sunday and today. Although Labor Day generally marks the closing of the beaches, they will be kept open this year until pleasant weather ceases.

Following electrical storms, cooler temperatures prevailed generally throughout Indiana, where the mercury broke records of fifty years' standing. But with the storms came the deadly cyclone pockets, one of which swept Clay county injuring one man and playing havoc with shade trees telephone and telegraph poles and high-voltage wires. The storm was felt with less intensity in other sections and in some parts of the State the predicted relief failed to materialize. Vincennes and Washington, Ind., sweltered under 105 degrees. No relief was felt at Anderson or Richmond where a water famine was threatened as a result of drought. Officials of these cities have taken steps to conserve the water supply.

ICE FAMINE REPORTED

No relief is in sight for Nebraska, where scorching winds are searing every growing thing. With the mercury steadily hovering around the century mark unusual suffering is reported due to a general shortage of ice.

Throughout the eastern section of the country, showers were fairly general except at Washington, D. C. Last night an electrical storm visited the national capital. Destructive winds unroofed six houses and one woman was killed by the branch of a falling tree.

Temperature figures for yesterday show the following:

Fort Worth, Tex., Montgomery, Ala., and Vicksburg, Miss., 104; Parkersburg, W. Va., Shreveport, La., Cairo, Ill., Memphis, Tenn., Little Rock, Ark., and St. Louis, Mo., 102; Evansville, Ind., Peoria, Ill., and Keokuk, Iowa, 100.

The weather map was dotted liberally with cities which registered from the high 80's to the even century reading.

AGED CONFEDERATE VETERAN SUCCUMBS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Sept. 7. Capt. E. B. Dennis, aged Confederate veteran, is among the gray-clad figures of his earlier years. Dennis who was 93 years of age, died in the Bexar County Home for Aged, after a few days illness. One of original Texas pioneers, he came to Texas in 1864, and became an Indian fighter, which life he followed for a number of years, until a redskin's arrow and advancing years caused him to leave such an adventurous life. Following his being wounded, Dennis moved to North Texas, where he became a freighter. After several years of this, he again moved to Central Texas. He survived by his widow also of the Home.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—That the war has not been completely forgotten was impressed upon Sergt. Samuel Woodfill, characterized by Gen. Pershing as the greatest hero of the World War, when he arrived here Sunday with his wife to attend the convention of the Fifth Division.

The sergeant, whose exploits on the western front will go down in history, was accorded an unofficial reception which caused him more of consternation than did the zipping German machine-gun bullets in 1917. However, the sergeant weathered the ovation and later escaped gratefully to a hotel.

CORN BELT GROUP HITS RATE PLANS

Project to Help Weaker Railroads Discussed at Meeting in Chicago

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—The Potter plan for applying to the weaker railroads part of the pooled earnings under higher freight rates was discussed today by members of the corn belt committee, meeting here and representing twenty-four farmers' organizations of the States in which corn is a major crop.

Fred S. Jackson of Topeka, Kan., former Attorney-General of Kansas, and one time Congressman, now counsel for the committee, expressed the opinion that the poorer roads could be better served by special adjustment of rates.

The sentiment expressed by committee members indicated that whatever adjustment the corn belt farmers might agree to, they would prepare a firm resistance to a general 5 per cent increase in rates, in which the stronger roads might be supposed ultimately to be recaptured for the benefit of the weaker.

Calles Favors Federal Outlay for Irrigation

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 7.—President Calles has gone on record, according to a dispatch from the State of Morelos in El Universal, in favor of a huge irrigation program for Mexico, saying he hopes the government will spend at least 80,000,000 pesos during his regime on irrigation works.

President Calles inspected the large hacienda in Morelos recently acquired by the government for the purpose of converting it into an agricultural college to be opened January 1, 1926. This is the first practical step in the President's program of educating the agricultural classes in keeping with a pre-election pledge.

FISK JUBILEE SINGER FALLS DEAD AT TRAIN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Sept. 7.—The new south lost a mighty connecting link with the old south today when John W. Work, famous as one of the celebrated Fisk Jubilee Quartet which toured the world, fell dead here while stepping aboard a train for New York City. He was 52 years of age. Death came from heart disease, for the treatment of which illness he was going to New York.

Immense in stature, with the joviality of the old southern negro, and with an instinct for music peculiar to his own race, Work contributed perhaps more to the survival and advancement of the old spirituel and folk songs than any other man of his generation.

MORE DEATHS IN FLOOD FEARED

Twelve Bodies Recovered in Washington City

Motorists Thought Buried on Snake Road

Damage to Property Placed at $500,000

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WENATCHEE (Wash.) Sept. 7. Twelve bodies had been recovered today and four known dead still were missing, as a result of a cloudburst in the Squillchuck Mountains Saturday evening which sent a flood over South Wenatchee.

That other deaths may have resulted was indicated today when parts of half a dozen automobiles that had been parked in the tourist camp at Appleyard, south of Wenatchee, were found scattered in the debris.

L. D. Kitchell, traveling passenger agent of the Great Northern Railway, also expressed the belief today of a possibility that other motorists may have been buried on the Snake Road, which leads from Wenatchee Heights. In some places, he said, the highway is covered with mud, rocks and debris to a depth of fifteen to twenty feet and he saw tops and other parts of several automobiles below the slide.

Other results of the flood, aside from the loss of life, included property damage estimated at $500,000. Railroad tracks washed out at the Great Northern terminal and traffic tied up; the town of Appleyard, where the terminal is situated, practically wiped out; hundreds of carloads of apples destroyed in the orchards of the Wenatchee Valley by the hailstorm that accompanied the cloudburst and several miles of the Wenatchee reclamation district canal choked with mud or washed out.

FOOTBALL STAR WED IN CHICAGO

University Halfback on Last Year's Team Becomes Husband of Heiress

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—As the culmination of a romance which began while they were students at the University of Chicago, Miss Florence Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Thompson, and Harry Thomas, star halfback last year on the Maroon football team, were married Saturday afternoon.

Many of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas did not learn of the wedding until tonight. Only relatives and close friends attended the ceremony at The Highlands, the millionaire restaurant owner's home in Lake Forest. Simplicity of the wedding resulted from the illness of Mrs. Thompson, mother of the bride.

Rev. Frank Fitt, pastor of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church read the wedding service.

VIVIANI, FORMER PREMIER, DEAD

Collapse After Wife's Demise Proves Fatal

Was First Labor Minister in French Cabinet

Attained Nation's Leadership at War Outbreak

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, Sept. 7.—Former Premier Rene Viviani died this morning. Death occurred in the Malmaison Sanatorium where M. Viviani had been confined for two years suffering from a general breakdown. The end came peacefully.

The former Premier collapsed while pleading a case in court on June 8, 1923, and was said at that time to be worn out with work and grief over the death of his wife.

BORN IN ALGERIA

Rene Viviani was the most renowned of the public men given to the French nation by her young colonies in Africa. Born November 8, 1863, in the thriving little village of Sidi Bel Abbes in the interior of Algeria—which was itself born of the brilliant French conquest—Viviani came to be known through the years of his political life as a man who embodied in their truest sense the principles of liberty, equality and fraternity upon which the French Republic was founded.

Destined by his pious mother to the cloth of the Roman Catholic Church, Viviani's taste for oratory and love of debate estranged him from the church influence in early manhood and decided his choice of the law as a profession.

He was graduated from the University of Paris and immediately began the practice of law in Algiers but it was not long before his ambitions required a wider field. He overcame many obstacles to establish himself in Paris, yet his rise was meteoric and he took high rank at the bar and an enviable niche in politics.

BEFRIENDED LABOR

His advanced views on social and religious questions naturally drew him definitely into the Socialist movement just then beginning to grow rapidly in France. He saw the needs of the laboring and low salaried classes; fought with them for a readjustment of their social conditions; won the confidence of farmer and woodman voters in picturesque Auvergne, and brought into being the old-age pension laws. He became the first Minister of Labor, and it was upon the shoulders of the workers befriended in those early days that he was carried to the high positions he afterward held.

FRENCH STATESMAN CLAIMED BY DEATH

Rene Viviani

His first election to the Chamber of Deputies occurred in 1893, when he was sent from the Department of the Seine, including Paris. He was re-elected in 1897, but met defeat in 1902, when the Nationalists swept Paris. He devoted the next few years to the practice of his profession, although still continuing to lead the Socialist party, which was rapidly losing strength because of a conflict between its two factions.

The turning point of his career came in 1904, when the international Socialist congress, under the influence of Bebel, the German Socialist leader, adopted a resolution demanding the unification of the party. Viviani, with Aristide Briand and Alexandre Millerand, refused to accept this decision, and rather than compromise with the revolutionary element of the body, organized a separate wing that ultimately became the Republican Socialist party. Its first success came in 1906, when twenty Deputies, including Viviani, Briand and Millerand, were elected.

FIRST LABOR PREMIER

Georges Clemenceau, upon becoming Premier in October of the same year, chose Viviani to head the newly created Department of Labor, and there the workman's friend accomplished wonders by finding common ground of understanding between capital and labor, at a time when the toiling classes were dangerously astir.

Briand, succeeding Millerand as Premier in 1909, retained Viviani in office, but a difference arose between them as to the right of the state railroad employees to strike, and Viviani retired. He returned to power, however, four years later, when he became Minister of Public Instruction in the Cabinet of M. Doumergue.

The fateful year of 1914, which ushered in the World War, saw Viviani with the reins of government in his own hands for the first time, after the Chamber had refused to accept a Cabinet formed by Alexandre Ribot.

As Prime Minister in the most tremendous crisis in French history since the revolution, Viviani immediately put into effect the pacific policies which had marked his political career from the first. He seconded heartily the efforts of Sir Edward Grey to bring about mediation between the distinterested powers, and even invited the criticism of his own people by withdrawing the French troops seven miles from the frontier in order to avoid incidents that might invoke war.

Viviani was in Petrograd with President Poincare when the Austrian ultimatum was delivered to Serbia, and immediately notified his government to advise a conciliatory attitude in the part of the challenged nation.

BECAME VICE-PRESIDENT

For more than a year he guided the War Cabinet, and then consented to take a less active role as Vice-President in order to permit Briand to organize the "Sacred Union" Cabinet, in which all political parties were represented, and all living ex-Premiers were included. He retired from the government September 12, 1917, when Painleve succeeded Briand as Premier.

In the meantime Viviani had visited the United States with Marshal Joffre as head of the French delegation which came here to consult with the government on the European war. He made a second visit in 1921 on the eventful occasion of the Washington Armament Conference, when his role was far more difficult.

As an orator, Viviani had no equal in French history. Possessed of a clear, high tenor voice, which he learned to use with astounding effectiveness, the Parisian lawyer often wrested acclamations from political opponents who disagreed with every statement he made. Had he adopted the stage as a profession instead of the law, many believe he would have made the greatest actor of all time.

URGED CHURCH SEPARATION

Always an active worker in the campaign to separate the affairs of church and state, Viviani in the Chamber of Deputies urged the government to eliminate religious influence from public affairs. Probably no other orator in the world could have expressed the same anticlerical sentiments in the French Chamber of Deputies without being hooted down, yet Viviani invariably brought the entire Chamber to its feet acclaiming statements with which a goodly number disagreed and which were of no interest to a great many more.

Like most Frenchmen, Viviani had a penchant for writing. Early in his career he collaborated on the Manterno, when Briand was its editor, and after the World War he contributed largely to the American press, confining his writings chiefly to European politics.

Announcement

THE PUBLIC:

Under the terms of the Constitution of ited States and of the Transportation , 1920, common carriers are entitled rn a fair return on the value of their perty devoted to transportation pur s, and the Interstate Commerce mission, in line with authority dele d to it by the Transportation Act, fixed 5¾% as representing this fair upon the aggregate value of the y property of the carriers.

1920, the Commission, acting un e Transportation Act, established of rates in Western Territory cal ed to provide a fair return and al h under that scale the carriers to earn the amount predicted, sub l reductions in all rates were made 922 in anticipation of an increase in me of business that would over e effect of these reductions. This in net earnings has not resulted under the most careful economy in res, and the Western Group of s has failed to earn this fair re any year since the passage of the tation Act in 1920, the net re having been as follows:

1922 ....3.45%
1923 ....3.96%

advance of 5% in freight revenues, on the tonnage and revenues dur 924, would result in a net return of 40%.

ting expenses have been re to the minimum compatible with ter of service required and de by the public, but the margin be income and outgo continues so that continuance of adequate ation, and the construction of y additional improvements and s, with a reasonable return on ent in the properties, are in y.

on the volume of tonnage and earnings in 1924, an increase of approximately 11% would be necessary in current freight rates in Western Territory to insure the net income of 5¾%. The carriers have patiently awaited an improvement in their situation, that they might not be obliged to appeal to the Interstate Commerce Commission for relief through an advance in rates to be paid by the public, but have been disappointed, and now feel that the time has come, when duty demands, in the conservation of the interests of the public as well as of the carriers, that a move be made in the direction indicated.

Legally, the carriers are entitled to request an increase in rates that will yield the net return contemplated by law, and the duty of the Interstate Commerce Commission is to adjust the rates to correspond, but the carriers do not intend to ask an increase in rates that might prove an item of importance in any instance to the commerce of the Western States and do not intend to demand the full measure of their rights under the law. They propose to ask at this time the restoration of only a portion of the decrease in rates imposed upon them in 1922 by asking an increase, approximately, of only 5% in their freight revenues, confident in the belief that this moderate advance will have no adverse effect upon any industry, and with the hope that this advance, together with such relief as may be granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission in other individual readjustment, may avoid the necessity of a greater general increase. In the event it should develop that the judgment of the carriers is in error in this respect, the carriers may find it necessary, after the lapse of a reasonable time, to apply to the Commission for further general relief.

As a practical means of carrying this emergency program into effect, the carriers are proposing general advances in freight rates which approximate 5%, maintaining established rate relationships. In the instance of certain commodities the carriers will propose, as a matter of expediency, that the percentage of advance be converted into one applicable in an equal amount to all rates. As a few illustrations: on grain they will propose a uniform advance equivalent approximately to 1c per bushel; on coal 15c per ton; on clay, gravel, sand and stone, 7½c per ton; on cement, lime and plaster, 20c per ton.

The carriers are hopeful that the public will appreciate their endeavor to minimize the transportation cost and will co-operate with them in the accomplishment of their application before the governmental authorities.

The Original Exclusive 2-Pants Tailoring Shop in Los Angeles

Step out in a "tailored to measure" 2~PANTS SUIT
(REGULAR $35~$40 & $50 VALUES)

You have probably been denying yourself the pleasure and satisfaction of a suit tailored to your exact measure because of the prices that are demanded in the average tailoring shop.

You've always wanted to "step out" in a suit that was right in every respect—one that fitted perfectly, that combined quality and fine workmanship—and would withstand long, hard use. FRANKLY, you're not fair to yourself unless you DO wear such a suit.

$25 $30 $35

Here Is Your Opportunity

The English Woolen Mills is busy making 2-pants, tailored-to-measure suits combining high-quality materials and first-class workmanship at $25, $30 or $35—some special importations at slightly higher prices.

Our large, well-equipped upstairs shop at FOURTH and SPRING Streets is filled almost to overflowing with a huge stock of new arrivals of foreign and domestic woolens. Our buyers have selected these fabrics from the looms of the biggest mills in this country and abroad. You are sure to find just the coloring, texture and "feel" that appeals to you in our immense stock.

Drop in and let us help you visualize a TWO-PANTS (WEAR LONG) TAILORED-TO-YOUR-MEASURE SUIT that will be a credit to you and to your buying ability. Be fair to yourself. Come today!

TRACT NEAR YUMA TO BE RECLAIMED

Total of 20,000 Acres Will Be Irrigated After Bond Issue is Approved

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Sept. 7.—Twenty thousand acres of irrigated land are to be added to the State's resources in reclamation of a tract fifty miles east of Yuma and nine miles west of Wellton, on the north side of the Gila Valley, near the crossing point of the new Southern Pacific line through Phoenix. The district has asked approval by the State Board of Certification of a bond issue of $500,000. There first must be filed reports with regard to the discharge of test wells and closer estimates concerning the cost of the work to be done.

The Southern Pacific Company has ordered a careful soil and water survey made of the district opened by the new line for a distance of sixty miles east of Wellton. A large acreage along the north bank of the Gila is believed available for the growth of products similar to those now grown in the Yuma and Salt River Valleys.

HIGHER EDUCATION IN CANADA COST MILLIONS

BULLETION SHOWS $14,526,660 SPENT FOR INSTRUCTION IN 1924

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OTTAWA (Ont.) Sept. 7.—Higher education cost $14,526,660 in Canada in 1924, according to a bulletin issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Registration of students in eighty-three universities and colleges totaled 52,639, or an average of one college student for every 173 people in the country.

Total assets of the institutions of higher learning were $101,732,437 last year. Income amounted to $13,325,629. Of the total income, one-half came from government grants, one-fifth from 'students' fees, one-fifth from investments, and one-sixth from other sources. Endowments amounted to $41,060,005.

Registration of children in primary and secondary schools throughout the Dominion was 2,172,200 last year, or 25 per cent of the 1921 population.

Extension of the public school system, it is pointed out, has been rapid in the prairie Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Saskatchewan has averaged a school-house a day for the last five years. Erection of schoolhouses has gone hand in hand with land settlement.

Expenditures on public schools amounted to $14,454,735 last year, the report sets forth. Of this total, the Provincial governments contributed $15,186,006 and local taxation made up the rest.

A Woman's Way

"I tried for four months to get my wife to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I know had helped a friend of mine who also suffered from stomach trouble. She insisted her case was different. I finally had to bribe her with a new dress. The first dose produced remarkable results, cleaning up her complexion and restoring her appetite. She can now eat things she hadn't been able to for many years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—[Advertisement.

NEW IRRIGATION WORK TO START IN OCTOBER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HONDO (Tex.) Sept. 7.—Work on the new Medina irrigation project will begin October 1, next, according to announcement by W. A. Trimpe, attorney for the C. W. McNear Company of Chicago that is handling the work. The sale of the 40,000 acres and the partially completed irrigation system will be conducted here this week after which Federal Judge T. A. Boynton is expected to confirm the sale and appoint five trustees to carry on the project. Then actual work of completing the huge system will begin, employing the $2,500,000 available from the sale of bonds.

DAWES QUOTES SENATE RECORD

Argues Cloture Would Tend to Limit Enactments

Defends His Position Before Portland Audience

Says Issue Has Been Mooted Since Days of Clay

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 7.—Renewing his attack on rules of the United States Senate, Vice-President Dawes, in an address here tonight, quoted records to disprove an argument that more laws would be passed if the right of unlimited debate were taken from the Senate.

"It stands to reason," said Mr. Dawes, "that any body which, for the privilege of acting as a unit, must make concessions to its individual members, will pass more legislation—other things being equal—than a body that does not operate under that handicap. The facts are that in the last five sessions of Congress the Senate, with ninety-six members, has passed 182 more bills and resolutions than the House of Representatives, with 435 members.

"The Senate passed its larger number of 3113 bills and resolutions in those ten years out of a total of about 29,000 introduced. And the House, with majority cloture, passed its lesser number of 2930 out of about 82,000 bills and resolutions introduced.

"Since May 12, 1910, sixty-six different times it has been necessary for the majority and minority leaders in the Senate, both parties, to go as suppliants to every individual member of the Senate to get his consent to a unanimous agreement that the Senate of the United States could do its business properly and get it through with."

Declaring that defeat is impossible in the fight he is waging, the Vice-President asserted:

"There is nothing more majestic than the march of a truth among the ranks of the American people. Because it is right you can't lose. For the time one presenting the truth may seem defeated. Then he rises stronger by every defeat. Every time anything happens when an issue is once in the minds of the American people, he gets stronger. Don't any of you feel sorry for me when you read I am getting beaten. It is not me. It is not my proposition. It has been fought for by many of the best men in the Senate from the days of Henry Clay to the day of Oscar Underwood. It is not a partisan question. The reason why I, as Vice-President of the United States, have come to you and speak to you upon this issue is because it is my duty."

ENGINEERS SURVEYING PROPOSED EXTENSION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

QUANAH (Tex.) Sept. 7.—Engineers of the Quannah, Acme and Pacific are making a survey for the proposed extension of that railroad from Matador to Floydada, about forty miles. The road will ascend the cap-rock to reach the South Plains on a grade of fifty-two feet to the mile. At Floydada the line will connect with the branch line of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe that runs to Plainview. The Quanah, Acme and Pacific is owned by the St. Louis and San Francisco with which it intersects at Quanah.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—The Chronicle says that a report has been received through unofficial sources, that are believed reliable, that the annual subsidy of 600,000 yen which is paid by the Japanese government to the Toyo Kisen Kaisha Steamship Company, for the operation of the company's trans-Pacific liners, is likely to be withdrawn at the end of next year when the present term expires. The steamers operated in the trans-Pacific trade are said to be more than fifteen years old, and in a period of slack trade and business depression, considered by the government no longer worthy of the subsidy. This is believed to be the reason for the new movement on the part of the government.

A noisy welcome is being planned for the City of Los Angeles, of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, upon her arrival here. The City of Los Angeles, scheduled to arrive Wednesday, for the Diamond Jubilee, is bringing about 400 residents of Los Angeles, headed by Mayor George Cryer and including an escort of twenty-five policemen and the firemen's band of fifty pieces.

SEATTLE, Sept. 7.—The Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Yokohama Maru, which arrived here yesterday, brought a cargo of more than 3000 bales and cases of silk valued at $3,000,000. The vessel's passenger list included thirty-seven American women, most of them school-teachers who sailed from here June 24 on a sightseeing tour of Japan and China.

The Dionyssius Stathatos, the first Greek merchant ship to ever visit Seattle, arrived here this morning from Antwerp, with a cargo consisting of toys, granite, marble, steel, wire fencing, rails and 48,000 sacks of cement. The vessel is commanded by Capt. Eustace Paxinds, who speaks English as well as Greek and three other languages. After the vessel discharges her cargo she is to load lumber for Australia.

EVERETT (Wash.) Sept. 7.—Ships here are loading more than 8,000,000 feet of lumber for ports on the east coast. The steamship Wilfaro of the Williams Line, arrived here yesterday from Tacoma and is loading 3,000,000 feet of lumber for Bayridge, N. Y. The steamship Pomona of the Weyerhauser Timber Company is also loading 5,500,000 feet for Baltimore.

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 7.—The West Cayote which docked here yesterday from the Orient via San Francisco with miscellaneous freight, is scheduled to leave outward for North China ports the 25th inst.

The United American Line steamer Mystic is expected tomorrow with coal and other freight from Atlantic Coast ports. It will load 1,500,000 feet of lumber here for the return trip.

With the exception of loading and discharging under way on the passenger steamer Admiral Farragut of the Pacific Steamship Company's coastwise service, practically no work was done on the local water front today.

The Admiral Farragut arrived early today from California ports with a full list of passengers and cargo. It will leave on the return voyage Wednesday.

PORT NOTES

Two disabled steamers, damaged by northerly gales off the Mexican West Coast, are due at the port today after delayed passages from the Canal. They form part of the unusual influx of twenty-five merchant vessels due today after the week-end and Labor Day lull.

The tank steamer Phoenix, from Philadelphia August 18, is due this morning in tow of the Red Stack tug Sea Ranger, she having broken her tail shaft while proceeding up the coast. The Phoenix, which will inaugurate the new Los Angeles-Philadelphia gasoline service of the American Tankers Corporation of Boston, managed to limp into the Mexican port of Salina Cruz, where she was picked up by the Sea Ranger.

The Garland Liner William Perkins is also due from Philadelphia this morning and will limp into port under her own power, delayed by the loss of a propeller blade.

Both vessels will be surveyed and repaired at local shipyards, it has been announced.

Another important tow is due at the port today; the Red Stack tug Fearless towing the bark Gratia, ex-Intrepid, and the former clipper ship Mohican, which has been converted into a tank barge for the Julian Petroleum Corporation.

The Gratia is the square-rigger in which the promoters of the fanciful "Intrepid Company" several years ago attempted to recruit several score adventurers for a three-year cruise of the globe. Instead, she will be stripped of her lofty rig and anchored off Redondo as a fishing barge.

Six Western Rangers, all Los Angeles boys, disembarked yesterday from the Dollar globe-circling liner President Adams, in from New York and Havana, after a forty-five day tour of Canada and the eastern States. Their trip started from Los Angeles Harbor July 19 when they sailed to Seattle on the Admiral liner Emma Alexander, going thence to Prince Rupert, Jasper National Park, Ottawa, Washington and New York. They also went ashore when the ship stopped for a day in Havana and again at the Panama Canal. Harry C. James, founder-in-chief, was in charge, the other boys being Robert Ewing, Daniel Cook, Ralph Specher, Frank Gorham and Tom Brehm.

Others among the forty-one passengers disembarking here included Dr. H. B. Judd, New York surgeon, accompanied by his mother, en route to San Francisco to join Dr. Judd's wife and his father and tour the North. Dr. Judd is a cousin of Dr. E. S. Judd, senior surgeon of the Mayo Clinic and is one of seventeen cousins and uncles named Judd practicing medicine in this country. Dr. Elliano Ponce of Panama, another physician, also disembarked to visit his family in Los Angeles.

Others aboard were Sigurd Neilson, motion-picture producer, and Mrs. Neilson; Miss Mae O'Keefe, San Francisco actress; J. L. Phillips, Los Angeles mining man, completing world tour; Gideon Carlton, manufacturer of motion-picture appliances, and his family; George Maxwell, resort editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, and Patricio Smart, newly appointed Chilean consul to Kobe, Japan.

HUNT ATTACKED IN TUCSON 'STAR'

Event Notable as Owner Has Favor of Governor

Letter in Democratic Paper Highly Sarcastic

Anything to Hurt California Imputed to Chief

The following, reprinted from the Tucson (Ariz.) Star, is the more notable in that the Star is understood to be owned by E. E. Ellinwood, chancellor of the University of Arizona by the appointment of Gov. G. W. P. Hunt. The Star is Democratic, as is Gov. Hunt.

Editor of the Star: Arizona has a Governor with whom she is well pleased. Gov. Hunt may have his failings and shortcomings, but his one virtue overcomes them all. That virtue is his bitter hatred of California. To be a loyal son of Arizona, one must hate California and must resent California's attempts to steal the Colorado River from Arizona. So, even if the Governor should open the doors of the State prison and release all its prisoners on society, even though he should fire all that fail to bow in submission before his mighty throne, even though his highway department overflows with politics and extravagance, yet what loyal son of Arizona would not forget all those things and cheer madly when the Governor broadcasts "We hate California."

What difference does it make if the building of the Boulder Canyon dam is fair to some of the States in the Colorado River basin? Even though the dam site is the property of the United States government, given to it by the constitutional convention presided over by the same Hunt, and that by all present laws its waters belong to whoever can first put it to beneficial use, and there are millions of people outside of Arizona ready to put the water to beneficial use, yet to build the Boulder dam interferes with the dreams of the high-line canal visionaries. And, besides, Boulder Canyon dam will help the despised Californians. How thankful Arizona is to have a brave man to shout against this despicable move to help California!

Let every Arizonan pay tribute—by keeping in office this noble hero who, with his fifty feet of garden hose, "like Horatius at the bridge," kept out the hordes of tourists from the hated California. Yes, and this noble hero who, with his fifty feet of high-line arguments, like Joffre at the Marne, told the Californians and Nevadans they shall not pass.

Though his every speech shows his main idea is not to settle the Colorado question and every paragraph that he knows nothing about the Colorado River compact, yet Arizona will be safe with a man who hates California and all will rally at his beck and call when he saves the State from the hated enemy. Have they not always demonstrated that?

Gat strafe California!

Hoch der noble hero of Arizona!

A 200 PER CENT AMERICAN.
(who hates everything.)

An international mah jongg tournament will be held at Carlsbad.

PASTOR PRAISES BEACH BELLES

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Sept. 7.—That the sand nymphs of today are finer specimens of humanity than the beach Neptunes is the opinion of Rev. A. Wellesley Orr, vicar of St. Paul's, Kingston Hill, Surrey, who spent his vacation looking over the seashore Garden of Eden.

"My general impression compels me to admit," he says, "that as far as the seaside samples go the women of the race are finer specimens of humanity physically and mentally than the men."

CAMPAIGNS ON RODENTS EFFECTIVE

Co-operative Measures in California Save Million for Farmers

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—The area infested with ground squirrels in California exceeds 10,000,000 acres of which 3,000,000 acres were covered in co-operative rodent control operations during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925, according to report of the Bureau of Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture. In these operations, 1,330,000 pounds of poisoned grain and carbon bisulphide were distributed, at a cost of $298,500, with an estimated resultant saving to farmers and orchardists of $1,578,000.

The Forest Service co-operated with the Biological Survey and the California State Department of Agriculture in this work; the Biological Survey experts devising ways and means for the treatment of government lands needing such measures and the forest officers enlisting the co-operation of permittees on national forest lands, the latter being furnished government poison under written agreement.

Operations were directed primarily against the California digger and Oregon ground squirrels the numbers of which increased noticeably the past year due to regulations and quarantine measures following the outbreak of foot and mouth disease, which prevented to a considerable extent "follow-up" operations as well as new ones.

Next to the ground squirrel in amount of damage done is the pocket gopher whose depredations annually amount to over $10,000,000. In the past this animal was not considered to be as destructive as the ground squirrel and, consequently, not so much has been accomplished in devising methods for its control.

Oriental Rugs At Bullock's

With the Oriental Rug gradually taking its place as the hall mark of Beauty and Tone in modern floor coverings, the importance of proving authenticity grows.

Time was when the Oriental Rug was without counterfeit—time is when expert scrutiny only can discern the genuine worth of any piece.

And so it has come to pass at Bullock's that standards have been set by which the real Oriental Rug shall maintain its traditional integrity—

By which, if you please, the purchaser unskilled in the variations of Oriental Rug Quality may be assured the Genuine.

An Exceptional Beautiful Collection of Rare Chinese Rugs in Exposition.

Two authentic standards of this branch of Oriental Rug Art—the Mongolian Chinese Rugs and the Madarin Chinese Rugs. Both woven of fine wool in soft, vari-toned colorings. One enhancing its value by adapting the real Persian Knot in its making.

Here indeed is the ultimate in Chinese Rug making. Bullock's selected them individually not only because of their Character but because of their Beauty of Design and Coloring.

A short itemization that is indicative of unusual value:

19.8x12.11 Mongolian Chinese Rug in taupe, $900.
17x12 Mongolian Chinese Rug in beautiful rose, $750.00.
19.10x13.2 Mongolian Chinese Rug in soft blue, $850.00.
15.10x11.2 Mongolian Chinese Rug in rose, $595.
16.10x11.2 Mongolian Chinese Rug in rose, $650.
12x9 Mongolian Chinese Rug in rose, blue, taupe and orchid, $335.00.
9x6 Mongolian Chinese Rug in varied colors, $185.
8x5 Mongolian Chinese Rugs at $140.00.
6x4 Mongolian Chinese Rugs at $69.50.
6x3 Mongolian Chinese Rugs at $59.50.
5x3 Mongolian Chinese Rugs at $47.50.
18x12 Mandarin Chinese Rug in taupe with blue and rose, $1400.00.
16x12 Mandarin Chinese Rug in deep blue with rose, taupe and light blue, $1200.00.
14.3x10.3 Mandarin Chinese in rich rose with blue and gold, $850.00.
15x10.2 Mandarin Chinese Rug in exquisite orchid with blue, gold and rose, $900.00.
14x10.2 Mandarin Chinese Rug in dark gold, $750.
12x9 Mandarin Chinese Rug in light blue with taupe, rose and gold, $550.00.
12x9 Mandarin Chinese Rug in taupe with deep and light blue border, shaded in rose and gold, $600.00

In addition to an unusually extensive collection embodying rare examples of both the Chinese and Persian types of Oriental Rugs—each one a masterpiece—each one an ambassador of Bullock's and interpretative of Bullock Ideals of Service and Sincerity.

Parker "Big Brother" Duofold Pencil (Over-size) $4
Parker Duofold Jr. Pencil (Over-size) $3.50
Lady Duofold Pencil, $3

1—Give your Parker an internal bath occasionally so sediment cannot clog the feed. Immerse Pen in COLD Water and flush it out by alternately pressing and releasing Filler Button.

2—To fill—immerse Point in ink, press button and release. Pen now starts to fill. Count ten before you withdraw it.

3—Keep the Cap screwed on Tight. The Inner Sleeve forms an Ink-Tight Seal so the Pen can't leak when jostled about. Always replace cap after using to prevent Ink drying and gumming the feed.

They Take a Big Load off the Student's Mind

And Keep the Teachers in Good Humor

Sometimes, we'll admit, it requires four years of exposure to well-informed circles to learn that the Parker Duofold is the pen and pencil that one should have bought the first day he entered school.

Or again, one can learn in four minutes from the upper classmen that Parker Duofold is so universally used by the student bodies that its lacquer-red and black combination has become the Inter-scholastic colors, as it were.

And just insofar as Parker Duofold improves one's handwriting, it makes easier the instructors' task of reading the student's papers (and grading them, too, don't forget).

You can thus see that the Parker Duofold is influential in helping a fellow or a girl get the kind of marks that are cheering to all concerned.

Pen with Hand-size Grip, Over-size Ink Capacity, Free-swinging balance, 25-year Point and the black-tipped lacquer-red color, so handsome to carry and hard to mislay.

For American holders this means an extension of time in all cases where a debtor prior to August 29, 1925, had already made a public call, requesting holders of his securities to give him notice of claim and file proof of continuous ownership."

SPECIAL ENVOY TO ASSIST IN AMERICA

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BERLIN, Sept. 7.—To facilitate the revaluation and conversion of German industrial securities now held in the United States, the German government plans to send a special commissioner to America in the latter part of this month to work out methods for assisting American holders in the registration and exchange of their bonds.

This commissioner, whose name is not made public, will co-operate with the embassy at Washington and the German consulates in designating certain American banks where the old German bonds may be exchanged for new certificates.

He will seek every possible avenue to secure publicity for acquainting American holders with just what they must do. The embassy and consulates will have on file translations of a decree soon to be issued by the government giving practical effect to the revaluation law and the principles of conversion.

The decree also will establish clearly which holdings the German government considers nonspeculative and which are classed as acquired merely for speculation.

ULSTER PARLIAMENT DISCUSSES BOUNDARY

WORK OF COMMISSION BEHIND CLOSED DOORS HIT BY PREMIER CRAIG

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BELFAST, Sept. 7.—The work of the boundary commission set up by the Anglo-Irish treaty in attempting to delimit the frontier between Northern and Southern Ireland was a subject for discussion in the Ulster House of Commons today.

The Premier, Sir James Craig, said the government had not deviated from its well-known position on the boundary question. There had been no pourpalers and no member of his government had been approached for a discussion of the question.

The boundary commission, he added, was working behind closed doors and the responsibility either for breaking or making peace rested with its members.

Joseph Devlin, Nationalist leader, said the commission was a creation of the British government. If the north refused the commission's judgment it would not be the Free State it would have to fight—the Ulster battalions would be opposed by the British Empire.

"Everybody is sick of the whole question," he said.

A Dublin dispatch Saturday said the belief prevailed in the Free State capital that before the report on the boundary commission was promulgated a further attempt would be made by the British Cabinet to bring the northern and southern groups together with a view to an amicable arrangement.

Es Inminente un Ataque de los Rifeños

TETUAN, Septiembre 5. — (Por propio a Gibraltar).—No ha holgado Abd-El-Krim con sus fuerzas durante los largos preparativos españoles para el anunciado desembarco en Alhucemas. La información española y las noticias que traen los aviadores de detrás de las líneas enemigas revelan que hay fuertes concentraciones bereberes en las regiones montañosas del sur de Tetuán, y hay buen fundamento para creer que los rifeños se proponen lanzar un fuerte ataque contra la capital española del norte de Africa, tan luego como las fuerzas españolas ataquen a Adjir. El dictador Primo de Rivera y su estado mayor tienen conocimiento de este plan, y han tomado las necesarias precauciones para responder a él.

Calles en Favor de los Subsidios para Irrigación

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Septiembre 7.—Según se manifiesta en un mensaje del Estado de Morelos, dirigido a El Universal, el Presidente Calles ha declarado estar en favor de un vastísimo programa de irrigación para Méjico, y dicho que tiene la esperanza de que el gobierno gaste por lo menos 80,000,000 de pesos en obras de riego durante su administración.

El propio primer magistrado visitó la gran hacienia del Estado de Morelos que adquirió ha poco el gobierno con el fin de convertirla en un colegio de agricultura, que se abrirá para el primero de Enero de 1926. Este es el primer paso práctico del programa del Presidente para educar a las clases labradoras, en la forma que lo prometió antes de ser electo.

NOTAS LOCALES

A partir del día de hoy va a entrar en acción la artillería pesada del coronel Frith y su ejército de la vigencia, contra las fortificaciones más resistentes de la industria licorista clandestina, de los grandes tratantes en licores, de los contrabandistas de aguardiente y de los explotadores de alambiques. Se presume que van a quedar descubiertos muchos individuos de alta posición, complicados en negocios de licores, pues la campaña va a emprenderse de acuerdo con los planes trazados por el general Lincoln C. NINE INJURED IN CAR ACCIDENTS

Seven Seriously Hurt When Machines Collide

Crashes Occur on Roads in Bakersfield Region

Woman Hurled from Auto in Critical Condition

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 7.—In a series of week-end accidents near Bakersfield, seven persons were seriously injured and two received severe cuts and bruises.

Mrs. A. O. Foote of Ford City was perhaps fatally injured Sunday night when a machine driven by Roy Powers crashed into the Foote car on the Taft highway one-half-mile north of Taft. The injured woman was taken to the West Side Hospital, where she is suffering from a fractured skull and concussion of the brain. Foote and their two small children escaped injury.

THROWN FROM CAR

According to Foote, who was driving, he had given a signal to turn and was turning his car to leave the highway. The Powers machine was approaching from the opposite direction and crashed into the car. Mrs. Foote was thrown out against the Powers machine and then to the ground. The injured woman's condition is critical.

Five persons were seriously injured late Saturday night about twelve miles south of Bakersfield on the highway, when two cars collided. The injured occupants of the cars are in a Bakersfield hospital.

Mrs. Adda Higgins of Los Angeles is suffering from a fractured skull and minor injuries about the body. Mrs. J. H. Higgins sustained injury of the spine and neck and perhaps a fractured shoulder. Her husband, J. H. Higgins, received a severe gash on his knee and one hand.

NAMES NOT LEARNED

Mrs. B. F. Thomas of Turlock, who was driving the machine in which the Higgins family and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas were riding, is suffering from internal concussion of the chest and a large gash on the bridge of her nose. Her husband's face was gashed from the bridge of his nose to the right ear, the laceration penetrating to the bone. He also suffered from injury to his hip.

The Thomas car collided with another machine, the occupants of which escaped injury. The names of the persons in the other car were not learned by the injured travelers.

William A. Stone, Los Angeles business man, was injured when his car overturned on the highway near Pixley about noon Sunday. Stone's car ran into the sand and overturned, pinning him beneath it. First aid was given at Pixley and the man was brought to San Joaquin Hospital, Bakersfield. Stone is suffering from severe lacerations on his body and an injured shoulder.

San Diego Plays Holiday Host to Record Throng

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 7.—San Diego today is host to thousands of visitors from all parts of Southern California, enticed here by the double attraction of a week-end holiday followed by Labor Day. The facilities of the city are taxed to the utmost. Every hotel and rooming-house is filled to overflowing and many of the visitors are being cared for in private homes.

All the pleasure resorts of San Diego played to capacity yesterday and today. Transportation officials estimate that 20,000 guests are being entertained at Mission Beach, an equal attendance at Coronado Tent City and 10,000 more at other beaches here. Highways leading to the back country resorts are jammed with machines and Tia Juana, always a big attraction to vistiors, is entertaining 100,000, according to estimates by border officials.

The entire Coast line from points north of Oceanside to Tia Juana was dotted with camps last night and a steady stream of cars filled with holiday amusement seekers is still coming into San Diego today. By nightfall it is expected the floating population of the city will set a new high mark in San Diego's history.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Guess Right One for Pageant and it Will be Money

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 7.—What's in a name? It's $25 in this case. Officials of the Southern California Diamond Jubilee Fair today offered that sum for the best name to be given the pageant which will be presented every night during the jubilee from the 30th inst. to October 6, next.

"The best plan in thinking up a name for the pageant," said J. E. Wherrell, president of the jubilee association, "is to study the history of Southern California.

"The pageant will depict the advance of civilization in the Santa Ana River Valley. There will be seven episodes and nine scenes. The name must not be longer than four words and it must be sent into the Southern California Fair offices at Riverside before the 21st inst."

NO END SEEN TO DEADLOCK

Pasadena Directors Expected to Remain Divided at Meeting Today to Name New Member

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 7.—Political deadlock is expected to continue here tomorrow when Pasadena's six City Directors meet to select a seventh member to succeed John H. Simpson, who resigned three weeks ago. Since Simpson's resignation the board has made no apparent progress toward selecting a final member.

"I sincerely hope we can clear up the situation and select a Director tomorrow," said Chairman Franklin B. Cole today, "but I should be very much surprised if this turns out to be the case. I do not see how it can be more possible to do so tomorrow than it has been in our previous meetings."

All indications are that the Board is divided against itself, with Carl Newcomer, William Easterbrook and A. N. Cole on one side, and the two hold-over Directors, Franklin Thomas and Hiram Wadsworth, aligned with Chairman F. B. Cole on the other. Thus the seventh member selected will hold the balance of power.

All efforts of the Board toward determining a seventh member have so far been conducted in private sessions, but it was hinted today that if the present situation should continue much longer, discussion of the question will be called for in open meeting, where politics must be either publicly displayed or abandoned.

Prominent among the candidates mentioned for the position are Kenneth Fraser, plumber, president of the Washington-street Improvement Association and close friend of Directors Easterbrook, Newcomer, Cole and others identified with the Voters' Municipal League; Harold Landreth, president of the Chamber of Commerce; William Leishman, president of the Crown City Manufacturing Company and president of the Pasadena Rotary Club; H. M. Nickerson, manager of the Hotel Maryland; George A. Damon, engineer, and Rev. Carl Bergquist, unsuccessful candidate in the Directorial primaries last spring.

RECORD AT SCHOOLS IS PREDICTED

Pasadena Term to Open Next Monday With New Building and Equipment

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 7.—A record enrollment is confidently expected when Pasadena's public schools open on Monday of next week, according to Superintendent of Schools John Franklin West, who today announced the assignment of 637 teachers and officials to greet the largest student body in the history of the city. New school buildings have risen, old ones have been remodeled, and new equipment purchased by the Board of Education, which has been hard at work all summer ironing out past difficulties and making arrangements for the coming year.

The problem of transportation costs for children in outlying districts has been successfully solved by a plan worked out by President R. A. Swink of the Board of Education. The plan, in brief, provides a system of transportation which will cost each pupil the same amount, regardless of distance traveled, and is an equitable solution of a problem that has long troubled school officials here. The Board of Education provides bus service for those students in outlying districts where public transportation lines are not available.

All facilities and equipment are in better condition than ever before, Supt. West declared today. The cafeteria at Pasadena High School has been leased to the Pasadena Cafeteria Association, an organization controlled by the Board of Education, and students will be served at cost.

Of the 637 teachers and administrative officers announced today, 160 are at Pasadena High School and Pasadena Junior College, and the remaining number in the twenty-four grammar schools and junior high schools of the city.

BANS PETTING PARTIES

Glendale Chief Orders Force to Investigate Parked Autos

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

GLENDALE, Sept. 7. — Petting parties in automobiles on the tree-shaded streets and roads within the Glendale city limits are taboo, according to orders issued by Chief of Police Fraser. The night patrols, which cover the city on a regular schedule, have been ordered to investigate every automobile they find parked anywhere, and to stop every petting party they discover. Chief Fraser declares that he has no desire to check the course of true love, which is reputed to have rough sledding at the best of times, but he is going to put a stop to rowdyism or any demonstrations of affection that become too effusive right on the streets of the city.

SANTA BARBARA HOLDS FIRST LABOR PARADE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 7. Four thousand laborers marched in Santa Barbara's first Labor Day parade today with floats, bands and banners proclaiming a bigger and better city. The entire day was given over to festivities by the hordes of working men who have come from all parts of California to build the new city. Public speaking, a barbecue, athletic events and a grand ball in the evening concluded the program.

TAX BUDGET PREPARED

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 7.—Santa Monica's tax budget ordinance for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926, is ready for adoption by the City Council next week. The tax rate will be 5 cents less than last year and the total assessment of all property, real and personal, is about $40,000,000. The budget ordinance will show how much of the rate is apportioned to each fund and other facts of interest to the voters.

Hardware Men of Southland Hold Session

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 7.—With more than 150 delegates and visitors in attendance, the annual convention of the Southern California Hardware Association, comprising the district between Santa Barbara and San Diego, opened at the Mission Inn this morning at 10 o'clock.

President E. P. Wallace opened the meeting. Secretary H. L. Boyd gave an informal report which was followed by general discussion. Topics for the afternoon included addresses on "How to Increase Women's Trade," by Henry Isenour of the Riverside Hardware Company; Frank Gayette and H. C. Garnet. John A. Davis and G. W. Teffeaut were delegates to handle "advertising," taking up forms used, relative returns of different classes and forms of publicity to be avoided. "Credits and collections," were handled by L. C. Stanley and N. N. Sheets, the discussion embracing methods of determining credit standing of customers, how collections are followed up and what is the best credit policy.

J. R. Westbrook of the Franzen Hardware Company was one of the speakers on "How the house to house canvasser affects my business and what are we doing to meet this form of competition." C. E. Lehmer, Bruce Moore and Hurume Reeve were also listed for talks along this line.

Those participating in the discussion on "How is business? What of the future?" included W. J. Reid, E. F. Harford, F. M. Gazlay and T. M. George. At the banquet this evening, Francisco Cuttle of Riverside and W. L. Thornton, members of the hardware association, were speakers. The convention here is sponsored by the Orange Belt Clipper Club of Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

LANKERSHIM GETS READY FOR SEWERS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, Sept. 7.—City engineers from the Los Angeles sanitation department are surveying the Lankershim townsite streets for the new sewer system that is to be installed when the paving of the streets begins. The main laterals of the system are to run on Lankershim Boulevard and Vineland avenue, to connect with the outfall line that will be put through San Fernando Valley.

PAGEANT DEPICTS HISTORY

Early Events in Cucamonga Area Enacted Before Crowd of 8000 to 10,000 Spectators

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CUCAMONGA, Sept. 8.—While official attendance figures were not yet available this evening a crowd estimated conservatively at between 8000 and 10,000 persons this afternoon witnessed the Cucamonga pioneer pageant, depicting the early history of this section and the wild west rodeo which followed in the great natural amphitheater at Lone Hill.

Credit for the success of the enterprise is chiefly due the sponsoring organization, the Cucamonga Service Club of which Samuel B. Rowe is president. Backing the event and actively participating in the pageant also were the Chambers of Commerce, service clubs and pioneer societies of Ontario, San Bernardino and Upland.

The pageant opened with a prologue in which the Cucamonga Indians were seen about their rancheria. The first episode showed the coming of a band of Christianized Indians under the leadership of two Franciscan padres, who make a peace treaty with the Cucamongans. Then followed the Spanish occupation, in which Don Maria Lugo and his gaily attired followers wended their way down over the hills to the Indian settlement.

The next episode depicted the stopping of Mormons en route from Salt Lake to San Bernardino, which was followed by the coming of the "forty niners" with their covered wagons. Appropriate song and dance numbers added to the atmosphere.

Grandstand facilities had been provided for more than 5000 persons, but all available seats for the others were obliged to stand or find seats on the ground. The pageant was followed by a rodeo, in which expert cowboys were seen in clever exhibitions of riding, of roping and the like. Thousands attended the barbecue, which preceded the pageant and the big day closed with a fine display of fireworks and dancing at the Sycamore and Red Hill Country Club.

Proceeds from the event are to go to swell the Santa Barbara earthquake relief fund.

TO ENTERTAIN OIL MEN

Whittier Youngsters in Fancy Dances

[Dot Seely Photo, Whittier.]

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

WHITTIER, Sept. 7.—The production department of the Standard Oil Company in the Southern California field, is planning an entertainment to be given at Recreation Hall on the Murphy-Coyote lease near Whittier, Saturday evening, September 19.

Ray West's Hotel Alexandria Orchestra of six pieces will furnish the dance music, and Mrs. Roy C. Gunn of San Gabriel and Mrs. Charles Roland Little of Torrance will chaperone.

The two clever little Downey children, Beverly and Bobbie, both character dancers, will put on specialties during the several intermissions. They have developed an Argentine that has created much favorable comment.

DRINK ORGY RESULTS IN GUN SCRAPE

One Man in Hospital With Bullet Wound, Another in Jail, and Third Hunted

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 7.—Edward Ollifant is in the County Hospital severely injured and Lyman Osborne is in the County Jail facing an assault charge as a result of a shooting scrape following an asserted drunken brawl in the Isabella region Saturday night, according to the Sheriff's office. Chester Shry, asserted to have been implicated in the affair, is also said to be wanted by authorities.

Deputy Sheriff Fickert declares Ollifant admitted his part in the affair and implicated Osborne and Shry.

According to Fickert, the three men had been in Caliente all day. They had quarreled following the drinking of a large amount of liquor and Ollifant returned to his cabin. He was followed by Osborne and Shry in their machine, it is said. When the two reached Ollifant's camp they ordered him to come out "to talk it over," officers say.

When Ollifant obeyed the command, Osborne is said to have fired a bullet into his left side. The bullet struck Ollifant's arm, breaking the bone and inflicting a severe wound.

Shry is said to be the owner of the gun with which Osborne is asserted to have shot Ollifant.

TAX RATE TO BE FIXED

Riverside County Supervisors Will Determine Levy Tomorrow

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 7.—County tax rates will be fixed tomorrow by the Supervisors. This is one of the most important matters the county's governing body has been called upon to consider for several months and will take some time to decide.

Other matters to come before the Supervisors include hearing of petitions for vacation of roads at Indio and Wineville; a petition for a public road in District 4, under the supervision of Harvey Johnson; petition for the vacation of Acacia Drive, Elsinore.

VALLEY LIMA BEAN STATUS IMPROVED

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

RESEDA, Sept. 7.—J. H. Walters, manager of the Van Nuys and Owensmouth Bean Growers' Association, with headquarters here, departs tomorrow to inspect the baby lima-bean situation in San Joaquin Valley, and particularly in the Modesto district. Mr. Walters reports the baby lima-bean crop in San Fernando Valley has greatly improved, with the added quota of irrigation water that has been allowed and the present cool weather which is causing bean pods to fill out rapidly. About three weeks ago an expected loss of about $1,250,000 was reported on the valley bean crop, because of the need of sufficient irrigation water and other difficulties.

RAIN DAMPENS HIGHWAY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 7.—Light rainfall in Santa Barbara county last night dampened the highway thirty miles north of this city, but no trace fell here. Rainfall was reported heavy on the Channel Islands.

LAND PURCHASED FOR HARBOR POWER LINE

INDUSTRIAL PROJECT PLANS TOWER INSTALLATIONS TO SAN PEDRO

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, Sept. 7. There has been considerable mystery in this section, and in the city of South Gate, since last March when representatives appeared along a strip of land extending from Florence avenue in tract 2599, south through South Gate, purchasing or taking options of land, and this mystery has just been cleared up in the announcement of John Martin, land agent for the Bureau of Power and Light for the city of Los Angeles.

Mr. Martin states that the land was purchased to run a power line to San Pedro as a part of the great program for the development of the harbor. Mr. Martin states that most of the land necessary has been secured, and as soon as the remainder is cleared up, through condemnation proceedings, if necessary, construction work will be commenced.

In giving a few details, Mr. Martin states that over the strip of territory secured and to be secured, there will be a single line of steel towers, and that there will probably be half a dozen lines carried on these towers.

The first trace of the land purchased by the buyers last March, was at Bissell and Randolph streets in this city. The line follows the west side of Bissel, south to Florence. It then passes west of California street through Tract 2599 and then into South Gate along the west side of Victoria avenue to Southern. The north side of Southern has been purchased westward to the city limits of South Gate. It then follows on along Shorb avenue in Watts. It is understood that it will then run south along Central avenue to the harbor.

The project is an immense one, good prices having been paid for the property, it being reported that the expenditure ran into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

City Attorney Trippel, of this city, stated that application soon will be made for a permit or franchise to cross the streets in this city with the lines.

WHITTIER OBTAINS FURNITURE SESSION

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

WHITTIER, Sept. 7.—The Whittier Chamber of Commerce has been successful in securing the annual meeting of the California Retail Furniture Dealers' Association for October 8, 9 and 10, and hundreds of dealers throughout the State are expected to attend. The business meetings will be in the William Penn Hotel, and the closing banquet is yet to be decided. J. C. Newsom, president of the local Chamber of Commerce, is chairman of the committee on general arrangements. He is president and manager of the Whittier Furniture Company.

CORONA POSTMASTER DIES

Sudden Demise Following Operation Leaves Officials in Quandary as to Successor

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

CORONA, Sept. 7.—Funeral services for William Riddell, postmaster, were conducted this afternoon at the Baptist Church with Rev. Fred Wight officiating and with burial ceremony in charge of the local Masonic lodge at Sunnyslope Cemetery.

Mr. Riddell died suddenly following an operation at the Corona Hospital.

A peculiar situation arises now in the office of postmaster. Riddell has held the office only since July 1, being chosen for the position after one of the most unique contests in the annals of the Postoffice Department.

Inability of the Republican County Central Committee to select from the three highest in the civil service examination a candidate satisfactory to the several factions of the party, resulted in holding the Democratic postmaster in office until July of this year.

A preferential election of the people of Corona was finally held and of the three candidates, William Riddell, G. A. Graham and L. A. Fink, the first named received the largest number of votes. He was therefore recommended by Congressman Phil Swing for the position and appointed.

The situation now has the County Central Committee as well as the other two candidates guessing. Until such time as a postmaster is selected, Roscoe Johnson, assistant postmaster, will act. If Graham and Fink, second and third in the preferential vote of the people of Corona, are still of a notion for the job, it is possible that Swing may recommend Graham. If they are not, it is possible the office will remain as it is until such time as the Civil Service Commission may hold examination and submit another three for choice of the County Central Committee and the Congressman. The people of Corona are therefore in prospect of being without a regular postmaster for an indefinite period.

FOUR HURT IN ONTARIO AUTO CRASH

Car Skids Into Curb and Turns Over as Front Tire Blows Out

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ONTARIO, Sept. 8.—Three women and a child were severely injured and two men escaped with lesser hurts this morning when a motor car driven by J. O. Henry, 1070 Exposition Boulevard, blew a front tire, skidded into the curb and turned over on West A street near San Antonio avenue. The injured are: Mrs. Nellie Henry, wife of the driver, who sustained a fractured nose and bruises, and his mother, Mrs. M. Henry, residing at the same address, who suffered two fractured ribs, bruises and abrasions. Mrs. Paulina Cox, sister of Mr. Henry, residing at 253 South Lemon street, Orange, whose left shoulder was sprained and Margie Cox, her 7-year-old daughter, who sustained a badly lacerated face. The wreck victims were taken to the San Antonio Community Hospital, where they were attended by Dr. A. L. Weber. Several stitches were required to close a cut beneath the left eye of the Cox child. Mr. Henry and C. A. Cox of Orange, his brother-in-law, escaped with minor injuries.

The party was en route to Lake Arrowhead for a day's outing when thee accident occurred.

Mrs. Edith Chapman, 57 years of age, a visitor from Kansas City, Mo., sustained a severe blow on the left side of her head and abrasions about the right knee this afternoon when a motor car driven by her sister, Mrs. H. A. Perkins, 2267 West Twenty-ninth street, Los Angeles, turned turtle in a sand patch at the side of Ontario Boulevard in the vicinity of Wineville. Mrs. Perkins suffered painful bruises about the left eye and her husband, who accompanied them, sustained a sprained left shoulder. They were attended at the San Antonio Community Hospital by Dr. Geoffrey J. Fleming.

JAIL TRUSTY RETURNS

Window Washer Wanders Away But Police Remember

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, Sept. 7.—Clare Wells, nicknamed "Milky" by local police because of his asserted habit of borrowing money from milk bottles left on doorsteps, will not be trusted out of sight of the officers during his present stay at the Alhambra jail.

Wells was arrested several weeks ago on a petit larceny charge and was made a trusty. He was set to work washing the windows at police headquarters. His last window was an outside one and he forgot his obligations and wandered away, police declare, with a ninety-day sentence still to serve.

Wells evidently forgot, but the police didn't. He was caught while prowling around a store today and will be given a chance to finish his sentence.

VENICE OFFICERS TAKE SIX ON DRY CHARGES

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Sept. 7.—Venice Detectives Armstrong and Yeager arrested six men for alleged violation of city dry ordinances during the week-end. Up to a late hour today four of the sextet had been released under bail totaling $1200. Those nabbed by the detectives were J. Delaney, W. W. Turck, F. C. Pitts, J. P. Keenan, Bert Francisco and G. C. Morris. Francisco was also booked for violation of the rooming-house ordinance. Betty Webster was found by raiding officers in Francisco's room, according to police records. She was given liberty under bond.

Santa Barbara Will Adhere to Open Shop Plan

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 7.—Santa Barbara schools will be rebuilt on a strictly open-shop basis, members of the Board of Education have informed local labor unions who protested the employment of nonunion men from outside the city.

The unions insisted that three nonunion men from elsewhere be discharged and that nonunion Santa Barbara men be employed if union men could not be found.

The board has answered that as hundreds of working men are coming here to make their homes, the board will not discriminate between union and nonunion residents and nonresidents.

Santa Barbara unions have accepted the stand of the board and no labor trouble is anticipated.

SIXTEEN TEACHERS AT OWENSMOUTH SCHOOL

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

OWENSMOUTH, Sept. 7.—The Owensmouth High School, part of the Los Angeles city school system, will reopen tomorrow, with G. Walter Monroe as principal. Other teachers are Clara A. Rooksby, Lulu W. Draper, Varina White, Charles L. Schufeldt, Lloyd P. Squire, R. H. Kreamer, Rose V. McGonigle, Blanche Wadleigh, Florence Bookwalter, Lillian E. Flaherty, George A. Harding, Lee R. Barnett, Eleanor E. Russell, Harley Fiscus and Mary H. Connor. A part of the high-school pupils residing in the western part of San Fernando Valley will attend this school during the coming term. Others, according to districts, will enroll at the Van Nuys High School.

PASADENA, Sept. 7.—Two prisoners confined in the police work camp in the Arroyo Seco evaded guards and escaped early this morning. They are Charles Corbett and Tim Courtney, serving sentences received after being convicted of drunkenness.

RESEDA SHOWS GROWTH

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

RESTDA, Sept. 7. — According to a survey in the hands of the local Chamber of Commerce, the Reseda district now has a population of 2546 persons, which is an increase of 280 per cent since January 1, 1920, when there were only 649 persons in the community. It is estimated that the local buying power is about $1,278,000 annually.

ADVENTISTS BREAK CAMP

Closing Service Marked by Resolution Adopted Condemning Teaching of Evolution

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

GLENDALE, Sept. 7.—The annual camp meeting of the Seventh Day Adventists of Southern California, that has been in session here since August 27, came to a close last night, and today the site of the meeting, on Verdugo Road, presented an active scene as the thousands of people who have been camped there since it started, prepared to leave for their homes.

More than 500 tents were erected for the camp meeting, and all of these were filled constantly by members of the denomination from all parts of Southern California, with many visitors from widely scattered parts of the United States and foreign countries. During the last two days of the meeting more than 150 persons were baptised and admitted to membership in the church. The ordination services for those who will aid in the ministry also occupied an important place on the program of Saturday and Sunday.

At the close of the Sunday night services, when Rev. A. L. Baker, editor of "Signs of the Times" preached, a resolution was adopted condemning the teaching of evolutionary theories in the schools on the grounds that the teaching of such theories tends to mold the minds of children in such a way as to interfere with the right of parents to shape the religious training of their children.

The resolution protested against the teaching in the free public schools at the expense of the general public, of all hypothetical theories of evolution or of any theories that would interfere with the rights of American citizens granted under the Declaration of Independence.

Senators Annex Opener Easily, 10-3, But Ludolph Hurls Vernon to 6-3 Victory in Nightcap

BY ROBERT RAY

Vernon and Sacramento wound up the week's series by dividing yesterday's holiday bill, the Senators grabbing off a 10-to-3 victory in the opener and the Tigers collecting a 6-to-3 verdict in the final struggle.

The Bengals won the series, having taken six out of nine games from their visitors from the heart of California.

Wally Canfield and Wee Ludolph engaged in a hurling duel, with honors all even for five innings, in the nightcap. However, the young Solon southpaw weakened in the sixth and Jimmy McDowell clinched the victory for the Home Guards by socking a home run over the left-field fence, scoring McDermott and Wolfer ahead of him.

The Tigers later nicked Canfield for two more markers, but it was McDowell's clout that ruined the visitors.

Sacramento took the lead in the fourth when Jimmy McLaughlin tripled over Wolfer's head in deep center and scored on Cunningham's sacrifice fly to Oliver.

EVEN UP COUNT

However, the Bengals came right back in their half of the fourth with an evening counter, Wolfer walking and scoring from first on McDowell's line double against the left-field barrier.

The Tigers forged to the front in the sixth when McDermott was safe on Siglin's error, Wolfer singled and McDowell scored both runners with his circuit clout out of the park.

Vernon picked up its final two

FLAGSTAFF VICTOR IN CHICAGO TURF RACE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Flagstaff and Hourmour, from the J. C. McGill stables of Denver, finished first and second in the $7500 Labor Day handicap at Hawthorne race track here this afternoon. Flagstaff won easily over a field of six starters, equaling the track record for the mile and a quarter, 2:04, set by Caractus in the Chicago Derby. Highwater ran third. Flagstaff paid one to two; Hourmour one to six and Highwater four to five. Flagstaff led by four lengths at the mile and was never headed.

JACK SPENCER FIGHTS DRAW WITH SID WHITE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

RENO (Nev.) Sept. 7. — Jack Spencer of Reno fought Sidney White of San Francisco to a draw in their fifteen-round match here today. The men are lightweights.

Tommy O'Connor of New York and Kid O'Reilly of Los Angeles fought a ten-round draw in the semi-wind-up, and Tommy O'Leary of Sacramento, battled Henry Faligno, also of Sacramento, to a six-round draw in the special event.

VICENT BOAT SETS WORLD RECORD IN DETROIT RACE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DETROIT, Sept. 7.—Packard Chriscraft II, piloted by Col. J. G. Vicent of the Detroit Yacht Club, won the 150-mile international sweepstakes in the Detroit River here today. The race was the climax of the three-day program of the ninth annual regatta.

In winning today Col. Vicent's craft set a world's record, covering the course at an average speed of 55.56 miles an hour. The boat also set another new mark when it covered the thirty-third lap at an average speed of 57.7 miles an hour.

Gar Wood, defending champion, with his Miss Detroit VII, was forced out at the turn on the sixth lap, when the boat broke her gear box and had to be towed from the course.

CELLO AND PALUSO DRAW

Salt Lake Boxer is Hurt by Tommy But Manages to Earn Even Break With Fast Left Hand

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion pugilist, emerged partially from retirement, in the midst of a fight card at the ball park here this afternoon, to box four exhibition rounds, two each with two opponents.

Appearing stripped for action in an American ring for the first time since he disposed of Luis Firpo, two years ago, the champion looked to be in tip-top condition. No surplus fat was evident. Though he did not extend himself in the exhibition, he displayed fast footwork, his famous weaving style of attack and assortment of short, fast hooks.

LOU PALUSO

Dempsey's opponents, Bill LaRue of the Olympic Club, former national amateur heavyweight champion, and "Cowboy" Ed Warner, clowned it around, much to the amusement of the crowd. LaRue emerged with a bloody nose. Warner dropped and portrayed the role of a knocked-out man when he received two light hooks to the jaw toward the close of the second round.

BEAK PROTECTED

Dempsey's noted made-over nose was not tapped apparently. Seemingly he made no effort to hurt his opponent. The champion was well received by the holiday crowd. He got an ovation when he crossed the field to the dressing-room and another when he climbed into the ring.

The main event was a ten-round draw between Lou Paluso

SENATORS LEAD BY NINE GAMES

Athletics Humbled Twice by Scores of 2-1, 7-6

Walter Johnson Outpitches Groves in Morning

Champs Take Afternoon Tilt After Hot Slugfest

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—Any lingering doubt that the banner of American League supremacy would perch atop the Washington stronghold for the second successive year was removed today when the Senators dealt two stunning blows to the Athletics, the team which, until its sudden downfall, fought a nip-and-tuck battle with the world's champions for the peak.

Walter Johnson

A double defeat today by scores of 2 to 1 this morning and 7 to 6 this afternoon virtually eliminated the struggling Mackmen from the race. They are now nine full games behind the buoyant title-holders. Mathematically they still have a chance to win in the month of campaigning that remains, but it will take something moving with the speed and destructive power of a typhoon to dislodge Bucky Harris and his gallant crew from the top. A gathering of 70,000 fans came out to see the Athletics make their last stand. They saw the home team put up a sensational fight for both games, only to make costly mistakes at vital moments that tossed away chances for victory.

Today's setbacks were the eleventh and twelfth straight sustained by the Athletics since they started crumbling in their last western invasion. They not only appear hopelessly out of the race, but face a strenuous tussle to retain even their hold on second position in the face of Chicago's challenge.

EMPLOY STRATEGY

The Senators were forced to employ all the strategy at their command, as well as much of their reserve material.

Walter Johnson, outpitching Lefty Graves, turned in the morning triumph for the Senators, but only after he had withstood a spectacular ninth-inning rally.

Johnson himself led the Senator attack and scored the visitors' first run.

The second game started out as a spitball battle between two veterans, Stanley Coveleskie and Jack Quinn. But neither withstood the rival bombardments.

Coveleskie had a five-run lead when the Athletics suddenly unleashed a furious assault that netted four runs in the fifth. They ended the veteran Pole's stay by tying the score in the seventh, only to have Washington forge ahead with two runs in the eighth off Baumgartner.

HARRIS DOMINANT

Harris, the boy manager, was a dominant figure in the Senators' attacks, starting three of the scoring rallies and figuring in the fourth. An unusual play in the eighth when the Athletics came

WIN RIGHT TO MEET YANKEES

Jean Borotra Triumphs Over Gerald Patterson

Fifth Match is Unnecessary in Davis Cup Play

Conqueror of Australian in Perfect Form

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

FOREST HILLS (N. Y.) Sept. 7.—Two doughty sons of France today won the right to challenge America for the Davis Cup, symbol of international tennis supremacy. The tricolor representatives this afternoon eliminated Australia from the competition and as a result will meet the United States team in the challenge round on the turf courts of the Germantown Cricket Club, Philadelphia, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Australia, winner of the American zone bracket, fell before the dazzling play of France, winner of the European zone tournament in the interzone final, 3 to 1. Jean Borotra of France, Wimbledon champion in 1924, lifted the tricolor to its place in the challenge round by scoring the third victory of the tournament for his nation when he stroked his way to a smashing victory over Gerald Patterson of Australia, on the west grass courts of the West Side Tennis Club today, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1, 6-3.

FIFTH MATCH UNNECESSARY

Previous to today, France had scored one singles and one doubles victory in the tournament against Australia. Borotra's victory over Patterson today elevated the Frenchmen to the challenge round without the formality of playing a fifth match. Owing to the fact that the fifth match could have no possible influence on the ultimate result, Rene La Coste elected to default to James O. Anderson, Australian champion, on account of the wet conodition of the courts. While La Coste actually defaulted, the match will not go down on the Davis Cup records as a default. The captains of the two teams agreed

Four Teams Idle as Rain Falls at New York

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 7.—Pittsburgh and Chicago split the Labor Day double-header, the Pirates winning the morning game, 8 to 5, while the Cubs took the afternoon contest, 9 to 8, in ten innings. Kremer started for the locals in the second game, but was yanked in the first inning when the Cubs opened a heavy hitting attack. Bush worked for the Cubs, but was relieved in the latter part of the tenth by Kaufman. The Pirates tied the score in the seventh, took the lead in the eighth, but were beaten out in the tenth when the Cubs scored twice. Capt. Max Carey played in the morning game after a long lay-off due to an injured ankle. Score:

Augustine and Richman Annex Whittier Event

Augustine and Richman, a Whittier team, won the Whittier open doubles tennis tournament yesterday, defeating Snyder and Aung in the finals by scores of 6-0, 2-6, 6-3. They received the beautiful silver cups donated by Robert W. Meyers for the victory.

Snyder and Aung trimmed Charnock and Eyer, Pasadena favorites in the semifinals after a hard three-set match by scores of 2-6, 6-0, 6-3. Augustine and Richman entered the final bracket after a convincing 6-3, 6-3 victory over Grace and Cook.

LUCKY FOR YOUNG FITZ

When Bob Fitzsimmons, the former heavyweight champion of the world, came to the United States for his first bout he trained by making horseshoes, chopping wood and doing other heavy work. He didn't spend much time punching the bag or skipping rope. He won his first fight easily. After the scrap Bob had some pictures made of the first horseshoe. Here it is with Young Bob, who meets Jimmy Delaney at Vernon tonight, encircled by it.

JEFFRIES MAY REFEREE

Former World Champion Asked to Arbitrate Bout Between Delaney and Fitzsimmons Tonight

A page from the dramatic past will be re-enacted tonight at Vernon. Tommy Ryan—former middleweight champion of the world and the man who trained Jim Jeffries for his famous battle for the title against Old Bob Fitzsimmons at Coney Island, 1899—will second Young Fitz. The son of the old Cornishman meets Jimmy Delaney of St. Paul in the ten-round main bout.

Jeff will be in a seat near the boy, eagerly drinking in his every movement to try and catch a glimpse of that hectic duel staged twenty-five years ago at Coney when he knocked Old Bob out in the eleventh round.

Jack Doyle asked Jeff to referee the bout. Jeff is undecided. His answer was "yes" and "no." Hundreds of people would give a great deal to see the former heavyweight champion in action at this fight for sentimental reasons.

Jeff is a good referee. He was the third man in the ring at Reno in 1905 when Marvin Hart knocked out Jack Root in the twelfth round.

It was in this battle Jeff promised to bestow his championship on the winner—being then retired. Later Jeff came back for just one more shot and lost the crown to Jack Johnson five years later in the same ring. Ryan played a big part in making Jeff the champion and in beating Fitzsimmons. When Ryan and Jeff went in the barn and locked the door they fought—they didn't powderpuff. Jeffries was literally whipped into the superb condition that won him the title.

GAINS ARE SLOW

Young Bob Fitzsimmons has progressed slowly. Yet he has fulfilled a pledge to himself when he first started.

"I will not crowd myself as a fighter until I have reached my full growth and strength so that I can knock an opponent out in a punch." This was the idea young Fitz has worked up to accomplish.

In the last year he seems to have arrived. He has stopped eight opponents—his last being the tough Romero Rojas—three rounds. And the boy, now 29, never liked to fight before. He disliked hacking a man to pieces. That seemed brutal to him. But to stop a fellow with a punch gives him a different viewpoint. For the first time in his life he has the proper mental attitude toward the game—that is—he wants to be a champion.

Old Bob, strangely, was 29 before he found his punch. From then on he knocked over more good fighters in a few rounds than any heavyweight has done since, excepting Jack Dempsey.

And the men Old Fitz battled, Peter Maher, the Nonpareil, Dan Creedon, Tom Sharkey, Gus Ruhlin, Jim Corbett and Jeffries—were all formidable heavyweights.

It hasn't been the usual thing for ring champions to beget champions. Usually sons of great fighting fathers have gone exactly the other way.

However, there are a few precedents. It was a champion's son who became a champion when Molineux, the Virginia negro, earned recognition as the leading boxer in America in 1809. Molineux's father was regarded as the unofficial champion of the Revolution period.

HYER FIRST CHAMP

Tom Hyer, son of Jake Hyer, was the first official heavyweight champion of America. Jake was the champion before him.

Man O' War has begotten some great colts. They are better at 3 years old than at 2, thus paralleling the late start of both Old Bob and Young Bob as ring gladiators.

While Young Bob will be on display partly for himself, but mainly as the son of one of the world's greatest heavyweights, Delaney stands for himself. Jimmy has fought Tunney and Greb close fights. Judged strictly on dope Fitz should not be the favorite. Both Fitz and Delaney have boxed young Stribling. Both lost. Stribling really beat Delaney here, but his verdict over Fitz at Macon, Ga., was the hometown flavor.

Frank Muskie meets Lou Rollinger in the semi-wind-up. They boxed recently in San Francisco. Muskie got the verdict, but Rollinger had him on the floor twice, according to Larney Lichenstein. So that's that.

Sailor Billy Vincent clashes with Dick Dundee in the special. K. O. Brown meets Paul Duarte and Danny McCoy boxes Scotty McGlickie in the two fours.

FRENCH TENNIS STARS IN WIN

to declare it no contest, terminating the tie at the conclusion of the fourth match.

Borotra's play today was an exhibition of almost perfect tennis despite the interference of the elements. A drizzling rain fell during a major share of the contest, making the courts soggy and the bound of the ball sluggish, but this did not appear to handicap the French ace. He vanquished the Australian threat, Gerald Patterson, in face of one of the most blinding services in the history of Davis Cup competition.

Borotra pulled everything he had from his bag of strokes and tossed them at Patterson with a recklessness that was startling. He took Patterson's blinding service at times and propelled it back at the amazed Antipodean with additional speed which found the big Australian far out of place and in no mood to return the sparkling placements.

ROSE TO HEIGHTS

In defeating Patterson and eliminating Australia, Borotra rose to heights he never before attained. Only in service did the Australian have any edge on his French rival and only by the accurate use of this offering was Patterson able to force the issue into four sets.

Despite Borotra's ability to handle his vicious service, Patterson scored fourteen service aces in the match to but three for Borotra. Against an ordinary opponent the big Australian would have reaped a bagful of aces, but the Frenchman's uncanny ability to meet that service held Patterson's average down to a minimum.

The Australian started impressively, scoring a 6-4 victory in the opening set, breaking Borotra's service in the tenth game after dividing service with his rival up to that point. In the second set Borotra began to decipher his rival's shots and he won 6-4, breaking through service twice. The third set saw the complete downfall of the Australian threat. His service was tossed into the discard three straight times and he lost the set, 6-1. That was the beginning of the end, for Borotra took the fourth set, and the match, 6-3.

By virtue of today's triumph France stands the lone survivor in a field of twenty-five nations which launched challenges for the Davis Cup. In its tour to the challenge round France eliminated Hungary, Italy, England and Holland to win the European zone and then topped this performance by eliminating Australia in the interzone final. Incidentally, this is France's first appearance in the challenge round, Australia having eliminated the tricolor in the interzone final in 1923 and 1924.

Whites Victors in Hollywood Heights Polo

Playing one of the fastest games that has ever been seen at the Hollywood Heights Polo and Hunt Club, the Whites yesterday afternoon cleaned up the Reds, 9 to 5, before a large holiday crowd.

The guarding of Capt. Warren Beckwith, playing back for the Whites, was largely responsible for the small score of the Reds, while Don Bunch's and Joe Erbst's driving chalked up the markers for the Whites.

The Red team was an entirely revised line-up of the squad which played such an exciting game last Thursday evening, and it was due largely to the fact that this was the second time this team has played in its present formation that it did not make a better showing. Frank Foster was the outstanding star of the Red team with Dr. Robert Buck lending him a lot of able assistance.

Of the five goals made by the Reds, Foster was responsible for four of them, and Buck for one.

BOSTON, Sept. 7.—The Red Sox defeated the Yankees today, 5 to 1, bringing to an end the four-game winning streak of the Hugmen.

Babe Ruth, who has made his peace with Manager Miller Huggins, was back in the line-up for the first time since his suspension and $5000 fine. He was loudly cheered throughout the game, but failed to distinguish himself, fanning twice and making an error in left field. The best he could get was a single in four times at bat.

Howard Ehmke held the Hugmen to five hits, one of which was Gehrig's sixteenth home run of the year. Five hits, bunched off Jones in the second, aided by a sacrifice and base on balls, gave Boston four runs.

Rain caused postponement of the first game of a scheduled double-header. Score:

ANGELS DEFEATED TWICE

Emmer's Double With Bases Full Gives Seattle First Game, 6-5; Indians Capture Second Tilt, 4-2

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SEATTLE, Sept. 7.—Seattle won both games of a doubleheader with Los Angeles here today. The Indians took the first game 6 to 5, and the second 4 to 2.

Seattle scored with three runs in the sixth when Emmer smashed out a two-bagger with the bases full. T. Baldwin, Statz and Brazill made three-base hits.

Brazill helped the Indians win the second game by knocking out a homer in the second inning. Statz and Krug made two-base hits. Scores:

Seals Bumped in Both Ends of Twin Bill

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 7.—The Beavers turned on the victorious Seals today and took both games, the score being 6 to 2 and 5 to 0. In the first game, Burns, with his slow ball, held the Seals helpless except in one inning, the fourth, when Brower's homer drove in two. In the second game Rachac, always a particular Seal jinx, shut out the San Francisco visitors, 5 to 0. Burns yielded only four hits and Rachac gave but six. However, the series ended seven games for the Seals to three for Portland. The scores:

Tommy Murphy Wins Twice at Indiana Fair

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Sept. 7.—A crowd estimated at 20,000 witnessed the opening of Grand Circuit races at the Indiana State Fair here today. The track was heavy, but in spite of this handicap, excellent time was made in the various events and close struggles featured the program.

Tommy Murphy, Syracuse, N. Y., piloted two winners under the wire in the L. S. Ayres $5000 stake race, 2:10-class trotting, and the 2:04 trotting class Pluto Water stake for $2000.

Murphy sent Trumpet to victory in the 2:10 trot, after dropping the first heat to Todd Hart, driven by Putnam. In winning the second heat, the gelding was forced to step the mile in 2:05 1-4.

In the 2:04 trot Murphy had things his own way with Hollyrood Leonard winning the event in straight heats.

Logan Lib won the 2:14 pace after finishing third in the first two heats.

The 3-year-old pace, the Horseman stake, valued at $1776.68, went to Hollyrood Abigail after the Last Deforest took the opening heat.

markers in the seventh, which Whitney opened by going to third on Jones's low throw to first. Ludolph's double to right scored Whitney. Warner was out, but McDermott walked. Ludolph was run down between second and third, McDermott going to second on the out. Ike Wolfer singled to center, bringing McDermott over the rubber. McDowell also singled, but Oliver was thrown out to end the inning.

The Solons picked up their last two runs in the ninth when Ludolph let down and Jones, Wachenfeld and Kopp bunched singles with a walk and a wild pitch.

TWO NEW KIDS

Rube Ellis paraded out a couple of new kids for the fans, Clarence McDermott and Henry Doll, a pair of local semipros being given a chance to strut their stuff on the infield. McDermott got a couple of hits, while Doll looked good at short.

The opener was an uninteresting affair with the Senators pounding Herman Pillette and Ed Bryan for fifteen hits, which with the six errors contributed by the Tigers, made it easy for Sacramento to walk off with the verdict.

Louie Vinci started on the mound for the Solons, but was driven to the showers in the fourth when the Bengals scored two runs. Speed Martin came to Vinci's rescue and tamed the Tigers the rest of the way. Vinci, however, pitched four and two-thirds innings, just enough to give him credit for the victory. The Tigers got thirteen hits, but none of them in the pinches.

Wes Griffin deserves honorable mention for his part in the first struggle, the Tiger second-sacker getting four hits in the same number of times at bat and being knocked out as well. The knockout occurred in the seventh inning when Martin attempted to pick Griffin off second. The ball hit Wes on the head, knocking him colder than an Eskimo romance. However, Wes came to and resumed play, getting another hit before the game ended.

The Senators picked up a one-run lead in the second inning, an error by McDermott paving the way to the score. After Davis had been retired, Shea walked, but was forced at second by Cunningham. McDermott, in an effort to double Cunningham at first, threw into the dugout, the Sac fly chaser taking second. Brown slashed a double to left and Cunningham romped home with the first, but not the last run of the game.

Herman Pillette was pounded to the showers by the Solons in the third, when the visitors scored three more runs. Louie Vinci began the round by caressing a double to right of which Swanson attempted to make a shoestring catch. Vinci held second while Kopp was thrown out, but took third when Siglin beat out an infield hit. Pillette then uncorked a wild pitch, Vinci scoring and Siglin taking second. With the count 3 and 2 on McLaughlin, Ellis lifted Pillette and sent in Ed Bryan to try his luck. McLaughlin greeted the new hurler with a hit to center, Siglin counting. Davis also singled, while Shea walked, filling the sacks with Sacs. Cunningham forced Shea at second, McLaughlin scoring on the out. Brown fouled to Warner to end the inning.

VINCI ROUTED

After being turned back without a run for four innings by Vinci, the Tigers came to life in the fifth and put over a couple of runs, which put them back in the ball game temporarily. Griffin began the inning with one of his four hits, while Danning followed with an infield safety. Bryan sacrificed, Watson making a great play on the slow bunt. Warner's sacrifice fly to Kopp scored Griffin. McDermott singled to center, bringing Danning over the plate. Wolfer also singled, so Vinci was lifted in favor of Speed Martin, who retired the side and kept the Tigers well tamed the rest of the way.

The Solons sewed up the struggle in the sixth and seventh innings, scoring five runs in the two frames. Four hits and an error produced a trio of runs in the sixth, while two singles and three Bengal boots gave the visitors two more in the seventh. What happened from then on doesn't make any difference. Scores:

PLANTING SCHOLA[illegible]

[Copyright, 1925, by North American [illegible] Alliance]

Early in April, when the sa[illegible] gins to stir, we start plantin[illegible] scholarships, and we alway[illegible] a rich harvest in the fall.

You probably have be[illegible] fled in reading in the [illegible] paper about some local b[illegible] has been awarded a schola[illegible] some big university. Perha[illegible] were a little puzzled, becaus[illegible] boy, as you remember hi[illegible] never shown any inclinati[illegible] dazzle the world. This m[illegible] lighten you:

Some scholarships are awa[illegible] to brilliant students; other [illegible] ships are awarded to boys wh[illegible] be decidedly desirable and w[illegible] to a certain college. That is w[illegible] we come in, with our "spring p[illegible] ing."

We find that we have so[illegible] between $30,000 and $40,00[illegible] over from last year's footbal[illegible] son—all velvet. We also fi[illegible] checking up carefully, that [illegible] are about fourteen high sc[illegible] seniors, scattered here and th[illegible] perhaps over several States—[illegible] we must have in our scrub li[illegible] next year.

Of course it would be un[illegible] able to use any of this surplu[illegible] hire boys to come to our colle[illegible] this just isn't done any more [illegible] as a matter of fact, it neve[illegible] done, to any great extent. B[illegible] any rate, this money makes u[illegible] more comfortable about our [illegible] football outlook.

SOWING THE SEED

There is a meeting of the [illegible] athletic advisory committee. [illegible] committee decides that it wou[illegible] quite proper to offer the [illegible] committee a part of this su[illegible] for the creation of scholarsh[illegible] deserving boys. The gra[illegible] manager is authorized to [illegible] this offer to the president.

The offer does not reach [illegible] president in quite this high-[illegible] and ingenuous form. He i[illegible] formed that the advisory com[illegible] tee is willing to turn over [illegible] the funds for fourteen full sch[illegible] ships, if the university will [illegible] the other half. Virtually al[illegible] universities have some kind o[illegible] margin for such funds, and [illegible] president is pretty sure to [illegible] agreeable to the proposal. [illegible] graduate manager writes o[illegible] check for his half and depos[illegible]

The scholarship arrangem[illegible] carried through by a comm[illegible] consisting of the presiden[illegible] graduate manager and the ch[illegible] man of the alumni athletic [illegible] visory committee.

The chances are that the pr[illegible] dent knows a lot more abou[illegible] is going on than is indicat[illegible] the formal interchange of [illegible] antries which accompanies th[illegible] gotiations. Possibly for this [illegible] son he delegates a member of [illegible] faculty athletics committee to [illegible] resent him, in the committee [illegible] actions. In passing, it shoul[illegible] noted that on nearly every [illegible] ulty committee there is one [illegible] side" member, who is more or [illegible] suspicious of coaches and gra[illegible] managers, and who makes [illegible] efforts to stir up rows abou[illegible] fessionalism. I have noticed [illegible] this member is never chos[illegible] represent the president. A [illegible] man is always assigned and th[illegible] move along smoothly.

BILL GETS THE JO[illegible]

The announcement is [illegible] that the scholarships wi[illegible] awarded—$500 to each boy [illegible] with the present living [illegible] bright boy can pretty nearl[illegible] through a school year on th[illegible]

Our job then is to see tha[illegible] fourteen candidates get th[illegible] teen scholarships. It is [illegible] than you might think. We [illegible] Bill Smith, in the town of [illegible] wood. A little quiet word i[illegible] glewood produces a letter [illegible] thing like this, from the Re[illegible] Jones to the president:

"Having learned that yo[illegible] awarding some special [illegible] ships to deserving boys, [illegible] taking the liberty of recom[illegible] ing William Smith, of our [illegible] He is a member of our ch[illegible] and I have found him [illegible] diligent—etc."

Bill gets the job.

These letters are staged [illegible] only from ministers bu[illegible] judges, physicians, public o[illegible] and other influential men i[illegible] boys' home towns. Some[illegible] there is a slip-up, but no[illegible] In better than nine cases o[illegible] ten we land our man.

I do not wish the forego[illegible] stand as a charge that all [illegible] presidents are shutting thei[illegible] to what is going on. But m[illegible] them are. I once had a frank [illegible] with a former college pr[illegible] who had retired.

"I knew perfectly well tha[illegible] happening," he said. "It [illegible] troubled me considerabl[illegible] then I got so it didn't wor[illegible] at all. My only alternativ[illegible] have been to have taken a [illegible] which would have brought [illegible] upon me the enmity, not on[illegible] coaches, managers and under[illegible] uates, but, I am sure, th[illegible] of Regents as well. I happe[illegible] know that the Board of [illegible] had found our athletic pro[illegible] valuable asset in getting ap[illegible] tions from the Legislature[illegible] knew they would not app[illegible] in any activity which [illegible] our football success."

BY BILL WISE

[illegible]ohnnie Mescal, Warner's [illegible]-cranking cameraman, golfing [illegible]der President E. R. Hurst's Cali[illegible]nia banner, was awarded the [illegible] gross trophy after shooting a [illegible] Saturday, to tie with Dick Russell of Rio Hondo in the feature three-day eighteen-hole medal tourney that ushered in El Caballero Southern California's newest and most difficult eighteen-hole course.

JOHNNIE MESCALL

Russell's 77 was every bit as good as Mescal's, but Dick also drew the [illegible] net trophy, and as both prizes [illegible] identical, Caballero officials [illegible]ded to award the cups with[illegible] the customary play-off that [illegible]ht have robbed the Rio Hondo [illegible]er of the beautiful net trophy. [illegible]eal Burns starts to work in one [illegible] Al Christie's famous comedies [illegible]y, and will carry along the [illegible]allero cup awarded for his [illegible]-70 that copped second low net [illegible]he Class A bracket, scratch to [illegible]andicap players.

[illegible]ulian Cahn's gross 80 with a [illegible] handicap carried off the first [illegible] net prize in the Class B play. [illegible]. Knox, with an 85-12-73, won [illegible]nd low net in the frame that [illegible]ied golfers with a handicap [illegible]g of 9 to 13, over the long [illegible]allero course.

MANY WINNERS

RECORD FIELD

[illegible]e El Caballero invitational in[illegible]uced more than 600 players to [illegible] difficult course. Many played [illegible] course several times and all [illegible]ed a wish to try some more. [illegible]. [illegible] hundred and thirteen golf[illegible] played in the tournament—es[illegible]shing a new local record for [illegible]ational events. PLANTING SCHOLARSHIPS

Copyright, 1925, by North American Newspaper Alliance]

Early in April, when the sap be- ins to stir, we start planting our cholarships, and we always rea rich harvest in the fall.

You probably have been ed in reading in the home-town aper about some local boy as been awarded a scholarship ome big university. Perhaps ere a little puzzled, because oy, as you remember him, ever shown any inclinations azzle the world. This may ighten you:

Some scholarships are award brilliant students; other sch hips are awarded to boys who e decidedly desirable and use o a certain college. That is whe e come in, with our "spring pla ng."

We find that we have somewh etween $30,000 and $50,000 le ver from last year's football on—all velvet. We also find, hecking up carefully, that the are about fourteen high sch eniors, scattered here and there erhaps over several States—wh e must have in our scrub line- ext year.

Of course it would be unthin ble to use any of this surplus ire boys to come to our college his just isn't done any more, a s a matter of fact, it never w done, to any great extent. But any rate, this money makes us fe more comfortable about next year football outlook.

SOWING THE SEED

There is a meeting of the alum athletic advisory committee. T committee decides that it would quite proper to offer the facul committee a part of this surplu for the creation of scholarships deserving boys. The gradua manager is authorized to conve this offer to the president.

The offer does not reach th president in quite this high-mind and ingenuous form. He is formed that the advisory comm tee is willing to turn over ha the funds for fourteen full schol ships, if the university will sup the other half. Virtually all universities have some kind of margin for such funds, and th president is pretty sure to agreeable to the proposal. T graduate manager writes out check for his half and departs.

The scholarship arrangement carried through by a committ consisting of the president, th graduate manager and the chai man of the alumni athletic a visory committee.

The chances are that the pre dent knows a lot more about wh is going on than is indicated the formal interchange of pl antries which accompanies the gotiations. Possibly for this r son he delegates a member of th faculty athletics committee to re resent him, in the committee tra actions. In passing, it should noted that on nearly every f ulty committee there is one "o side" member, who is more or suspicious of coaches and gradu managers, and who

TIBBETT LEADS AT BRENTWOOD

C. H. Tibbetts, Jr., finished 2 down to win first class A honors in the match play against par event at Brentwood yesterday. A. H. Honey was 3 down, for second, and A. A. Sugg got home 5 down for the third prize. H. R. Erkes was even to win the class B play, and H. A. Nater took second, 1 down, while Gordon Lewis's 2 down won third prize.

Willie Hunter, Brentwood's smiling professional, and his amateur partner, W. J. Stranahan, trailed Will Stone and W. Van Dyke of Sunset Canyon, to the home green before winning 1 up in the special event that found the visiting pro within spending distance of the $100 purse offered for the event.

Both high-powered twosomes were at their best and the visiting golfers forced "Wee Willie" to shoot his curly head off in the successful attempt to cop the shekels.

Members of the Optimist Club will golf their way around the Brentwood course in a special tournament today. The boosting club boasts of some fast golfers and all events are closely contested.

BELT BATTLES TO CALIFORNIA WIN

James Belt, with an 82, won low gross honors in the special ball sweepstakes at Tom Stevens California club yesterday. B. A. Simpson was home with an 83-16-67 for low net. S. C. Charles shot an 84-16-68 and J. B. Asbury hit the charmed circle with a 93-24-69.

In one of California's high-powered foursomes, Vic Owens, San Pedro professional, medaled 72, while Fay Coleman, sterling club junior was home in 74. S. F. Orlopp took 78 to tie Fred Maltzel, assistant California pro. in the fast event.

RALPHS COPS MERCURY TOURNEY

Elmer Ralphs defeated J. R. MacKinnie, 6 and 4, for the title flight trophy in the Los Angeles Athletic Club tourney that concluded at Palos Verdes yesterday. A. G. Ralphs tripped G. H. phia. The time was 6m. 31s. for the mile course. Albert B. Vogt of the Vesper Boat Club and Paul V. Costello of the Penn A. C., both of Philadelphia, trailed several lengths behind the leaders.

Hoover was again forced to outsprint Gilmore to win the quarter-mile dash title. The champion jumped the field at the start and held his lead throughout to finish a quarter length ahead. The time, 1m. 13s., was almost 10s. faster than the mark made last year.

The powerful eight of the Penn A. C. of Philadelphia, by a driving spurt in the last eighth of a mile, just managed to nip the crew of the New York A. C. at the finish line. The margin of victory was a bare two feet. The mile was covered in 5m. 14s. Three lengths behind trailed the Philadelphia Barge Club, with the plebe crew from the Naval Academy bringing up the rear.

Wad Wadley Trims Colen Smith in 880-Yard Race

Record Crowd Sees Brilliant Swimmer Perform

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 7.—Viola Hartman, Los Angeles Athletic Club star, established a new Southern California record in the 440-yard free style for women event in the feature race of the pre-Olympic water carnival held at Alamitos Bay here this afternoon before a record crowd of 15,000 aquatic fans. Before what officials of the southern branch of the American Amateur Association claim to have been the largest turnout of its kind, both from the standpoint of entries and assemblage in the history of Southland water sports, Miss Hartman negotiated the splendid 440-yard official Alamitos Bay course in the fast time of 6m. 36⅗s. for the new mark. Juliet Duloon, of the Club Casa Del Mar, was second, and Frances Blemett of the Club Casa Del Mar, third.

Although no other records were broken, exceptionally fast time marked all the swimming races. Wad Wadley of the Venice Plunge Swimming Association, won the A.A.U. junior national championship for 880 yards in the time of 12m. 24s.; Colen Smith of the L.A.A.C. was second, and William Elliott of the Hollywood A.C. third.

MICKEY RILEY WINS

Mickey Riley took first honors in the ten-foot dive for men. He wore the blue and white of the L.A.A.C. Kistler of the Pasadena A.C. took second honors, and Cleve Morrison of the Hollywood A.C. took third.

The Los Angeles A.C. triumphed again when Olive Hatch copped the 110-yard back stroke for women. Lillian O'Connor of the Club Casa Del Mar was second and Mildred Lowe of the Hollywood A.C. third. Time 1m. 35s.

George Leach of the L.A.A.C. won the 220-yard back stroke for men in the fast time of 2m. 56s. Roy Kegearis, unattached, was second, and William Passell of the Hollywood A.C., third.

Olive Hatch of the L.A.A.C. came to the forefront again when she annexed the 110-yard free style for women in the time of 1m. 13s. Miss C. Cunha of Club Casa Del Mar was second and Ella Buss of the same third.

Wally O'Connor of the Venice Plunge Swimming Association took first in the 440-yard free style for men in 5m. 32s. George Wolfe of the same organization was second in this event and William Elliott, also of the same association was third.

Carol Fletcher of the Pasadena A.C. won the first medal for the ten-foot diving contest for girls. Harriet Nielson of L.A.A.C. took second and Dorothy McGowen also of L.A.A.C. took third.

William Fair of the Venice Plunge Swimming Association won the 220-yard breast stroke for men in the time of 3m. 13s. H. Evans, unattached, was second, and Paul Nelson, unattached, third.

Sarah Freeman of the L.A.A.C. took first in the 110-yard breast stroke for women in 1m. 36s. Mildred Lowe of the Hollywood A.C. was second and Lillian O'Connor of the Club Casa Del Mar third.

DAUBENSPECK STARS

In the 110-yard free style for men, Phil Daubenspeck of the Venice Plunge Swimming Association, won. Reggie Harrison of the same organization, was second, and George Leach of the L.A.A.C., was third. Time 58 3-10s.

William Horton, William Gillette and Lynwood Clark, all unattached, took first, second and third places, respectively, in the 100-yard free style for novices. Time, 1m. 8s.

The Club Casa Del Mar won the girls' relay race with the L.A.A.C. a close second.

The Baby Mine, with Vera Steadman of the Christie Comedies, at the wheel, took the first prize in the hydroplane race around the six-mile course without serious competition in the time of 9m. 25s. Smiling Dan II, Dick Loynes's fast craft that had been enjoying easy pickings all summer in hydroplane races off the Southland Coast, was second, and Quick Silver, entered by W. H. Harris of Balboa, was third.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

FROM a vacation anchorage at Balboa we have noted increasing signs of autumn in the air. Enthusiastic college youths with the familiar Cardinal and Gold of U.S.C. and Black and Orange of Occidental and hues of other institutions of learning distributed about their bathing apparel have been filling the air with the sound of the thudding pigskin.

Using the wide open spaces of the shimmering sands as a gridiron the heros of the next few months have been employing the virgin hoof to good advantage in propelling the pigskin far down the beach. For the tired business man with the buniony feet hitting a football with a bare foot is not recommended as an everyday exercise. But anything goes for the hardened athlete.

Among several noted characters we observed during our investigation of the approach of the football season at Balboa was Archie Nisbet, the man who put the K in kick when he was fullbacking for California on Andy Smith's "Wonder Teams."

It is safe to say that the blond-haired husky from Pomona was probably the biggest cog in Smith's football triumphs. Many a game Nisbet dragged out of the fire with his tremendous boots—punts that sailed over a rival quarterback's head and went for seventy yards or so, where some alert California end would halt the ball just before it rolled over the goal line.

Putting the enemy with his back to the wall was and is one of Andy Smith's favorite tricks. The tall mentor had a wonderful booter in Nisbet. His like has never been seen on the Coast. Templeton of Stanford might have kicked farther on occasions, but Nisbet was sure fire on both distance and placement. He never faltered in a pinch. "Waiting for the breaks" would not have come to be a houseword with California fans who raved about the Smith system if it had not been for Archie Nisbet. True, he was only a cog in a system, but we can recall several games that rested on the accuracy of Nisbet's toe.

During our intimate acquaintance with the wild sea waves we had time to note by the public print that Mons. J. Doyle is arranging an open-air fight show for the new Wrigley ball park.

Perhaps Mons. Doyle has selected his card. We don't know. But we have some ideas on the matter and are prepared to air them.

First of all we'd give the fight bugs three ten-round bouts with a heavyweight scrap between George Godfrey, the negro dandy, and young Mr. Fitzsimmons provided he creates the favorable impression he is expected to create at Vernon against Jimmy Delaney tonight.

Then we'd pit the winner of the Callahan-Hudkins bout at the Olympic Club against somebody like Pal Moran, or if the boys should box a draw at the Olympic then rematch 'em.

Next we'd coax George Blake into sending Fidel La Barba, the new flyweight champion, against some bantie of established class, perhaps Newsboy Brown, who has a draw to his credit with Fidel, at catch weights.

There is no reason why La Barba should risk his crown at immediate writing, but it would be a great boost for the proposed show to have a world's champion in there as well as a contender for the heavyweight championship in the person of the solid Mr. Godfrey, the Beau Brummel of Central avenue.

Still another guess is that a match between Jackie Fields and Jimmy McLarnin could be substituted for either one of the last-named brawls, and afford a "natural" right off the bat. That fight would be a riot.

If that isn't a high-geared show we don't know one. Pick three of the four shots listed below for a knock-'em-dead program:

George Godfrey vs. Young Bob Fitzsimmons, ten rounds.

Winner Callahan - Hudkins vs. Pal Moran.

Fidel La Barba vs. Newsboy Brown.

Jackie Fields vs. Jimmy McLarnin.

DEBRA WINS CRUISE

Commodore Ben Weston Sails Spauldings Boat to Win Over Entire Fleet

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

Syl Spaulding's Debra chalked up another victory yesterday, beating an entire fleet of sailing craft from Breakwater Light to Johnson's Landing, in the annual stag cruise of the Los Ageles Harbor Yacht Club. The Debra not only finished first but won the R-class trophy also. Commodore Ben Weston was at the helm.

The Patricia, Pierpont Davis's boat, was second in the R-class sloops and the Gallieno III came tearing along a close second.

The surprise of the race was staged when Dan Laubersheimer's Ortona, won the heavy schooner-class event, beating the Diablo, a heavy favorite. The Diablo is especially adapted to the seas between the light and Johnson's Landing and has ruled supreme in its class for several years. It was becalmed after leading most of the way and the Ortona won.

The Minerva and Signet staged a thrilling duel for the Smaa schooner prize, the former winning after a hard run. L. P. Charles owns the Minerva and the Signet belongs to Paul Jeffers.

About thirty of the fastest craft on the Coast participated in the race and plenty of hard races were staged.

tee from Jack Kearns as the manager of Dempsey binding Dempsey to fight Wills. Promoter Tex Rickard has Kearns's acceptance of the Wills match, to be held at the Yankee stadium on a date next summer before Kearns's contract with Dempsey expires next August.

Mullins made known his intention of visiting the commission with his $25,000 forfeit following a conference with Promoter Rickard. The negro heavyweight's manager declared he made the decision after a recommendation from the commission.

The contemplated action of Mullins reflects the quiet Paddy's lack of confidence in the reported negotiations for a Dempsey-Wills match under the direction of Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons in Chicago or Michigan City next summer. Wills, as a licensed boxer in this State would expose himself to the danger of suspension here if he undertook to box Dempsey under Fitzsimmon's direction after having accepted a bout under a local promoter's terms and subject to the law governing boxing in this State.

Mullins repeated that he has little faith in Fitzsimmons's reported negotiations despite announcement from Chicago and from Dempsey's present headquarters on the Coast, that the champion is planning a trip to Chicago on the 17th inst. for the purpose of signing articles for a Wills match under Fitzsimmons's auspices.

of Salt Lake City and Tommy Cello of San Francisco, lightweights. The referee's decision was not received with unanimous accord, many fans contending that Cello had earned the call. Cello landed the harder punches and several times had Paluso in distress. The Salt Lake boxer held on in the latter rounds. His last left, however, kept Cello at bay often.

Jack Silver, San Francisco lightweight, got the decision over Paddy Mill, English welterweight, in the ten-round semi-wind-up.

SENCIO STOPS GILL

"Clever" Sencio of Manila, flyweight and bantamweight champion of the Orient, made an auspicious debut in the American ring. He scored a technical knockout over Mickey Gill, San Francisco flyweight, in the second round of a scheduled four-round bout. Gill was so groggy that he tried to whip the referee for calling him out.

BUSHER HITS HOME RUNS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SPRINGFIELD (Mo.) Sept. 7.—Baseball patrons who get a thrill out of a home run or a flock of four-baggers, should patronize the Western Association, in which 562 home runs have been hung up so far this season, with prospects that a minor league record for circuit clouts will be smashed.

Leo Najo, an Indian outfielder, playing with the Okmulgee team is the Babe Ruth of the Western Association. Swinging his trusty war club, Leo has mauled out thirty-five home runs. Bennett of the same team, is a close second with thirty-two home runs, and Williams, first baseman with the Muskogee club, is third with twenty-seven.

It should be borne in mind that these records have been piled up against pitchers of no mean ability, and scouts from the big leagues are keeping close tabs on the star swatters in the Western Association. Joplin, Mo., which has one of the finest parks in the Western League is to join the Western Association next year. Wealthy mine operators of Joplin are seeking a franchise.

HELEN WILLS IN EASY WIN

National Champion Defeats Junior in 25 Minutes

Bobby Sellers Trims Neer in Big Upset

Herrington Eliminates Bob Stanford for Tourney

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Helen Wills was the leading attraction at the California State tennis championship tournament at the Berkeley Tennis Club today and the three-time national champion, won her match in the third round of the women's singles without losing a game. Her opponent was Dorothea Swartz, a Golden Gate Park junior, and the score was 6-0, 6-0.

The Wills-Swartz encounter started at 6 o'clock and was ended twenty-five minutes later. The national champion did not play as aggressively as she did Sunday, when she made her first appearance in competition since she won her title for the third time, but she displayed for the edification of the filled grand stand, the strokes that have made her famous.

She permitted the rallies to be more prolonged and often was content to carry them on until her opponent invariably netted the ball. However, when pressed Miss Wills put pace on her forehand drive and cross-courted the ball for a placement. The third game of the first set was carried to deuce five times and the final game of the match was deuced five times also.

Miss Swartz in the first set scored 15 points while the champion was making 30 to win, and in the second stanza Miss Wills made 28 points, while her opponent obtained 11. Miss Swartz played a nice back-court driving game which pleased the spectators and she seemed to be quite at home while playing the leading woman player of the country.

The first upset of the tourney came in the third day when Bobby Seller, a junior, eliminated Phil Neer, a seeded played, in the men's singles in straight sets. Neer is a former national intercollegiate champion, but he could not overcome the strokes and accurate game of the junior. The score of the match was 7-5, 6-2. Seller lacks the pace to his strokes but he has the ability to place the ball and keep from making errors.

MEN'S SINGLES

First Round—Paul Curtis defeated Preston Higgins, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3.

Second Round—Andrew Burke defeated Joe Lowenthal, 6-4, 7-5. Dr. A. Rawlings defeated Paul Curtis, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

DETROITERS GET EVEN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 7.—George Cinchener's Detroiters evened the series with the Marines by taking today's tilt, 2 to 1, through the sensational mound work of Sanders. Sanders fanned fourteen and allowed but three hits, winning a duel from Hoover, who lost his first game in eleven starts. Score:

YANKEE HURLING STAR SUSPENDED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BOSTON, Sept. 7.—Pitcher Urban Shocker of the New York Yankees has been indefinitely suspended on account of a verbal clash with Umpire Hildebrand at New York yesterday, it was announced today before the opening of the series of the Hugmen with the Red Sox.

Shocker was banished from the game for disputing a decision on Bishop of the Athletics.

BATTLERS WIND UP TRAINING

Tod Morgan and Wallach Ready for Olympic Main Go Tomorrow Night

Tod Morgan, "the Seattle Buzz Saw," and Harry Wallach wind up training today for their ten-round battle at the million-dollar Olympic Auditorium tomorrow night. Morgan risks his Pacific Coast featherweight championship and meets a southpaw for the first time.

Billy Bonillas, "the terror of the sticks," squares off with Sammy Shack in the other half of the double main event. They are bantamweights.

Fred Morgan, father-manager of Tod; Frank A. Churchill and "Whitey" Eckert, manager and trainer of Wallach, arrived from San Francisco this morning to second their proteges tomorrow night. Each camp is certain of victory.

Manager Morgan hopped a train for the north to take in the Tommy Cello-Lou Paluso encounter, and incidentally to talk business with San Francisco and Oakland promoters. His son is generally rated in the West as being the best feather in the game, and every California promoter is endeavoring to bring one of the leading eastern featherweights to the Coast for a battle with Morgan.

"Pop" Morgan says that he'll take his son East next spring in the event that one of the promoters fails to sign Kip Kaplan, the title-holder; "Babe" Herman, Benny Bass, "Babe" Ruth, "Red" Chapman, Bobby Garcia, "Honey Boy" Finnegan or Danny Kramer, leading contenders, to wage warfare against Tod in a California ring.

Hayden Phythian, the former University of Southern California football star, tangles with Terry Adams in the six-round special at the "Aud" tomorrow night. Roy Harper, a new face from Seattle, battles Sailor Carter, tough and rough welterweight, in the four-round curtain-raiser.

California Net Stars Advance in Philadelphia

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—Most of the favorites reached the third round today in the woman's Middle States tennis championship tournament at the Philadelphia Cricket Club. Among them were Miss Helen Jacobs and Miss Elizabeth Ryan, California; Miss Eleanor Sears and Miss Edith Sigourney, Boston; Miss M. C. Jessup, Wilmington, Del., Miss Eleanor Cottman, Baltimore and Miss Virginia Carpenter, Miss Molly Thayer and Mrs. M. B. Huff, all of Philadelphia.

In the first and second round matches respectively, Miss Ryan defeated Miss Dorothy Deardon, Woodford, 6-1, 6-0 and Miss Gilbert Harvey, Philadelphia, 6-1, 6-0.

Miss Jacobs won her first round match by default and defeated Miss Betty Hillery, Philadelphia, 6-1, 6-0, in the second round.

SALES WINNER IN OLYMPIC TOURNEY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DEL MONTE, Sept. 7.—D. Sales today firmly established himself in the hearts of San Francisco Olympic Club golfers as one of the strongest tournament players in that vast organization, through winning the annual Del Monte golf tournament. In the morning he had a nip-and-tuck match, the closest of the entire tournament for him, with Judge T. I. Fitzpatrick, going to the home green before winning. In the afternoon, in the finals, he won handily from H. A. Irving, 4 and 3, after Irving had given the Winged-O fans a real thrill in eliminating the medalist, Scotty Mullin, 2 and 1.

JOCK MALONE DROPS TED GARTIN IN THIRD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PITTSBURGH (Kan.) Sept. 7.—Jock Malone of St. Louis dropped Ted Gartin of Denver, Colo., for the count in the third round of their scheduled ten-round bout here tonight.

Jock's speed and blocking kept him out of reach of the western-er's terrific swings, while the St. Paul ghost worked his left to Gartin's stomach effectively.

BEAR SCHEDULE HEAVY

University of California Bears will play nine football games on three consecutive weeks away from home. Coach Smith's squad will tackle every strong eleven on the Pacific Coast except University of Southern California.

LAZERRE NEAR HOMER RECORD

Bee Star May Set New Mark Against Bengals

Salt Lake Slugger Lacking Two Four-Baggers

Forty-one Circuit Wallops Slammed by Tony

Baseball fans at Washington Park this week may see the home run record of the Pacific Coast League shattered. Tony Lazerre, Salt Lake shortstop, had made forty-one home runs up to yesterday. The record is forty-three made by Paul Strand in 1923.

Lefty O'Doul, Salt Lake outfielder, still leads the circuit in batting with a mark of .404. Waner of San Francisco is second with .397 and Brazill of Seattle, third with .392.

Brazill leads in two baggers with sixty-three and O'Doul in three-base swats with sixteen. Lazerre tops the list in stolen bases with thirty-seven.

All the Salt Lake regular players are batting over the .300 mark. The club is hitting for a mark of .325.

within a run of again tying the score, cost the Mackmen a good chance to fatten their score. It was a catch off the left-field wall by Goslin of a drive off Welch's bat. Two runners were on base and both might have scored, but scurried back to their bases in the belief that Goslin had made a fair catch. When umpires ruled it had first hit the wall, it was too late, and a double play, engineered by Harris, ended the rally. Scores:

COPPER MARKET REMAINS QUIET

Producers Sold Ahead for October Deliveries

Output Shows Consistent Increase Since 1921

Cautious Buying Attitude is Maintained Abroad

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS,
Editor, "The Mining Journal"

The copper market has remained quiet for the last week; the price continuing at 14¾ cents. This condition is considered natural, as copper producers are well ahead for September and October deliveries, and the market is merely reflecting the delivery price of the metal. A cautious buying attitude is being maintained abroad, but there is no tendency on the part of producers to force the market because of the acknowledged low stocks.

The usual dullness of the summer has not been in evidence this year, as business has held up well. The improvement in the price has been due to this factor, together with the curtailed production, continued high consumption for domestic purposes and the large improvement in foreign consumption.

Production of copper has shown a consistent increase, since the resumption of operations in 1921, with 637,197 tons during that year, 788,829 tons during 1922, 1,163,885 tons during 1923, 1,300,332 tons during 1924 and 779,206 tons during the first seven months of 1925, or a rate of 1,335,780 tons.

SHIPMENTS GROW

Shipments have shown the same consistent growth with 589,996 tons in 1921, 907,405 tons in 1922, 1,157,393 tons in 1923, 1,319,784 tons in 1924 and 827,632 tons in the first seven months of 1925, or at a rate of 1,418,796 tons in the year. The excess of shipments over production has been uniform over long periods, but the monthly fluctuations have been the price upsetting feature.

Domestic shipments, however, have not shown the same remarkable growth as the spurt in domestic shipments came in 1921, 1922 and 1923. Since that time domestic shipments have ranged about 65,000 tons monthly, with occasional lean spots and slow buying, another price fluctuating feature. Nevertheless all factors, stocks, production, exports and domestic shipments show a trend in the market that should convince the most pessimistic.

The European condition shows little change. At no time since the war has there been any question about the potential demand for copper from the European countries for the electrical expansion planned has been enormous, and promised to use very large quantities of the metal, and since that program is getting under way, a continued demand may be expected from these countries.

EXPORTS HEAVY

During the first seven months of this year the United Kingdom imported 12,210 tons of copper as the monthly average, as against the monthly average of 1923 of 6848 tons, and 10,162 tons for 1924. An even greater increase is noted in the imports for Germany, reports covering the first six months of 1925. They show a monthly average of 20,498 tons for this year, against 5926 for 1923, and 8059 for 1924. For France the monthly average for the first six months of this year is 9347 tons, against 9005 for 1923 and 11,281 for 1924. Shipments to Italy are practically the same as for last year, but show 1000 tons increase over 1923.

"Taken as a whole, the situation is the best that the copper industry has seen for several years, and it seems not improbable that toward the end of the year a high of 15½ cents a pound delivered will be reached. Much, however, depends upon how well producers keep production down in the next few months. Too early an increase in production will tend to take the confidence out of the buyers."

BUSINESS IN SOUND POSITION

Optimism Prevails Throughout Pacific Southwest; Volume of Trade Continues on High Level

An accumulation of definite evidence indicates a substantial economic advancement for the entire Pacific Southwest territory for the past month. A spirit of optimism was noticeable in virtually all agricultural districts. Aggregate crop returns are exceeding any of the past several years. The volume of trade continued at a high level, reflective of the solid basis of business. Industrial output remained satisfactory and shipping showed a steady increase.

This is the introductory paragraph in the monthly summary of conditions in the Pacific Southwest compiled by the research department of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank and the First Securities Company, and released for publication today. The report continues in part:

Cool to moderate temperatures prevailed during August. Coast districts had many cloudy or foggy mornings and nights, which were beneficial to crops. Interior valleys had moderate temperatures, which in some cases retarded the maturing of crops.

The Valencia orange and lemon crops have been marketed earlier and at higher prices than for several years past. Only a comparatively small portion of the citrus crops remains to be shipped. The harvesting of several deciduous fruits has been completed with satisfactory results. Canneries are running at close to full capacity. Raisin and grape crops will be larger than last year's, but will not be as large as was anticipated, owing to sunburn damage during July. The walnut outlook is favorable

CROPS BENEFITED

The bean crop was benefited by the foggy weather of the past month. Harvesting of sugar beets is progressing rapidly. The yield is lighter than was forecast, but the sugar content is high. The alfalfa and hay crops remained in an exceptionally good midsummer condition. The bulk of the grain crops has generally been sold at higher prices than at any time since the fore part of 1921. Cotton picking starter in the early districts and indications point to better yields than last year. Cattle were marketed in large numbers at higher prices than have prevailed since 1920. Feed for live stock continues to be plentiful in California. Southern Arizona ranges were materially improved by August rains.

The volume of business for August was generally in excess of July, 1925, and of August, 1924. Improvement was marked in agricultural districts. Business in the metropolitan area continued to be characterized by special sales. Construction activities for the year 1925 to date have exceeded the corresponding period of 1924. The total value of August building permits, however, will probably be less than for July.

There has been no marked change in industrial operations during August. Canneries have been operating at or near capacity on fruits and fish, and packs will exceed last year's. The supply of labor has been adequate and unemployment continued to approach a minimum. The output of petroleum increased slightly. Gasoline and fuel-oil price reductions in the East were partially reflected on the Pacific Coast.

The seasonal demand for money is being taken care of without difficulty. The easy money situation is encouraging to legitimate enterprise. The citrus-belt district has a particularly easy money condition. There has been a substantial easing of money in the Imperial Valley as compared with the tightening tendency of last spring.

INVESTMENT MARKET

The bond market has continued both active and firm during the past month, partly a reflection of continued easy money conditions and partly of the recent diminution in the supply of new offerings. Slightly rising prices and expansion in the volume of trading in old issues toward the latter part of the month gave evidence that the so-called summer slump in the bond market had been checked.

Settlement of the Belgium debt problems had a favorable effect on foreign bonds, Belgian bonds being strengthened and some of the French issues attaining new high prices for the year. bankers holding that the effect of the funding agreement would be to speed up debt settlements of other European countries and. in turn, give access to new private loans.

The average price of forty leading corporation bonds showed a small increase during the past month, reaching 91.97 on August month, reaching 91.97 on August These prices compare with the high for the year of 93.24, which was attained on June 24, and the low of 90.60 on January 2.

Financial conditions continue good throughout the Pacific Southwest territory. Deposits are showing a consistent increase. The seasonal demand for credit has been normal. Enterprises properly conceived and managed are having no difficulty in obtaining financial support.

The money situation is easier than at any time for several years past. A particularly easy money condition exists in the citrus belt as a result of excellent prices for citrus fruits. The tightening tendency evident in the Imperial Valley since last spring has been materially relieved. Money is easy in Arizona.

News of Spring Street

Returning from a trip to Santa Fe, N. M., John L. Knorpp, president and general manager of the Southwest Cattle Loan Company, reports an unusually favorable outlook for the live-stock industry. Mr. Knorpp said:

"The strong demand for cattle was very clearly demonstrated last week at the time the War Finance Corporation was offering some 10,000 cattle for sale at Santa Fe. To give some idea of the demand for cattle at the present time, at the sale eight different bidders were ready to buy the 10,000 cattle offered for sale, offering bids accompanied by certified checks. The cattle sold at $5.76 per 100, compared with a price of $5 per 100 received last year at the sale."

Moto-Meter Sales Grow

July of this year was the largest month in the history of the Moto-Meter Company, Inc., makers of the radiator heat indicator, according to the half-yearly report issued by the company. The volume of business in July, last, was 35 per cent ahead of the same month of last year.

Net earnings of the company for the first half of this year were $983,904, or $4.91 a share, on the Class "A" stock. The company, which is the exclusive manufacturer of Boyce motometers, issued 200,000 shares of Class "A" participating stock during the spring.

Water Developed

Sufficient water has been developed for a gravity supply for the proposed fifty-ton concentrating mill of the Buckingham mine at Battle Mountain, Nevada, according to a report from General Manager E. A. S. Whittard. Mr. Whittard also reports that the company is preparing for ore tests and plans for the first mill unit, and is investigating and examining various processes and the latest improvements in milling practice. The sinking of the Buckingham shaft from the 200-foot level to the 300-foot level may soon be undertaken, the report stated.

Progress Reported

Jack Hibbard, president of the Washington Mining Company of Angel's Camp, Cal., reports excellent progress in the mine-development work required in the sale contract. The mill is now in operation with ten stamps dropping continuously.

According to Hibbard, Supt. Clary expects to have a program completed within a month that will permit stoping on a body of high-grade ore, and that, beginning October 1, regular shipments will be made.

National Mortgage Pays

At a regular meeting of the board of directors recently preferred stock dividend No. 3 was declared payable on October 1, 1925, at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, to stockholders of record on the 15th inst. The directors also authorized the payment on October 1 of interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum on payments made on account of unissued preferred stock.

Local Exchange Closed

The Los Angeles Stock Exchange will remain closed throughout today and tomorrow, but will open for trading again at the usual hour on Thursday morning.

Sicilian Lemon Crop Less Than 1924, is Report

Revised estimates indicate that the new Sicilian lemon crop may be about one-fourth less than that of last year, according to a report from Consul Edward I. Nathan at Palermo, received in the Department of Agriculture. The crop in the Palermo district is expected to be better than that in other parts of Sicily, as a result of heavy rains in April and May. The size and quality of the fruit are expected to be normal, unless heavy rains should occur during September.

It is stated that 500,000 boxes of last year's lemons could be made

It is stated, according to Consul Nathan, that not more than 700,000 to 800,000 boxes of lemons, all of the Verdelli or green variety, will be available for export in October.

The white variety becomes available in November, although Verdellis continue to be produced. It has not been possible to determine the quantity of lemons that will become available for export after October, but it is believed to be much larger than the quantity estimated for October. The price of lemons at Palermo early in August was 65 lire ($2.38) per box f.o.b.

OIL NEWS

BY ROBERT J. PRITCHARD

The possibility that a real oil field may be developed in the district about El Segundo, Manhattan Beach and Lawndale is indicated by the showings reported in the Lawndale well in the past few days.

The Lawndale well is the deepest project in this district, and is reported to have had some interesting cores. The hole is down 5600 feet, and has been conducting a series of tests, although the operation is handicapped by 160 feet of liner which is stuck in the bottom of the well. According to scouts who have visited the well, the sump shows a considerable quantity of free oil, and observers declare that during the swabbing tests the well spouted considerable quantities of emulsion into the derrick.

Whether there is sufficient of the oil to make the well a commercial producer is considered doubtful, but people interested in the El Segundo district hail it as an indication that there actually is oil in the area, although the Lawndale well may be on the edge of the stgucture.

Geologists assert that the Lawndale well is on the same structure as the Pacific Manhattan Oil Company's well north of the Torrance field, which has been standing idle for some time. Officials of this company assert that the showings found indicate that the well is near an oil field, although the well itself probably is too near the edge for production.

Whether this optimism is justified or not, the fact is that leasing in this district has been active in recent weeks. John McKeon of the McKeon Drilling Company which drilled the Manhattan-Pacific well has tied up considerable acreage recently, and the Shell Company and Union Oil Company both hold several hundred acres in the district. The Petroleum Midway Company also has considerable acreage a short distance north of the Manhattan Pacific well, and is getting ready to put down a well in the near future.

Another item of general interest in this neighborhood is the intention of the Pan American Petroleum Company to drill a second well on the land of the Sausal Redondo Syndicate which includes several hundred acres. The Pan American announced this intention in a letter received by a member of the syndicate last week. The Pan's first well had showings, but was abandoned early in the year.

At Newhall-Saugus

The Newhall Saugus district appears to be in line for a campaign of development on the part of several companies, which indicates that this district is looked upon as a good bet for the next oil field which is needed to maintain Southern California's unusual rate of production.

The Associated Oil Company's well at Newhall is down about 5500 feet and has had no showings, according to the best available reports. The well is now busy on a fishing job. The Union Oil Company's well at Saugus is also having trouble at about 2400 feet, after penetrating nothing important for about 1000 feet.

But the lack of showings in these wells is not discouraging other operators, and it is understood that the Millham Exploration Company is preparing to start a well north of Saugus. The Millham interests have been leasing considerable acreage in this district in recent months.

William Gibbs McAdoo, Jr., son of the former Cabinet member, is also preparing to drill at Newhall on land of the Republic Petroleum Corporation. This well is partly rigged up, and probably will start drilling before the end of the month.

Farther away, fourteen miles north of Newhall, W. W. Stabler is down nearly 1000 feet in his Jenkins well.

Finds Good Show

The Superior Oil Company has found good showings in its Weaver No. 1, in the southeast end of the Rosecrans field near the St. Helens Petroleum Corporation's Walsh well. The well has had a little trouble with its shutoff, but is standing recemented at 4815 feet.

Wildcat Suspends

The Millham Exploration Company, which is drilling the Burnham Exploration Company's Wagner No. 2, west of Rosecrans, has stopped work, and the well is down 4310 feet. No showings have been found in the well, which was intended to develop the possibilities of a western extension of Rosecrans.

Well Shows Cut

W. H. Fisher's No. 14 well at Rosecrans, in the Athens area is holding up at about 500 barrels a day, according to field reports. The well was completed last week at 4475 feet, but showed a cut of about 20 per cent. Gravity is 35 deg.

Get Small Well

Bassett, Meyer and Rorig, a syndicate drilling in the Signal Hill field, is still trying to make a flowing well out of its No. 1 well, according to field reports. The well was brought in on the pump at a depth of 4425 feet last week, but made only about eighty-five barrels a day.

Gets Good Well

Signal Hill's best well since the completion of the O'Donnell No. 7 two weeks ago, is the Lindon Oil Company's well in the northwest part of the field. The well came in at 450 barrels a day making a slight cut, and is said to be holding up to its initial output very well. The well was down 4225 feet.

"Number Twelve of a Series"

Backed by Taxing Power

The obligations of foreign Governments, Provinces and Cities are backed by the taxing power of the state—a sure and dependable source of revenue, subject to none of the hazards or fluctuations which attend the earnings of private corporations.

In many instances, the external debt of European borrowers is low—in the case of the Province of Upper Austria, it amounts to only approximately $6.00 per capita, a sum easily repayable through tax levies. Frequently external loans are secured by the pledge of specific revenues which yield greatly in excess of the requirements of the bonds without any increase in the tax rate.

This certainty of income, together with general appreciation among civilized peoples of the importance of maintaining a good credit standing, makes external Government and Municipal Bonds a highly attractive investment—backed by a long record of dependability.

Many high grade foreign Government Bonds, payable in United States Gold Coin, are now available on a 7% to 7.75% interest basis. We believe the investor who purchases carefully selected foreign securities today is securing for himself an unusually attractive income, seldom available in issues of similar strength or character.

A folder descriptive of the present opportunities in foreign dollar bonds, together with our list of current offerings, will be gladly mailed on request.

ASSOCIATED GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY

Gold Bonds 6½% Convertible Series Due 1954

Rights for 6½% Interest Bearing Option Warrants

The Board of Directors has authorized the issuance of stockholders' "rights to subscribe" for 6½% Interest Bearing Option Warrants to holders of Bonds, on the basis of one Warrant for each two shares of preferred stock into which the Bonds will be convertible, or 11 Warrants for each $1,000 Bond.

The 6½% Interest Bearing Option Warrants, $35 paid, will bear interest, payable quarterly at the rate of 6½% per annum, and, when fully paid, each Option Warrant will be exchanged (after September 1, 1926) for either $100—6% Debenture Bond or one share of $6.50 Dividend Series Preferred Stock (at the holder's option) and in either case one-half share of Common Stock. They will also carry detachable Stock Purchase Rights entitling the holders to buy one share of Common Stock for $20 after March 1, 1926, and on or before September 1, 1927, or thereafter and on or before September 1, 1930, for $30. No call may be made for payment before January 5, 1926, of any instalment of the balance of the subscription price, nor for more than $10 per call, nor at intervals of less than 90 days.

Holders of Bonds may obtain their certificates of "rights to subscribe" by written application to the Company, stating the name, principal amount and serial numbers of the securities held, with their ownership of the bonds certified by a reputable security dealer, bank or trust company. Prompt application should be made, as "rights" expire September 10, 1925.

6½% Convertible Secured Bonds due 1954 will be accepted in payment for Option Warrants on the basis of one $1,000 Bond for 30 Option Warrants, $35 Paid. This is equivalent to 105 (the call price) "flat" for these bonds. Such bonds are to be so tendered in person or through an investment security dealer participating in underwriting the offering to stockholders of these Option Warrants.

Circulars descriptive of the earnings and properties of the Company, particulars of the Option Warrants and the securities covered thereby, and application blanks, may be obtained from your security dealer or the Company, 61 Broadway, New York City.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Although receipts were comparatively small for a Monday's run, demand was not overly active and trading was rather slow. Prices were uneven, most sales being generally steady to 25 cents higher, the early sales showing most advance, with late sales about steady. A three-car string of 1000-pound California steers topped for the day at 8.00, while a car of 1050-pound weighs made 7.50. Common steers in load lots sold downward to 6.10.

A load of good 878-pound northern heifers topped for the day at 6.25, while two loads of 1030 to 1070-pound northern cows topped for their kind at 5.85, while other she stock, mostly common and low medium kinds, cleared from 4.00 to 5.25. Canners and cutters turned largely from 2.00 to 3.75, while most bologna bulls went over from 4.80 to 5.00, a few on the beef order selling around 5.25.

CALVES—Although the supply was small, packers seemed well supplied, due to the liberal runs the past weeks, and trading was a slow affair. Several lots of common and medium calves cleared from 5.50 to 8.00, while good and choice California vealers sold upward to 10.000 and above.

HOGS—Buyers did not seem anxious for hogs and only one load had sold up to the noon hour. These looked around steady. Many of the hogs did not receive a bid and most of them were put away for the day. Today's sale was a load of 238-pound Californias at 14.70. A few packing sows made 12.000, while thin 181-pound weighs made 13.00. A small lot of 91-pound feeder pigs cleared for 15.00.

SHEEP—None. Good and choice lambs are quotable from 13.00@14.00, with common to choice ewes from 5.00 to 7.00.

Bonds for New Hotel Building Offered Public

S. W. Straus & Co. has purchased and is offering an issue of $250,000 first mortgage 6 1-4 per cent serial coupon bonds secured by the Normandie Hotel Building, Los Angeles, to be erected on its site fronting 150 feet on Sixth street and 98 1-3 feet on Normandie avenue. These bonds are dated August 1, 1925, and mature annually from August 1, 1927, to August 1, 1938.

The bonds are callable at 104 per cent for the first five years and 102 per cent thereafter, interest coupons payable at 104 per cent for the first five years and 102 per cent thereafter, interest coupons payable February 1, August 1, denominations $1000, $500, and $100. Federal income tax, 2 per cent is paid by the borrower, and the bonds are exempt from personal property tax in California. The new hotel is to be operated as a medium price hotel for transient and permanent guests. The location is in the heart of the Wilshire Boulevard district in the vicinity of the Ambassador Hotel.

MANY A time the courage to carry through something that in every way seems a sound conviction, results in the success which the outsider attributes to luck. Los Angeles Income Properties is convinced of the soundness of its policies, as it has been from the first. The success which is today apparent is the result of action along those convictions.

The Company — This essential industry was established in 1912 and has constantly operated on an increasing basis.

150 Years' Experience — The officers are well-known local pioneers who have a combined local experience in this business of nearly 150 years.

Use for Capital — This additional capital is to be used to care for increased volume of business which is immediately available and for which the company has adequate facilities without expenditure for machinery or buildings—only a slight increase in overhead being necessary to greatly enhance its earnings.

Dividends — A conservative estimate shows that in addition to the eight per cent paid on the Preferred, substantial dividends on the Common should result when the volume of business is increased as it should be with the additional funds secured from this issue.

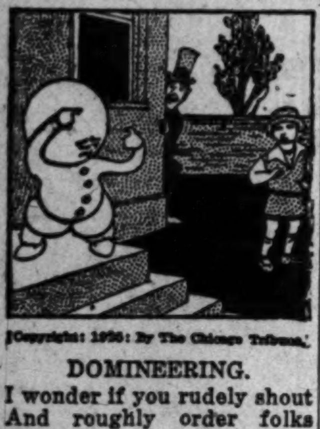
GOOPS!

A Daily Lesson in Manners for Children

BY GELETT BURGESS



[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

DOMINEERING.

I wonder if you rudely shout
And roughly order folks about?
I wonder if you yell, "Come here!"
Without an "If you please, my dear!"
If you're a Goop like that, I warn you,
People will all dislike and scorn you!

THIS TELLS WHAT "WILSHIRE'S IONACO" DID FOR MR. SMITH

"I suffered 10 years with anemic condition brought on principally by constipation. I also had arthritis in the hip and have been confined to my bed for one solid year, receiving best of care with Doctors who prescribe, but without any benefit.

"After taking 15 treatments with the IONACO, have increased my efficiency, health and strength at least 80%. Constipation has entirely disappeared and peristalsis has become normal. My hair was white before taking these treatments but is now rapidly returning to its original color."
D. J. SMITH, 1214 W. 8th St., Los Angeles.

Remarkable results also have been accomplished with "Wilshire's Ionaco" in cases of rheumatism, neuralgia, goitre, nervous prostration, insomnia, etc.

No drugs, chemicals, laxatives, pills, liquids or medicines of any kind are used. "Wilshire's Ionaco" is purely a scientific treatment of great rebuilding power—and a method that is often successful even after all other treatments have failed. It is personally backed by Gaylord Wilshire, well known as the originator of the Wilshire district.

Free Treatment

Bring a clipping of this advertisement to any of our offices and we will give you a free treatment of "Wilshire Ionaco," without obligation. Or send for free booklet. To people unable to call at office, we will be glad to send a representative to give a home treatment—free.

WOMAN AVOIDS AN OPERATION

Awful Pains and Misery Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lima, Ohio.—"I want to tell you how your medicine has helped me. For weeks I suffered with awful pains from inflammation and I was in such misery that I had to bend double to get relief. I could not be touched or jarred, had awful pain all over my abdomen and could not touch my feet to the floor. It was impossible for me to straighten up and the pains never ceased. I took treatments for some time and finally was told I would have to have an operation. I do not believe in operations and I had read so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I told my husband I would try it before I gave up. I soon began to feel that it was doing me good. The awful misery began to leave me, also the backache. I have a good appetite and am gaining in weight. Taking this medicine was the best thing I ever did. I feel like it has saved my life and I do not hesitate to say so to my friends. It has saved me from a dreaded operation and I am still taking it."—Mrs. ETHEL THURSTON, 824 North Pine St., Lima, Ohio.

RADIO FANS IN HUNDREDS GREET "THE MAN BEHIND THE VOICE"

THE record-breaking crowd of the National Radio Exposition at the Ambassador Auditorium turned out yesterday to see Uncle John and the stars of KHJ, The Times radio station, in person. The broadcast announcement Sunday that the famous people of the tower radio station would present a special program at the exposition resulted in the greatest demonstration which the exhibition has seen thus far.

By 11 o'clock yesterday morning the corridors of the Ambassador Hotel were lined with fans and when the doors of the little theater were opened for the 1 p.m. performance at least 3500 people were turned away. As it was the aisles of the theater, which seats approximately 600, were crowded with spectators and more were given accommodation on the stage.

A replica of the programs given over the air was presented by Uncle John in the theater and rounds of applause greeted each performer. McClellen Reed opened the performance with an address on the "International Influence of Radio," in which he predicted that radio will bring about an international understanding and peace.

Others who appeared were Uncle Remus, the Titian Trio, Mary Newkirk Bower, Bennie Nawahi, Paul Adams, Albert Macgillivray, Cousin Oswald and Mother Trevor.

Following the hour and a half program in the theater the radio stars were literally forced into the Ambassador Auditorium when the exposition officially opened at 2:30 p.m., and the programs were continued from the three stages in the hall for the benefit of those who were unable to reach the theater. At the conclusion of each of these performances movement in the auditorium was halted momentarily as the spectators formed in line to shake Uncle John's hand.

Waldo T. Tupper, managing director of the exposition, estimated that 10,000 crowded into the auditorium during the period KHJ was on the air yesterday afternoon. When it was found that accommodations were inadequate in the theater it was necessary to install loud speakers in various parts of the hotel grounds so that the special program could be heard.

It was announced yesterday that KHJ will give a similar performance Thursday afternoon and evening. From 1 to 2:30 p.m., Uncle John will present a program in the Ambassador Theater and those who are able to attend will be given complimentary tickets to the exposition that afternoon. This program will be broadcast.

From 2:45 to 11 p.m. KHJ artists will give a continuous program from the three stages in the auditorium and from 10 to 11 p.m., the entertainment will be broadcast by remote control through KHJ's downtown station.

To insure better reception to listeners-in who have been picking up the communication tests between Army airplanes flying over the city and station KRCA on the exposition floor, it was announced yesterday that the messages by radio from the planes will be rebroadcast to give more volume. These tests are carried on daily from 3 to 4 p.m. Lieut. Victor M. Clark, flying one of the planes, is equipped with a special microphone, which excludes all noise while he is in the air, enabling him to talk with the local station at the exposition.

The executive committee of the exposition met last night to arrange plans for an exhibitors' banquet Thursday night immediately after the exposition closes for the

HOPE FADES FOR COUNTY TAX CUT

Rate Fixed by Supervisors Today May be Same

Prospect of Slash Reduced by School Demands

Auditor's Force Happy at Completion of Task

Taxpayers will know the bad news today.

The County Board of Supervisors, its morale stiffened by rest over a week-end and holiday in succession, will make its annual inroad on the purse and possessions of every owner of property in the county by setting the annual tax levy this morning.

The result of the deliberations probably will be blow to those optimists who have been looking forward to a reduction. From figures available yesterday it appeared that the rate will be practically the same as for last year.

Hope for a reduction was based on the city budget, which showed a decrease of 9 cents in its tax levy requirements, as compared with last year. Then the county general budget came out, showing possibilities of a decrease.

And then came the stroke that promises to finish off the optimism of those residents of the city, at

SLAUSON WIDENING SOUGHT

[illegible] is expected to be taken by the City Council this week, on [illegible] of Councilman Shaw of the Eighth Councilmanic District, to [illegible] proceedings for the widening of Slauson avenue from the east [illegible] at Alameda street to Figueroa street to link in with the [illegible] proceedings already started by a property owners' petition for [illegible] widening of the highway from Figueroa street to the west [illegible] at Angeles Mesa Drive.

[illegible] improvement has been urged [illegible] and at times proceedings [illegible], but were eventually [illegible] out.

"[illegible] that if I accomplish this [illegible] widening that I [illegible] done something of importance for the Eighth District [illegible] for the entire city during [illegible] term in the Council," said [illegible] Shaw yesterday. "Traffic conditions on the narrow Slauson [illegible] are intolerable and are [illegible] worse, due to the narrowness of the through traffic artery.

[illegible] TO CEASE

"[illegible] have been working among [illegible] owners who protested in the past against this [illegible] widening and nearly all of [illegible] now for it and will not [illegible]. New buildings built on [illegible] in the past two years [illegible] set back by the owners [illegible] that Slauson-avenue [illegible] must come. In parts of [illegible] the storm drains [illegible] laid so that now is the [illegible] to widen the street for its entire [illegible] under one proceeding."

[illegible] proposed width of Slauson [illegible] will be sixty-seven feet, of [illegible] roadway will be fifty-six [illegible], or about forty feet wider than at present. On account of the Santa Fe Railroad's right of way being on the north side of Slauson avenue, the land required for most of the widening must be taken from the south side of the street. In some cases from twenty-two feet to twenty-seven feet must be taken.

MOVING NECESSARY

It will be necessary to move back existing south-side curbs and sidewalks, but the cost of this land and work which will be included in the total cost of the improvement will be many times offset by the increase in value of the property after Slauson avenue is widened, Councilman Shaw said. Plans call for in addition to the fifty-six-foot roadway of a ten-foot sidewalk on the south side of the avenue and a one-foot curb separating the roadway from the Santa Fe's right of way.

The Council is expected to receive a report this week from the City Engineer indorsing Councilman Shaw's plan for the widening, and with the adoption of this report, the City Engineer and City Attorney will prepare the proceedings of the Council's own motion without waiting for the circulation of a property owner's petition asking for the improvement.

FOUR DEAD IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Three Die When Auto Hit by Engine at Crossing; Truck Kills Boy

Three men and a boy were killed in two automobile accidents yesterday, the former in a grade-crossing accident at El Monte and the latter when he was killed when run over by a big truck driven by another boy between Culver City and Venice.

The names of the dead in the grade-crossing were reported by Night Captain Herrod of the Sheriff's office as follows:

J. R. Gilbert, 800 East Maple street, Pasadena; Paul Bascomb, 817 Curtis street, Pasadena, and Charles Logan, 522 North Mentor avenue, Pasadena. All were described as being about 20 years of age.

The three youths were in a small automobile crossing the Southern Pacific Railroad at Arden Drive, just east of El Monte, when they were struck by a westbound switch engine running light. Two of the youths were killed instantly, according to Constable Burdick, and the third died later at the Alhambra Hospital.

The boy killed in the truck accident on Washington Boulevard between Culver City and Venice, was Allen Green, 10, of 6372 Carson street, Culver City.

The truck, one of the heavy type, was driven by a 14-year-old boy, Anthony Muff, living on Alva Road. Deputy Sheriffs Ritchey and Goddard were sent out to investigate the cause of the accident.

Threat of Rain Fails to Halt Picnic Crowds

Despite threatening skies, holiday outing parties in Southern California generally enjoyed the day yesterday without any interference from rain.

According to the local office of the United States Weather Bureau, traces of rain were reported in scattered districts, among them San Bernardino, Pomona and Mt. Wilson.

No rain is expected locally from the storms that have been visiting the north Pacific Coast.

ATTORNEYS COMING TO CONVENTION

Leading Bar Members of Nation Will Meet Here in Fraternity Gathering

Leading members of the bar from all over the United States will attend a convention of the Phi Delta Phi, legal fraternity, to be held in Los Angeles on the 10th, 11th and 12th inst., it was announced by Justice John W. Shenk of the California Supreme Court.

About 100 delegates and officers of the fraternity of various States will attend the convention, which is to be held under the auspices of the local alumni chapter. Justice Shenk is president of the Los Angeles alumni and with Leonard E. Thomas, Province president; Gwyn S. Redwine, head of the U.S.C. college of law chapter, and A. Barton Ruggles, will have charge of the reception and entertainment of the convention visitors.

The convention will open at the Ambassador Hotel, next Thursday morning with an address of welcome by Judge William R. Hervey of the local alumni chapter, and a response by Ruffner Campbell, national president of the fraternity.

A social event of the convention will be a banquet at the Ambassador Hotel on Friday evening, given by Beatty Inn of the fraternity and the Los Angeles alumni chapter, at which Judge Shenk will preside, and at which Judge Louis W. Myers, chief justice of the Supreme Court, Judge William H. Waste, Judge Emmet Seawell, Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe and former Gov. William D. Stephens, all alumni members of the fraternity, will be the speakers.

EXPERT WILL SURVEY WATER SOURCES HERE

O. E. LABOR ENJOYS DAY OFF DUTY

Workers Pass Holiday at Beaches and Parks

Celebration Program Given at Selig Zoo

Minister Morones of Mexico Delivers Address

Labor yesterday took full advantage of its annual holiday by pouring its hosts to the parks, beaches and other places of entertainment for relaxation and amusement.

The celebration in Los Angeles centered at Selig Zoo, where a great crowd of workers assembled for a program of sports, music, dancing and speechmaking.

Luis N. Morones, president of the Mexican Confederation of Labor and head of the Department of Labor, Industry and Commerce, was the chief speaker. He traced the growth and development of the Mexican labor movement and made a strong appeal for closer co-operation between the United States and his own country. Mexico, he declared, had seen its real awakening only in the past few years. The next decade, he asserted, will go far toward molding the future history of that republic.

Col. Frith Ready to Attack "Higher Ups" in Trade

Secrets Gathered by Aides to be Used in Drive

Sea and Border Smuggling Forces Face Trouble

Starting today, the heavy artillery of Col. Frith's prohibition enforcement army in Southern California will go into action against the major fortifications of the bootleg industry, the large liquor dealers, rum runners and still operators. Sensational exposures of "higher ups" in the liquor business are expected to result from the campaign, which is to be directed along lines laid down by Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, Army officer selected by President Coolidge to "dry up" the wetter portions of the United States.

During the past week scouts sent out by Col. Frith secretly have been gathering information on the enemy in preparation for the "zero hour" of the major engagement. During this time agents under Ray S. Adams devoted their time to "mopping up" the last remnants of the investigations, particularly of gin-making druggists and operators' stills, and now are ready for the "big guns" of the bootleg industry.

THE SINNER'S SONNET

BY E. D. CAHN

[Copyright, 1925]

I used to wish that I could be like the people who are Always the same. I thought if I had been blessed with an Even temperament life would be delightfully placid.
I envied the serene souls who never get flaming mad and never Get indigo blue. I deplored my natural tendency to soar into
The clouds one minute and descend into the deepest depths the Next. I thought it disgraceful to have moods with as many ups
And downs as elevators. It seemed to me that when I was mad I
Was so much madder than anybody else and that when I was sad
My sadness was much sadder. But when I noticed that my Gladness beat theirs a mile I began to think that the extra joy was Worth the price of the sorrow and the wrath, for if the tranquil
Souls are never cast down they are never exalted either, so now I Don't envy the poor things any more. I pity them.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—I have been in New York many times and I have lived in New York. But never before has it semed so unattractive, or so futile, or so ruthless.

It doesn't seem like a city. It is an arena where 7,000,000 people are engaged in a hopeless frenzied struggle that is like squirrels on a treadmill.

It's amazing. They live in caves in skyscraper mountains. They are go-getters who never get anything. Nothing, at least, that is worth while.

WHAT'S THE USE?

The life of the average New Yorker is an agonized gamble. They make a lot of money; and spend it on shows where the acting is usually bad; and on cabarets which are dismally tedious.

Some day, so many fortunes will be made in America that money will lose its zest as a game and young men will turn to other things.

In the meanwhile America will have to endure a period where life is hectic and unpleasant.

All American cities are more or less getting the New York idea. And New York itself shows what the end must inevitably be.

If it were possible I should like to go to live in one of three places; the West Coast of Mexico, Havana or one of the towns on the Rhine.

JINX SIGNS

Superstition costs this country a lot of money.

All the European steamers that are due to sail on a Friday have to stick around until ten minutes past midnight to avoid the hoodoo. Otherwise they would sail empty.

CHEAP LAND

The New York real estate boom has brought about some queer anomalies.

Some of the land near the city has shot to the skies. In other sections just as desirable, but with less fashionable names, it is possible to buy the most charming estates—often with old colonial houses—trout streams, thick woods and the like—for $40 to $50 an acre.

And these estates are not New England abandoned farms. They are within easy commuting distance of New York.

A STAGE HIT

The success of some of the stage hits of New York is absolutely unaccountable.

"Desire Under the Elms" has been running for a year in New York. Although by Eugene O'Neill it is a thoroughly bad play. Mr. O'Neill evidently attempted to make something stark and terrible.

It seemed to me a dull, tedious wallow. A young woman, married to an old man, hankering with a drooling, slithering passion after her grown stepson.

The only possible explanation for the success of the play is that every one of the long succession of dull scenes is full of "sex," more like the breeding of cattle than an adventure in love.

BAD ACTING

In Los Angeles we complain bitterly of the bad acting in the road shows that come to us. But the truth is, the acting on the magical Broadway isn't much better.

For the most part it is pretty bad.

Acting is the one universal art. To pretend to play—act is a natural attribute of all human beings. Yet I haven't seen 100 really good actors in a long life of theater-going.

INTERIOR DECORATING CLASSES ARE FORMED

Special classes in interior decorating, designing and color harmony will be offered at the Hollywood Evening High School. The class in interior decorating will meet Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 7 to 9 p.m. and the class in decorative designing will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays, 7 to 9 p.m. Registration for these classes must be made to the principal of the Hollywood Evening High School. A special afternoon class in color harmony, divided into two groups, will meet Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 1 to 5 p.m., and the second group on Tuesdays and Thursdays 1 to 5 p.m. All these classes will be under the direction of Henry Lovins, artist and interior decorator.

BURGLARY WAVE LOSSES HEAVY

Week-End Thefts Net Loot of Nearly $10,000

Plunder Ranges from Baby Buggy to Lotions

Large Stock Carted from Dry-Goods Shop

Beauty lotions, oriental rugs, the contents of a dry-goods store an air compressor, and a baby carriage were some of the many articles stolen by burglars who operated over the week-end, according to reports filed at Central Police Station yesterday. The thefts of jewelry and clothing brought the total valuation of the stolen goods up to almost $10,000.

The heaviest harvest was reaped in the Yeakel-Goss Dry Goods store at 5238 Lankershim Road, where a gang of burglars after breaking into the establishment through a rear door, carted away various dry goods valued at $4300.

Pilfering of the home of John E. Roche at 3613 Hughes avenue, Palms, netted burglars $2000 worth of oriental rugs.

Jewelry valued at $1550 was taken from the home of Mrs. Annie M. Pashby at 1807 Sunset Boulevard. Entrance was gained through a clothes-closet window.

An air compressor valued at $725, used for air-brush painting was stolen from in front of 1615 Vista Del Mar. The compressor was the property of DeWeese & Stimmel, air-brush painters.

The Irene Hobson Beauty Institute at 7213 Sunset Boulevard was entered through a jimmied rear door and $600 worth of beauty preparations were stolen.

H. C. Dye reported the loss of $700 worth of jewelry from his residence at 3516 Atlantic street.

And a baby carriage was reported stolen from the front porch of H. Deutsch's home at 516 North Cummings street.

ANGELENOS AT JUBILEE

City Officials Will Participate in San Francisco's Parade, Representing Largest Municipality

When Mayor Cryer and President Workman of the City Council, accompanied by an escort of twenty motorcycle officers, the fire department band and a large delegation of Native Sons dressed in Spanish costumes, ride down Market street, San Francisco, tomorrow (Admission Day,) representing Los Angeles in the California Diamond Jubilee parade, they will come from the largest city in California and the metropolis of the Pacific Coast.

But in the archives of the city engineering department has been brought to light and is being displayed, a map showing that when it came to size and population, Los Angeles had little to boast of in the days of '49. Boston and New York were thriving cities in those days, but this map, which was made by Lieut. E. O. Ord, a young United States Army engineer, showed that east of Main street there was nothing but orchards and farm lands. In fact, the city was little more than an adobe village. But, as Frank Wiggins used to say, the rapid growth of Los Angeles is one of the wonders of the world.

The Ord map shows that in those days of '49 there were but few streets and these all had Spanish names. Main street was designated Calle Principal, Spring street was called Calle Primavera, Broadway was called Calle Fortin, later Anglicized to Fort street, and Hill street was called Calle Loma. Grand avenue was called Cale de Caridad, which, as translated by Spanish scholars, means Charity street.

Figueroa street, which in the '80's was millionaire row, was called Calle de las Chapules, which is, to say it English, Grasshopper street, while in the district now known as Sonoratown, there was a street known as Calle del Torre, i. e., Bull street. Most the old names, even in translated form, have been replaced, although the name Main street is English for its former name, Calle Principal.

WELCOME PLANNED

According to advices received by steamship officials from R. V. Crowder, passenger traffic manager of the Los Angeles Steamship Company in San Francisco, a particularly enthusiastic reception of the City of Los Angeles has been arranged by the Diamond Jubilee Committee. As the big liner passes along the harbor front to Pier 11, she will be saluted by all harbor craft.

At the dock side, a reception committee headed by members of the Diamond Jubilee Committee will be waiting to board the vessel exactly at 8:10 a.m. and greet the official party from Los Angeles. The fireman's band of San Francisco will be drawn up to welcome the fifty-piece band of the fire department. Pier 11, at which the vessel will dock, being situated just north of the Ferry Building, whence all parades will start, the different units going north on this liner to take part in the parade will immediately take the positions assigned them.

The liner will return with the same party, leaving San Francisco at 2 a.m. Thursday morning and docking at Wilmington early Friday morning.

LABOR HALTED FOR DAY OF FUN

Stanley B. Wilson, former member of the State Board of Education, and Mother Jones, called the "angel of the mines," were the other speakers.

Mr. Clarke warned his audience against the prevalent indifference against assaults from both the top and bottom on the ideals upon which this country was formed. Mr. Wilson spoke on behalf of the American Federation of Labor. and Mother Jones, in her usual vein, launches a broadside at mine operators and gave her version of the present strike of miners.

A sports festival preceded the speeches. The feature was a number of events for children under 5 years of age. The winners of the various events were awarded prizes. The sport program as a whole included events for everyone present, both young and old.

The beaches drew thousands during the day and celebrations were also in progress in many other Southland parks.

CLANS FOREGATHER

Bixby Park at Long Beach served as the setting for the annual Michigan picnics, with thousands in attendance. Mayor Cryer and William A. Smith, former United States Senator from Michigan, were the chief speakers.

Scottish residents of the city celebrated the day with a picnic at Eagle Rock Park under the auspices of the Clan Cameron No. 192, Order of Scottish Clans.

A number of other picnics also were conducted through the Southland. Courts, public offices and the majority of business houses and stores remained closed during the day.

BEACHES CROWDED WITH HOLIDAY THRONG

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 7.—The beach cities today entertained their largest holiday crowd. No estimate could be obtained of the number of persons stretched along the ocean from Playa Del Rey to Las Flores Canyon, but every available camping site was taken yesterday and parking today was virtually impossible to obtain. The crowd began arriving Saturday.

All piers and concessions at Venice and Ocean Park were crowded and so were all the ballrooms. The surf was well filled with bathers. Ocean Park put on a special show, the feature of which was a 100-foot "fire dive." At Venice pier there was a swimming and diving exhibition. No special Labor Day program was given in any of the beach cities.

least, who had hoped this year's tax bill would be a little less.

The City Board of Education put in a budget that apparently will demand an increased levy for city school purposes of 15 cents from each $100 of assessed valuation.

This bombshell so shocked the Supervisors that they sent out a special request that a representative of the School Board attend the session this morning and explain to them and the tax-paying public why the increase is necessary.

However, the public may feel about it there is one small bloc in the county that will be vastly relieved when the final vote is taken. That is the little group of employees of County Auditor Payne which under Deputy Howard Byram, has been working for two months on the tremendous task of assembling the 200 or more detailed schedules that comprise the levy.

bition agents will seek to stop the smuggling of whisky by sea and across the Mexican border. Other agents will ferret out the large moonshine stills and will go after another phase of the bootlegging industry—the men who handle industrial alcohol in an illegal manner.

During the five years of prohibition various means have been found for acquiring liquor. Industrial alcohol used for legitimate purposes, contains certain chemical properties rendering it unfit for beverage uses. This alcohol, acquired in large quantities, can be run through stills and part of the poison removed. The recovered alcohol is tinted, flavored and bottled, and many a man has bought "fine" whiskies and liquors when in reality he was drinking a near-fatal concoction.

Illegal withdrawals of bonded liquor also have been a thorn in the side of prohibition forces.

FORTUNES GAINED

Hitherto, due to shortage of men, money and equipment, only the surface of the large operations in bootlegging have been touched. Immense fortunes have been built up in this industry, as the recent exposures by the police and District Attorney indicated. The business of supplying the country with liquor has developed into a major industry, with all the safeguards possible thrown about it.

To break up the system in Southern California and Arizona is the mission given Col. Frith and W. W. Anderson, his chief of field forces. What his plan of campaign is he has declined to explain, but this month probably will bring forth a series of sensational cases.

Diamond Jubilee Celebration Today to be Featured by Parade of Army and Navy Units

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—With flags flying and deck guns booming the salute, the British scout cruiser H.M.S. Capetown and torpedo boat destroyer Patrician steamed through the Golden Gate today and were warped into berths at the transport docks, there to remain while their officers and crews act as representatives of their sovereign at San Francisco's celebration of California's Diamond Jubilee.

The flagship of the visiting squadron, the Capetown, was immediately boarded by greeting parties headed by Acting British Consul-General Cyril Cane, Commander Foy of the Twelfth Naval District, Col. L. H. Bash of the Army Transport Service and others.

TO ENTER PARADE

Detachments of marines and sailors from both vessels will take part in tomorrow's military parade, Capt. Knowles stated. Among other early official visitors to the British ships was Capt. M. Idemitzu, commander of the Japanese cruiser Tama, which arrived in the harbor on the 2nd inst., to take a colorful part in the parades and other events of Jubilee week.

The Tama will be represented in tomorrow's parade, Capt. Idemitzu said, by a detachment of 150 sailors and marines under command of Lieut. S. Goto.

Cheering thousands at California's Diamond Jubilee celebration today turned their attention to labor. Tribute to the workers of the State and nation was paid today in a parade that included 60,000 people in the line of march. Jubilee colors were embodied in a hundred different ways in the costumes of the marchers.

HONOR DEFENDERS

Tomorrow's events in the Diamond Jubilee celebration will be dedicated to the defenders of the nation. Those who are now serving the colors on land and sea, as well as gallant patriots who came to the defense of their country in times of national peril, will be represented in the great army and navy parade tomorrow morning. They will have as their guests and companions military and naval units from foreign countries.

The vessels of the United States Navy now in harbor will send contingents for the parade, and there will be naval and marine corps units from the receiving ship and from the Mare Island Navy Yard.

Tireless Foot of Mate Cited by Wife in Suit

Walter Kent, by his own statement, had a tireless foot, according to his wife, Mrs. Maud Kent.

He told her he had spent $800 once just for dances with the girls, she related in her suit for divorce, on file with the County Clerk.

He was at least frank about his philanderings, Mrs. Kent admitted. He was even boastful, she said, recounting to her at great length his adventures and conquests, and extremely free with the family funds, she complained, citing that on one excursion he had "squandered" $8000 of their savings.

Motorcycle Squad Will Help Officers at Bay City During Festival

Twenty-five police motorcycle officers, each astride a bright and shiny mount, were off yesterday for a gruelling ride to San Francisco to represent the Los Angeles force at the Diamond Jubilee and to lead the parade down the Bay City's historic Market street. They are expected to reach their destination early today.

The officers, pick of the city motor squad, forgetting the chase of the elusive speeder and putting aside their ever-present book of tickets, threw their roaring steeds into high, amid the cheers of fellow-officers and silent exultation of motorists, the latter in view of the law of averages.

In addition to leading the parade at the celebration of California's seventy-fifth year of Statehood, the officers will remain to assist Bay City motorcycle officers in patrolling the streets during the celebration.

The squad is in command of Lieut. Harlan.

Weak kidneys are often a death sentence, so many serious disorders to take root in these organs. Does your urine show albumen or sugar, evidences of destructive changes? Watch out for Bright's Disease or Diabetes—you may be in grave danger. ESPEE VESSELS TO SEEK TRADE

Ban is Lifted on Subsidiary Albion Lumber

Announcement of Plans Made Public at Port

Permit to Operate Granted by Federal Board

Entrance of the Albion Lumber Company into the lumber trade, southbound, and general cargo business, northbound, out of Los Angeles Harbor to San Francisco and northern ports, will follow action of the Interstate Commerce Commission in permitting the concern, a subsidiary of the Southern Pacific Company, to extend its activities to Southern California, it was announced yesterday.

The action will ultimately result, it was said, in the development of the privately-owned Outer Harbor area into one of the most modern lumber, passenger and freight terminals on the Pacific Coast.

Two years ago, through a $2,000,000 exchange of stock, the Albion Lumber Company gained partial control of the Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company and plans were completed for the construction of a modern terminal on the company's water-front holdings, located on Minor Fill—the most advantageous deep-water location in the port.

Under existing rate and tariff agreements the Interstate Commerce Commission, previous to its recent action, refused to permit operation by Albion Lumber Company vessels out of Los Angeles Harbor, on the ground that the line was controlled by a railroad company.

ONE of the outstanding features of this bank is its remarkable growth. Our records show that more than 65% of the phenomenal increase in deposits to $337,000,000 is due to natural growth.

Progress is right and normal for any bank—but mere growth in resources does not constitute genuine progress unless the increase is constructively used to develop the community.

The Bank of Italy continuously places its ever-growing resources at the disposal of the basic industries of the entire state.

This institution has, therefore, been justifiably called "California's most helpful bank."

SOL COHEN WILL RETURN TO KHJ

Violinist to be Welcomed Home Saturday

Noted Pianist to Appear on Same Program

Dawes Speech Will be on Air Friday

BY PAUL SHEEDY

Sol Cohen is back from his lengthy stay in Europe. This brilliant violinist, beloved by the entire musical colony of Los Angeles, peerless in the affections of the multitude of patrons of the tower studio, is to be heard again at KHJ.

The homecoming of this remarkable musician and composer is to be celebrated Saturday evening at The Times station, when he appears on a special program arranged in his honor through the courtesy of the Stewart-Warner Products Service Station. Since his farewell concert, given from KHJ in May, 1924, he has not been heard in America, and he chose the tower studio for his first appearance upon his return.

After a residence here in Los Angeles of five years, during which he [illegible] rank with the premiere violinists, Sol Cohen left last spring for a lengthy study and composing tour of Europe. He was a pupil of Hubay, one of the greatest masters, at Budapest, Hungary, and wished again to visit the haunts of his student days.

NEW SELECTION

On the special homecoming program he is to play a group of selections never heard before in this country. Among these will be "The Song of the Piper," an appealing old melody that he heard sung by an old blind man down in Brittany. Among the varied numbers will be "From the Left Bank," a series of four musical pictures of Paris, "Celtic Fantasy," and other compositions of rare beauty.

Accompanying Mr. Cohen will be [illegible] Hively, accomplished American pianist, whom the violinist met while in Europe, persuading him to return to this country for concert work. He also will give solos including the "Weary Gleaner" as composed by Mr. Cohen to picture the life of an old French peasant.

This appearance of Sol Cohen adds a further bright spot to the unusual program for the week from KHJ. Thursday night, from 8 until 11 o'clock, the simultaneous broadcast from the radio exposition will be under the direction of The Times station, with the wonder children of Uncle John's evening-hour programs appearing on the stage of the Ambassador Theater that afternoon. On Friday night at 8 o'clock the tower studio is to exclusively broadcast the address of Vice-President Charles G. Dawes direct from the Olympic Auditorium, where he will speak on the revision of the Senate rules under the joint auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion.

BROADCAST CONCERT

The studio was darkened yesterday in conformity with the usual custom on Mondays, except that the station broadcast the personal-appearance concert given on the Ambassador stage by the selected group of KHJ's artists from 1 until 2 o'clock, and again last evening from 10 until 11 o'clock, when it joined with KNX in aiding the broadcast of the splendid concert given at the exposition under the direction of KFWB. These three leading stations of the city are cooperating in boosting the huge exposition and pleasing the thousands of radio patrons.

Tonight, from 8 until 10 o'clock, the Peerless Laundry Company is to sponsor the studio concert, presenting a galaxy of talent, which will include the Biltmore Concert Orchestra, directed by Edward Fitzpatrick; Dan Gridley, tenor soloist; Lilyan Ariel, concert pianist, and Gladys Blackwell Pickering, soprano soloist.

The men behind the third annual National Radio Exposition, now being held in Ambassador Auditorium, and which will continue until the 12th inst., offer one of the most interesting studies of the exposition. All are intellectual leaders in the radio field, and many of them have held high office in the various associations, which are putting on the show.

Much of the difficult work of the exposition fell to J. A. Hartley, of the [illegible] Corporation, who was elected chairman of the show's executive committee. Mr. Hartley, however, feels amply repaid for the effort he gave toward making the show a success. He declared the event will stand as a monument to the radio progress of Southern California, and will give a powerful and far-reaching impetus to radio business in all the southern counties of the State. "More radio fans," is one of Mr. Hartley's slogans. He believes, not only in serving those who, of their own volition, come to the fold of radio and adopt the various pleasures that listening-in affords, but that events of the order of the exposition should be created, which will draw thousands of persons, many of whom heretofore have held no interest for radio, to be led to appreciate its value and importance as an entertainment feature.

The job of telling about the exposition fell to J. W. Boothe of Barker Brothers, and Les Taufenback of Western Radio, Inc., of California. They are publicity chairman, and number one committeeman on the publicity committee, respectively.

With Mr. Boothe called to the East on business in the latter part of July, the work of exploitation fell on the shoulders of Mr. Taufenback, who dispatched these duties until his chairman returned about August 10. From that date, the two have joined forces, with the aid of other members of the radio fraternity, in talking about the show by radio, newspapers, and word of mouth o every and all occasions.

As chairman of the committee of arrangements, Carl A. Stone, formerly president of the Radio Manufacturers' Agents' Association of Los Angeles, was pressed with duties at the inception of the show plans. Stone and his committeemen were assigned the work of planning the main floors of the auditorium as to exhibit space, writing and arranging the programs, and, in fact, overseeing virtually every preliminary arrangement connected with the exposition.

ARREST SHOEMAKER AS DEALER IN LIQUOR

The repairing and selling of shoes were only a sideline with Louis Budman, 40 years of age, a shoemaker of 6666 Hollywood Boulevard, according to members of the Hollywood police vice squad who raided his shop Saturday night. Budman was arrested on a Wright Act charge when the police found two cases containing twenty bottles of asserted gin in the rear of the store. Sergt. Gruey and Officers Donlan and Campbell took part in the raid.

'TEN TO ONE' CASE DELAY TO BE ASKED

Continuance of Merger Charges Likley, Despite State's Objection

Though Dep. Dist.-Attys. Fricke and Hamner will oppose today a continuance for Thomas Hennessey and Harry D. Hibbs, asserted "10-to-1" swindlers, indications are that the case probably will go over one week. The case will be called before Judge Hahn and the adjournment will be asked on the ground that Paul Schenck, defense counsel, is engaged in another court. Because tomorrow is a holiday, it is considered unlikely that Schenck's court engagement can be finished this week.

The State is ready to go on at once, the District Attorney will insist, and will call the court's attention to the necessary presence of George B. McGinty, secretary to the Interstate Commerce Commission, and other government employees as witnesses. Mr. McGinty is here to assist the prosecution and should not be detained from his other duties longer than necessary, it is contended.

McGinty is expected to testify that no such railroad merger as is said to have been described by Hennessey and Hibbs in their alluring invitations to local capitalists, was ever contemplated. The pair are said to have obtained upward of $500,000 by representing that they needed money for the preliminaries of the great merger and would return $10 for each one "invested" with them. Among the asserted victims is Supervisor Woodley, who is said to have parted with $30,000.

WOMAN SOUGHT AS $50,000 ESTATE HEIR

Search is being conducted in Los Angeles by Attorney Otto A. Gerth for a sister of Phillip Jacoby, former jeweler of Great Falls, Mont., who died here last April, leaving an estate estimated at more than $50,000. The sister, who married and whose husband's name is not known, is believed to have lived in California. The estate is being probated in Montana, and if the sister, believed to be the only living heir, is not found, it will revert to the State of Montana. Anyone who has information concerning the whereabouts of the sister may get in touch with Attorney Gerth at 1026 Washington Building.

CONVICTED BANKRUPT GETS SENTENCE TODAY

The fate of Frank Hennesey, convicted last April of concealing assets in bankruptcy, will be determined today when he appears before Federal Judge James for sentence. Hennesey was convicted with his brother, John Hennesey, and Nicholas Sullivan, in the bankruptcy proceedings involving the Central Motor Sales Company. The jury recommended leniency for him. Sentence of fifteen months in Leavenworth was imposed upon the others, but sentence for him was withheld pending a report concerning his activities by the Department of Justice.

BOY HURT IN CRASH

Susuni Kaukani, a Japanese 1 of 7329 Santa Monica Boulevard, was injured yesterday morning when a car driven by his father collided at Los Feliz Boulevard and Childs avenue with a car operated by Edward Olsen of Glendale. Susuni, was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where he was treated for numerous cuts and bruises.

FOURTH DIVORCE SUIT SUCCEEDS

Decree Finally Granted to Wife, "Talked Out of" Other Actions

It took four divorce suits to do it, but Rose Scott and Richter N. Scott are at last on the road to freedom of each other.

Judge Gates has signed an interlocutory decree of divorce.

Mrs. Scott told the court that she had filed three previous suits but had been "talked out of" all of them.

"Apparently a very suave man," commented Judge Gates, as he noted that the couple had been married only five years, and that Scott had "talked his way out of" a divorce at the average rate of one and two-thirds per annum. Mrs. Scott charged cruelty.

PHONE MILLENNIUM SEEN

Radio Show Expert Predicts Disagreeable Features of Wire Conversation Will be Banished

A forecast that telephones within a few years may be greatly improved and that many of the disagreeable features now associated with telephoning are to be corrected, was made yesterday by F. M. Pease, radio and telephone specialist for the Western Electric Company at the Radio Show.

Pease said the improvements would extend to more accurate dialing systems, which will tend to obviate getting wrong numbers, and to elimination of the crashes and sudden rasping sounds frequently heard.

MELODIOUS SIGNALS

Sensitive eardrums, said Pease, will be spared the pain of vibrating to the harsh busy signal, as it is to be replaced some time with a melodious note as from a musical instrument. One inventor, he said, had a busy signal which emitted the tones of a canary bird.

Telephones may be constructed on an entirely different external plan, according to the telephone specialist, as several experts now are working on schemes for rendering them physically attractive like neatly finished radio cabinets. Future telephones may be regarded as ornaments he said, rather than as mere utility appliances.

Declaring that 3000 expert technicians now are engaged in his company's New York laboratories working on telephone improvements, Pease said many of their experiments are being carried out on the principles of radio. Radio has done much to further all sciences, said Pease, but particularly that of the telephone.

IMPROVEMENTS SOUGHT

Telephone companies look to the Western Electric Company for scores of innovations in their own particular field, the company's representative stated. Recently, he said, the Western Electric Company admitted almost 100 telephone experts to its organization and renamed its New York telephone experimental shop the Bell Telephone laboratories.

It was said that while these telephone innovations largely have been worked out, telephone companies hesitate to install them, due to the excessive financial outlay which would be required. The move, it was said, would force many of them into bankruptcy. Later, when more usage has been obtained from present instruments, the telephone corporations, it was declared, may see their way clear to adopt improvements.

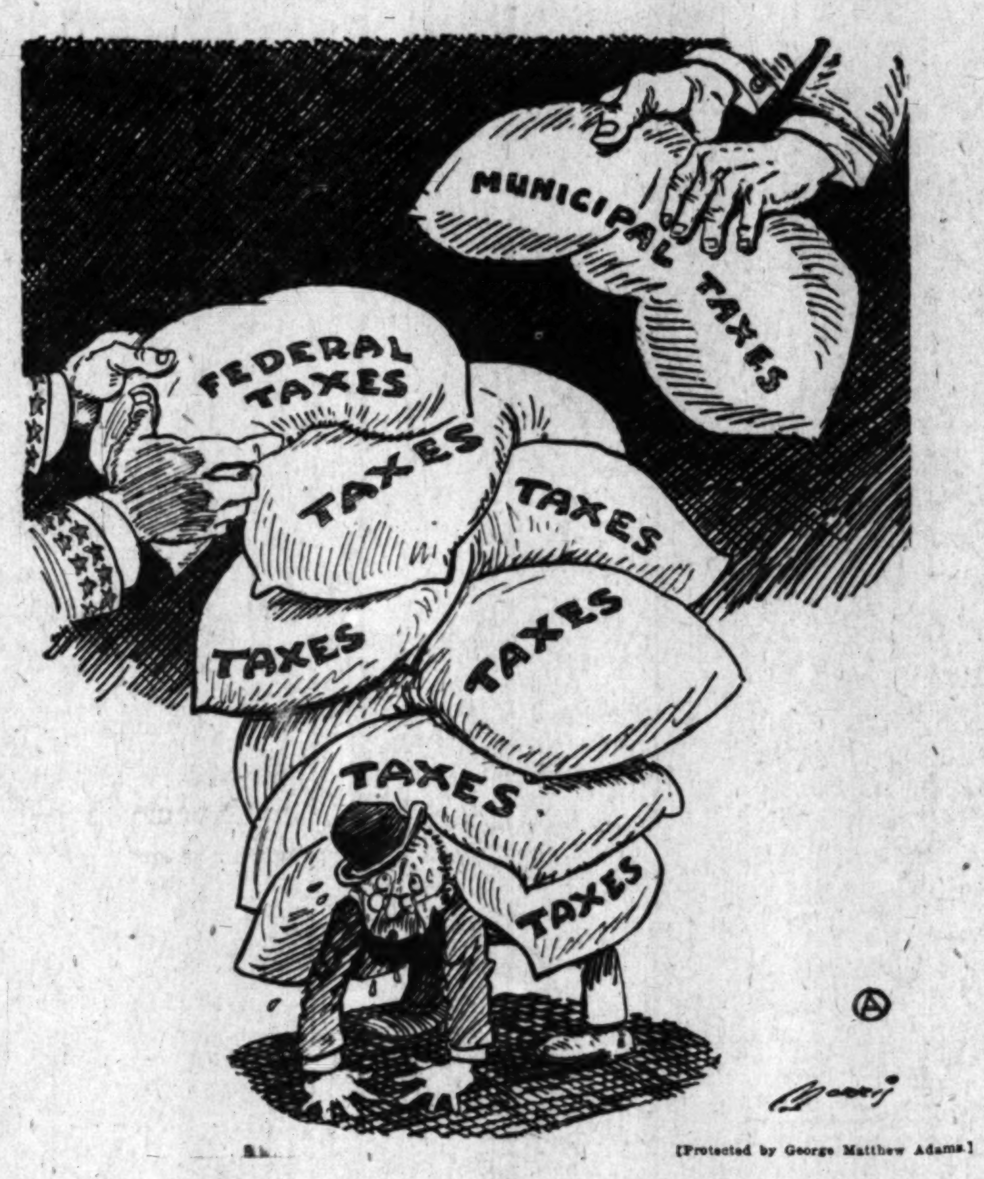
Put and Take

The Federal Government Takes the Taxes Off While the State and Municipality Put the Taxes on



[Protected by George Matthew Adams.]

THE PARTING

Anyhow, the New York Governor and the publisher will be able to refrain from voting for one another.

SERIOUS WORK

It becomes more and more apparent that an aviator comes a long way from leading a butterfly existence.

HANDLE THE TONGS

When a pair of tongs get into action in the Chinatown section of New York the firing has already started.

RUNNING OVER

The dumping of 4000 cases of high-powered beer in the sewers of the city is considered in the light of a tragedy in certain circles. That is no way to treat a self-respecting sewer.

HIGHER EDUCATION

Getting the children started off to school used to merely reduce the mothers to tears, but now it also reduces the fathers to something like insolvency.

PRACTICAL ATHLETICS

Athletics have great practical, everyday value. When you suddenly see a reckless motorist bearing down on you, for instance, not even thorough knowledge of Latin and Greek is so valuable as the ability to jump fourteen feet from a standing start.

CHANGE PARTNERS

The San Diego dance-hall prohibition ordinance has been held illegal by a high court. The ordinance forbade the employment of "dancing partners." It seems that it is practically impossible to indulge the habit without a dancing partner and she is going to be on hand whether she is employed or not.

FEW KILLINGS

London is still the largest city in the world. It has a population exceeding 7,000,000 souls, yet it is cited that there were only sixteen murders in the British metropolis last year. Two or three of these are still mysteries so far as the identity of the killer is concerned, but it is significant that in eight cases the murderer committed suicide. That is because punishment is sure in England when the slayer is found. It is different in this country.

YOUNG AMERICA ABROAD

Paris is said to be filling up with young Americans. It is said that nearly all of the dissipations of the Montmartre section are in the keeping of students and others from the States. It takes the boys from Philadelphia to teach the Apache how to be wild. The American invasion is said to be a noisy one. While the visitors are spending a lot of money the Frenchmen are not certain that it makes up for the disturbance they make.

WOMEN AND WORDS

In some of the Paris restaurants and brokerage offices women are denied the use of the phones between the hours of 10 in the morning and 4 o'clock in the afternoon. This is largely because their gossiping and visiting over the wire gummed up business so that the stock speculators could not get quick action. The telephone is not as numerous in France as in this country and when it is working perhaps there are numbers waiting for the opportunity to use it. That is a bit hard on the ladylike habit of visiting over the wire.

WATER EVERYWHERE

According to the local budget of accomplishments, an average of a mile of water mains is being laid every day in our lovely city. Last year was a leap year and it is significant that the mileage of pipe laid by the water department as new mains was 366. All the fresh subdivisions start out with water and other utilitarian equipment. We start clean, anyhow. An average of 172,000,000 gallons of water is being used every day and there will be plenty to go 'round for years ahead. There is no desire to waste water, but there is no shortage. A mile of new mains every day is pretty good for a dry town.

NO BULGAR BOB

In Bulgaria the government's educational authorities recently issued a decree forbidding schoolgirls to shingle or bob their hair. If any such edict were applied in this country we might have a new government before night. In Bulgaria a few revolutions more or less do not count. But the Bulgars do keep a grip on their girls. They are not even allowed to wear real short skirts or wander around in bathing suits. There are even local ordinances which check the wearing of silk stockings by women. There seems to be a determined attempt on the part of the Bulgars to have their ladies dress modestly and practice economy. In the existing condition of national finances they pretty nearly have to.

ANOTHER FAILURE

Despite the will to peace that inspires the thoughts and actions of so many millions in all parts of the world, the annual session of the League of Nations, which convened in Geneva yesterday, does not give promise of accomplishing what the friends of international arbitration had hoped for it. No actual progress has been made since the last annual session in compromising the controversies that keep Germany out of the League, and that impair in other directions its usefulness.

Cables from London indicate that the British Cabinet is not inclined to agree to the kind of security pact that France desires. The British government will not consent to place its army and navy at the service of the League. It will not agree to guarantee the frontiers of Poland and Czecho-Slovakia, will not agree in advance to support France if the latter goes to the aid of her Little Entente allies in a conflict with Germany or Russia.

The Baldwin government is determined to avoid entangling commitments. It desires to reserve its decision until an overt action shall actually take place. It declines to permit France to be the judge of what constitutes an act of aggression on the part of Germany.

Berlin cables are firm in the assurance that Germany will not enter the League under the terms of the lately proffered invitation. Under these terms she would be required to open her frontiers to the passage of French armies desiring to cooperate in military activities with Poland and Czecho-Slovakia against Russia. France has demanded this privilege as the price of voting for Germany's admission to the League. The Hindenburg government is prepared to make a categorical refusal.

To state the situation in other terms, the politicians of Europe have made another bungle of their conferences and deliberations. They have stirred racial jealousies and animosities in place of appeasing them. The only spirit of tolerance is displayed by the British statesmen. Germany and France face each other in a spirit of mutual defiance and distrust. France is determined that Germany shall not get what Germany wants, and Germany is determined that France will not get what France wants. The attempt of the British government to act the part of the umpire in the dispute has caused her representatives to be suspected by both.

While Germany's membership in the League will be discussed during the present session, observers on the ground are unanimous in the opinion that no agreement will be reached for the present under which Germany will become a member of the League. The politicians have reached a state of what might be compared to a stalemate. All that has been accomplished is a tacit agreement to disagree.

Meanwhile, the reconstruction of Western and Central Europe will be seriously retarded by the present political animosities. Trade and industry will suffer. Poverty will increase; and there will be millions of willing but idle hands among the peoples because their governments are politically mismanaged. The one solution seems to be some plan to get the questions at dispute out of the hands of the politicians and into the hands of financial and economic experts. Something akin to the Dawes agreement must be negotiated, and that will not take place while the governments continue to send to conference political representatives.

One cannot avoid a feeling of dejection when one compares what might be done with what probably will be done. But it is a case where the regeneration must come from within. So long as European hearts are filled with hatred and schemes for a revenge of violence, European governments will continue their mutually destructive policy. No pacts or legal forms can avail until the spirit of peace penetrates more deeply into the mass of the people.

Perhaps the peoples of Europe have not yet wakened from the stupor of exhaustion into which they sank at the close of the World War. They still sleep and are dreaming troubled dreams. Is it possible that a generation must pass before the final awakening, that most of the sleepers shall pass away in their slumber, that their lives shall end without ever attaining even a view of the promised land of universal peace?

HOW TO STAY MARRIED

Both in America and Europe governmental investigation as to the causes of the tremendous increase in divorce makes plain the fact that a large percentage of this increase is due to discontent on the part of the wife. In England, according to a report by the British royal commission on divorce, this discontent begins to manifest itself in a more marked way after five or six years of marriage than it does during the first two or three years. The eighth, say these sage authorities, is the most dangerous year in the marital adventure. Keep the fires of love burning for nine years and they are not so likely to be extinguished after that. Wear the yoke of wedlock for fifteen years and it easily may be worn for fifty, if ripe old age be given to both contracting parties.

In its recent survey of divorce matters in this country, our Census Bureau has not gone so far as all that, but it may do so later in order to provide a better working basis for the tackling of the tremendous problem presented by the alarming increase in disrupted marriages. And surely the big jump from one divorce to sixteen marriages in 1890 to one in seven last year is something to be concerned about.

Benjamin P. Chass, a writer on social and economic subjects, says that it is because woman has gone into office and shop and taken her place beside man that she has become more independent of him. She is increasingly insistent upon her rights after marriage. Those many things which her position forced her to suffer and tolerate yesterday she refuses to suffer and tolerate today. Mr. Chass finds in the restlessness and irresponsibility of the age in which we live marked causes for divorce. He asserts that many young people regard marriage as something to be rushed into and out of without much thought of consequences.

Years ago Alfred Russell Wallace saw the change coming. He said: "Woman's new-found ability to hold her own in business and industry is one of the greatest blessings yet worked for mankind. Her independence will help her to bide her time and not to marry until the right man presents himself."

As there are now 9,000,000 women in this country engaged in gainful occupations, it is to be assumed from the foregoing that there is a great army of women waiting for the right men, and it is to be hoped that they will find them and keep them. For nothing militates so much against the social welfare of the race as unhappy marriages.

"How to Stay Married" is a theme upon which our magazine writers frequently have discoursed, but what they write is often taken with no more seriousness by wedded couples than a colyumist's observations on "How to Tell the Birds from the Flowers." And yet the advice given by the writers to unhappily married people often is very good, including, as it generally does, wise admonitions as to the practice of patience and forbearance on the part of husband and wife in their daily intercourse.

Of course not all of the art of living contentedly together is contained in the practice of patience and forbearance. There must also be loving service, ready sacrifice and an attitude of trust. Where husband and wife trust each other fully and are not selfish or suspicious, and at the same time make due allowances for shortcomings, happiness usually results. If this treatment were general the sad condition which is seen in that fatal ratio of one divorce to seven marriages would not much longer stand as a blot upon our social system.

ANTI-SOCIAL CITIZENS

Both those who expect the world to be converted presently to Communistic doctrines and those who fear that it might would do well to study the habits and characteristics of the people who make up this world.

One good thing about the study of human nature is that there is always plenty of material right at hand. One need not go to the far ends of the earth to prosecute one's studies.

The meaning of the term "communism" varies in accordance with the views of whoever uses it, but in the abstract it connotes a state of society which is based upon the common ownership and enjoyment of those commodities, utilities and resources which are essential to life and necessary for the pursuit of happiness.

With such a radical alteration in the social structure there would of necessity have to come a corresponding change in the viewpoint of the people; they would need to think socially rather than individually; they would be continually required to sink their personal inclinations in the interests of the community.

Now let us see how far the people of Los Angeles have progressed along the road to Communism—for, strange as it may seem, certain projects of more or less Communistic nature have been in effect here for some time.

Take the city parks, for instance. Under no system of Communism, or any other ism, would they be more free than they are now. Every person is welcome to enjoy them to the limit of his capacity without let or hindrance and without being required to ask permission of anyone.

But have the people sunk their individual thoughtlessness sufficiently to assure even this limited experiment in Communism a measure of success?

It must be admitted that they have not. Take Westlake Park as an example. It is a beautiful oasis in a desert of asphalt, brick and concrete—velvet lawns, palm-shaded walks, music every evening, numerous benches and a fine lake in the center. It not only provides a healthful breathing spot for people who must work in office buildings and live in apartment-houses, but by its charm ministers to their esthetic sense, so often starved through lack of contact with the beauties of nature.

One would think that even the most rudimentary sense of public spirit might suggest that each do his part to keep the park clean. Yet such is not the case. Westlake Park toward the end of the evening is a sorry scene. Although convenient receptacles are provided for refuse, the sward is thickly littered with newspapers and the remains of lunch bags. For one person who puts waste paper in the refuse can hundreds merely drop theirs wherever they may happen to be. It requires little effort to pick up one's own refuse, and less thought—but that little thought is lacking.

Just About It
by James J. Montague

THE ROUND OF LIFE.

On Monday I am light of heart
  For life seems fair and sweet,
As from my cottage I depart
  To drive about the street.
Hard on the throttle do I tread
  While driving into town
And 'round about me radiance shed,
  For gas is going down.

On Tuesday little joy I find,
  I trolley to my work
And trolley home, and in my mind
  The worst forebodings lurk.
The coffee that for lunch I drink
  Is bitter in the cup.
The future looms as black as ink
  For gas is going up.

On Sunday I take out my car,
  And ride for miles and miles,
And greet the public near and far
  With glad and happy smiles.
I shout at motorists I pass;
  And all within my ken
Seems bright and beautiful, for gas
  Is coming down again.

Next Monday likely I'll be low
  And hoard my every cent.
I'll take it as a cruel blow,
  If one must needs be spent.
My neighbor's smiles I shall not heed,
  I'll be morose and sore,
For in the papers I shall read:
  "GAS GOING UP ONCE MORE!"

PAY IT

If you owe an honest debt,
  Brother, you must pay it;
Though by cares you are beset,
  Never once must you forget
That your promise must be met;
  Never once delay it.

If a debt of love you owe
  To a fellow-mortal,
Pay it in the summer's glow,
Ere you see the winter snow;
Pay it ere you're called to go
  Through the heavenly portal.

If you owe a tender word
  To a friend beside you,
Speak it as a cheery bird
In the morning woodland heard;
Speak it while the heart is stirred,
  Ere the grave shall hide you.

LETTERS TO The Times

The Athenian's Vow

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Athenian's vow, in view of recent developments in "high places" and in response to Justice Hughes before the Bar Association, if ed and practiced by Angelenos, might prove a fine tonic and stimulant for our own community also. Here it is: "We will never disgrace on this our city by any act of dishonesty or cowardice ever desert our suffering comrades; we will uphold the ideals and cred things of the city, both alone and with many; we will revere obey the city's laws and do our best to arouse like reverence in who are prone to set them at naught. We will strive to quicken the sense of public duty. All this will we do that our country may come not weaker, but greater, better and more beautiful than when received it."

A writer in Comment says: "Such was the vow made in olden time by every young citizen of Athens, the most beautiful city of Greece. So long as they kept this oath their country was free and great. The children grew up with the most beautiful bodies of any people in the world, and those beautiful bodies supported the minds of the greatest thinkers, poets, philosophers and artists the world has known. We, as they, are free; and though our country is larger than Greece, measured by miles, it really is more of a unit than was the small land of Greece, and its citizens communicate with each other easily and constantly."

The morale of this fair city has been frightfully lowered of late and everybody is aghast! However, it may be but a distemper of the body politic and not a permanent virus. Let each one examine and arouse himself and neighbor from an easy-going stupor or the lethargy of luxury. "Eternal vigilance" is the price. ANSON B. EDGERLY.

Ward System Condemned

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I desire to commend your attitude with reference to the iniquitous ward system recently adopted in Los Angeles and your fearless denunciation of a method of electing Councilmen, which is so fraught with evil that it should be apparent to all right-thinking people and forfeit their support.

In every large city there are wards in which the ignorant and lawless element predominates and they elect their representatives, while under the system of electing Councilmen at large the grafters find it more difficult to get representation in the City Council.

If we would all devote a little more thought and endeavor to the establishment of clean, honest government locally and nationally, manifest more interest in the spiritual development and welfare of our country, safeguard the interests of our fellow-man equally with our own, and a little less interest in materialism and personal gain, the effect would be a more satisfying and enduring return and greater prosperity for all.
R. M. STROTHER.

A Sphinxian Riddle

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Being a comparative stranger in your fair city, I am "harassed by doubt" by reason of strange things that happen here. For instance, the police, at the suggestion of a corporation manager, set a trap for two aldermen, who as a result are indicted for soliciting a bribe. Does the corporation raise the salary of the manager in recognition of his services to the public? No, the corporation fires the manager. Does the City Council pass a vote of thanks to the manager for bravely upholding the cause of public honesty? No, the Council proceeds to revoke the privileges theretofore granted to the manager for the benefit of his corporation. Why does the corporation fire the manager? Presumably because he has "got in bad" with the City Council. Why does the City Council revoke the privileges that have been granted him for his corporation? Presumably for the same reason. But why, in the name of heaven, should his action, apparently so highly meritorious, get the manager in bad with the City Council?
C. E. SACKETT.

Not a Democrat

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The "son of the first Governor of Idaho" has, to his mind, definitely settled the question as to the exalted position which Mr. Wilson is to occupy in history and certainly he is not modest because he asserts Mr. Wilson will live in "history with Lincoln and Washington," evidently meaning their equals. The writer hereof is a son of a pioneer who raised pumpkins and corn in that glorious State of Iowa; so the editor will understand there is some honor in giving space to my letter also.

"Mr. Wilson, Lincoln and Washington stand equal before the American nation?" Well, just wait and see what cold historical facts will do for Mr. Wilson when handled by an honest historian; possibly Franklin Pierce, James Buchanan and Woodrow Wilson will stand about equal before the people of the United States as to ability; however, many believe the greatest mistake that this nation ever made was when Wilson was elected President.
JAMES A. GUEST.

Just Call 'Em "Reds"

FULLERTON, Aug. 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Allow me to thank you most cordially for the good article printed in your esteemed publication on Wednesday, August 26, with respect to activities in Georgia, Trans-Caucasia, of a certain Bolshevik Peter or Peter the Hangman.

May I take this opportunity of pointing out to you as one who is himself a Georgian, probably the only one in California, that Stalin, the dictator of soviets, is not a Georgian.

As his family name implies, he is an Ossetian of the Northern Caucasus, or he may be one of the mountain tribe of Jews, immigrated to Georgia in ancient ◆times. Furthermore, the in Georgia in 1924 were not trated by Peter or Stalin, but Otarbekian, Miasnikian, Moghilevsky and Shulman. first two of them are the third is a genuine or of Kronstaad and the Jews.

The historical problem the Great was to find the south, and the trigues played with this view have been the Russian statesmen and those of the present-day at the head of the soviets.

NOTED SOLDIER TO AID ORPHANS

Warrior Under Many Flags Passes Through Port

Veteran of Sixteen Wars to Assist in Drive

Renown Gained in African and Mexican Battles

One of the few surviving members of the old school of soldiers of fortune, Melville Boynton, general and veteran of sixteen wars, passed through port yesterday on the liner City of Panama, en route to San Francisco to aid the American Legion's drive for funds for orphans.

He is returning from his latest adventure, the search for the lost city of Bacis. But after six months' hiking and digging in the wilds of Chihuahua and Michoacan, Mex., Bacis remains still merely a legendary seat of ancient learning, antedating the Moya, Toltec and Aztec civilizations. Library research had indicated in a misty way that Bacis lay buried in Chihuahua or Michoacan, but the general's exploring, he said, has convinced him that if the city exists at all, it will be found on the western slope of the Sierra Madres in Sinaloa, and he will proceed there this autumn to renew his search.

FOUGHT UNDER SMUTS

It is about the first diversion from the profession of arms the general has indulged in since he left his New Hampshire home as a youngster about forty years ago. Readers of recent times may recall Boynton as the British general under Gen. Smuts during the World War, whose forces carved their way through 800 miles of papyrus marshes and crushed German East African forces.

"I got this permanent wave when a dum-dum hit my helmet in that mix-up," he said, pointing to a crease running the length of his head. He also bears a stiff left arm from another bullet.

Followers of Mexico's travail may recall the Boynton who, as Gen. Francisco Madero's military adviser, knew so much about machine guns that Porfirio Diaz renounced the Presidential chair in haste.

"Why did you later quit Mexico?" he was asked.

"A good poker player knows when to lay down his hand," was the general's rejoiner.

He has nineteen decorations. He has fought in all these countries: Brazil (twice,) Uruguay, Chile, Peru, Bolivia, Colombia, Venezuela, Cuba, Nicaragua, Honduras, Mexico, Morea, Manchuria in the Japanese army in 1904-1905; France, Belgium, British East Africa, Uganda, Belgian Congo, Portuguese East Africa and German East Africa.

HOMECOMING FALLS FLAT

Years ago, when the general had collected his first big batch of decorations, he said, he returned to his little home town in New Hampshire—"to give them a treat, be met by the band and everything." Only one old-timer was at the railway station. He walked up to the general and said:

"Melville, what are all those tin doodads on your coat?"

Yesterday the gray-whiskered "Garibaldi" as he is known, shrugged his shoulders, and said: "So are the soldier of fortune's fortunes of war."

In addition to his war decorations the adventurer has scores of mementos from afar. He wears a watch presented by Advance Post 266 of the American Legion, given in "appreciation of his faithful services." He bears an odd device showing that the Tarascan Indian tribe in Mexico made him a blood brother in 1922.

He is now forming the Soldiers of Fortune Post No. 10 of the American Legion at Guadalajara, Mex., which, he says, is attracting a picturesque group of men.

"Will you ever fight again?" he was asked.

"I hold commissions now in the reserves in five nations. If America goes in, yes. The others? To save my life I can't tell which I'd fight for?" the general grinned.

Girl Inspects Hospital, Then Takes Poison

After making a preliminary visit to the Receiving Hospital yesterday evening, presumably for inspection, Gertrude Hemsen, 21 years of age of 1165 Echo Park avenue, returned to the hospital after having taken poison.

While visiting at the home of her sister, 2941 Whittier Boulevard, she complained of being violently ill. She was rushed to the hospital where physicians failed to find anything wrong.

Later in the evening the ambulance was called to 1164 Echo Park avenue. The young woman was returned to the hospital to be treated for poison. Her condition is not serious.

She would vouchsafe only the information that she had been despondent over a love affair, giving no details.

NEGRO BELLES APPEAR IN BATHING PARADE

A negro bathing beauty parade, the first, it is said, ever held in Southern California and believed by its sponsors to be the first in the country, was the feature of the picnic of the Pacific Beach Club at Pacific Beach, a mile and a half east of Huntington Beach, yesterday afternoon. The picnic was given by the Pacific Beach Club, a negro organization. More than 5000 picnickers saw the parade. Thirty bathing beauties were entered for the contest, but this number was greatly increased by the admission of last-minute volunteers. First prize of $100 and a silver cup went to Mildred Boyd. Anna Washington took second prize, $50 and a cup; Hasel Davis third prize, $25, and cup; Dale Thompson, fourth prize, a cup; Maybelle Adams, fifth prize, a basket of flowers.

Three children, Vestibule Jackson, Fred Baker and Buvalda Ballard, were given cups.

DEATH ENDS ILLNESS OF LOCAL MAN

Funeral Services Will be Conducted Here Today for Well-Known Angeleno

Charles Laurens Morris, 30 years of age, well-known advertising man and husband of Mrs. Margaret Messer Morris, lyric soprano, died suddenly yesterday at the White Memorial Hospital following an illness of several days.

Morris was operated on Friday for appendicitis. The fact that peritonitis had set in prior to the operation hastened his death.

Beside his widow he leaves his father, Prof. Charles Morris, instructor at the Los Angeles High School; mother and two brothers, Robert and Samuel Morris.

The deceased was a prominent member of the Kiwanis Club, serving at one time as secretary. At the time of his death he was a member of the board of directors. He was a native of Indiana and had been a resident of Los Angeles for sixteen years. He was an ex-service man.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of the Reed Bros. Company, 721 West Washington street. Rev. Benjamin Haywood, pastor of the Wilshire Methodist Church, will officiate.

The pallbearers will be the officers and members of the board of the Kiwanis: Sam A. Bishop, president; Brook Hawkins, vice-president; Charles E. Millikan, second vice-president; Charles E. Arnn, secretary, and Dr. Ernest G. Bashor, Herbert Bigelow, Harold G. Ferguson, R. H. Taylor, Judge Ira F. Thompson, Joseph Light and William Bottom. Honorary pallbearers will be the past presidents of the Kiwanis Club, who include F. R. Feitshans, Del Sweitser, William R. Baker, Otho Ferris, Paul Jesberg, Fred Everts, Harold Redpath, Austin Taylor, Dr. W. H. Snyder, O. C. Kingsley, F. A. Young and Clyde Shoemaker.

Police Locate Wife of Man Shot by 'Friend'

Mrs. Naomi Fields, wife of Elmer F. Fields, who was taken to the Receiving Hospital Saturday with a bullet wound in his chest, the result, he told police, of an argument with a friend, was located last night in San Bernardino. Fields was shot a few hours after his arrival from Enid, Okla., to join his wife here.

When informed her husband had been shot, Mrs. Fields is reported to have remarked: "I told him not to come at all, but he came on anyway."

Fields first had informed police he had shot himself in a fit of despondency over the failure of his wife to meet him. Later he admitted being shot by a friend, and refused to prosecute him. He is now in the General Hospital, where, it is said, he will recover.

Hunt Missing Hollywood Man in Oregon City

Search for Miles Overholt, former newspaper man, who recently disappeared from his Hollywood home supposedly while suffering from amnesia, shifted to Portland yesterday, according to dispatches from the north. So far the search has been unsuccessful.

Overholt was on the staff of the Oregon Journal several years ago and his wife enlisted the aid of the paper in her search for her husband. A wire from her to the paper yesterday said she had received a wire from her husband in Portland, but that no return address was given. The Overholt baby was reported to be ill and crying for its father.

CIRCUS TICKETS ON SALE AT DRUG STORE

Beginning this morning, tickets for the coming four-day engagement of Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus will be placed on sale at the Owl Drug Store, Sixth and Broadway. There will be no premium on the tickets, the prices being the same as charged at the show grounds. The circus is due in Los Angeles next Saturday morning from Santa Barbara. The opening performance of the four-day local stay takes place at Prager Park that afternoon.

STUDY CLUB TO MEET

The Shakespeare Study and Dramatic Club will hold its first meeting of the year this evening at the home of Mrs. C. Rouse, 1211 West Thirty-sixth Place. Frederick Bertrand, actor, formerly with Mrs. Fiske and Mr. Mansfield, will lead the discussion on "Hamlet."

WIDOW SUES MINISTER TO ANNUL GIFT

Charges Misrepresentation Induced Her to Execute Conveyance of Property

Charging Elert A. Hill, said to be a minister, and Pauline Hill with employing false representations in order to induce her to deed them her property, Mrs. Della Needham, a widow, has filed suit in Superior Court to set aside a deed to property she values at $15,000.

For several months, Mrs. Needham declared, Hill had been her religious and spiritual adviser. She declared the defendants told her she was incompetent to manage her property and that it was her duty as a religious and good woman to use her property for the benefit of unfortunate human beings.

The defendants were declared to have told her they were engaged in helping unfortunates, that they had a very nice home where discord and disagreement never entered and that if she would deed them her property she could live with them in peace and happiness for the remainder of her life, doing only such things about the house as her conscience dictated.

Mrs. Needham stated she accepted the proposition April 22, last, and lived in the home of the defendants for a period of two months. During this time, she said, she learned all the asserted representations of the defendants were false. Instead of wishing to help unfortunates, the complaint charged, the defendants were interested only in obtaining the property of the plaintiff for their own personal gain.

In place of peace and happiness, Mrs. Needham asserted, she found turmoil in the home of the Hills. The defendants were alleged to have quarreled between themselves, to have been un-Christianlike in their conduct and to have compelled the plaintiff to do menial housework. August 15, last, Mrs. Needham said, she demanded the return of her property but the defendants were asserted to have refused to accede to her request.

Mrs. Needham asked that the deed of conveyance be canceled and that she be adjudged the owner of the property, which is located in Elysian Gardens. Her complaint was prepared by Attorney Will H. Light.

PREACHER PASSES AT HOME HERE

Veteran Minister of West and South Dies at Home in Los Angeles

Rev. W. H. Bagby, veteran Christian minister, who had held posts in many cities of the South and West, died yesterday at his home at 310 Westminster avenue. He was a native of Fulton, Mo., and was 70 years of age. He was active until his retirement a year ago, when he was pastor of the Christian Church at Azusa.

In early youth Rev. Bagby dedicated his life to the ministry and was graduated from the old Add-Ran College in Fort Worth (now Texas Christian University.) He served churches in Missouri and Texas in early manhood, later being pastor of churches in Denver, Salt Lake City, Phoenix and other western cities. He came to California eleven years ago and served the Inglewood Christian Church and the Azusa Church.

He leaves a widow, Laura Herring Bagby, two sons, Fred L. of Salt Lake City, and Lindsey of Douglas, Ariz., and two sisters, Mrs. J. B. Strickland of Liberal, Kan., and Mrs. Isham Beazley of Nailor, Mo.

Funeral services are being arranged. They will be in charge of Rev. C. C. Sinclair, pastor of the Magnolia Avenue Christian Church.

Checks Cashed on Former Trip Jail Man Here

Bad checks amounting to $1600, which he is said to have passed on a previous visit to Los Angeles, yesterday caused the arrest of Leon Fromkess, 22 years of age, a crockery salesman, representing a New York firm, according to Asst. Capt. Mailheau of the detective bureau, who took him in charge.

Mailheau said Fromkess passed the checks at the Alexandria and the Ambassador and then took a trip to Miami, Fla., where he used the name of Leon Strauss. In the meantime, said the detective, the checks were returned unpaid.

WED AT MIDNIGHT

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Sept. 7.—Rev. S. E. Galloway, "marrying pastor" of the Church of the Nazarine of Venice, was called on to perform a wedding ceremony about midnight Friday when Arthur Etnier, an engineer in the Los Angeles County Supervisor's office, and Maud Isabel Waite, 408 Brooks avenue, called at the parsonage and asked him to perform the ceremony. After a short honeymoon, the couple expect to make their home in Venice.

STATE'S COTTON WEALTH GAINING

Federal Expert Sees Great Future for Industry

This Year's Planting More Than 200,000 Acres

Perennial Variety Sought by La Jolla Station

California is destined to become one of the most important cotton-producing States in the Union, as constantly increasing land areas adapted to this staple are brought under irrigation, according to T. H. Kearney of Washington, senior physiologist of the Bureau of Plant Industry of the United States Agricultural Department.

Mr. Kearney, who arrived at the Alexandria yesterday, has specialized in the development of cotton and is at present conducting experiments with different types of the cotton plant at the recently established government experiment station at Torrey Pines near La Jolla.

YEAR-ROUND LOCATION

"The station was located at this place because it is one of the few spots in the country where the cotton plant can be grown the year around," said Mr. Kearney. "We are making tests with types from all parts of the world where cotton grows in an endeavor to develop the varieties best adapted to the different sections of the State.

"It is probable that eventually a variety will be found that can be grown in the virtually frostless parts of California without annual replanting," Mr. Kearney said. "Perennial varieties flourish in some parts of the world, in many instances attaining a height of twenty feet and producing a crop annually," he explained. "These types are mainly confined to the more fancy varieties, however, and it is not likely they will ever form the bulk of the commercial crop, even in California."

HIGH-GRADE PRODUCT

This year the area devoted to cotton in this State amounts to about 200,000 acres, and Mr. Kearney said the product is of exceptionally high grade. "Acala cotton, one of the most favorably known short-fibered varieties, is being produced with unusual success in the San Joaquin Valley," he said, "while the Imperial Valley is specializing in the long-fiber Egyptian.

"California is to be commended on the attention it pays to cotton growing. Not only has the rigid quarantine maintained here kept out the boll weevil, but laws have been enacted restricting certain types of cotton to certain specified areas. This is a measure the Agricultural Department has advocated for years in connection with cotton growing. Allowing several different varieties to be grown in the same section always results in an inferior product."

Mr. Kearney is credited with having developed the famous Pima cotton, grown extensively in the Salt River Valley of Arizona. This is a variant of the Egyptian, and is characterized by a longer fiber than any other variety of cotton grown in the United States.

FATALITY ASCRIBED TO POISON

Autopsy Discloses Cause in Mysterious Death of Ouida Tisdale as Drug

Ouida Tisdale, who died a week ago under mysterious circumstances, was a victim of poisoning, probably self-administered, Autopsy Surgeon Wagner yesterday reported to Deputy Coroner Childs. It was said an inquest may be ordered by Coroner Nance. Miss Tisdale was 21 years of age, and lived with her mother, Mrs. Eleanor Jenner, at 739 South Mariposa avenue.

According to Detective Lieutenants Luke and Friedenberg, Miss Tisdale took poison a week before her death, but was revived. The following Friday night she again became unconscious and remained so until the night of August 31, when she died. An attending physician expressed the opinion that pneumonia, caused in part by an overdose of veronal, brought about death but declined to sign a death certificate.

Miss Tisdale is said to have had a quarrel with C. W. Harvey, an employee of the E. J. Miley Oil Company, for which company she was a stenographer, prior to taking the first potion. The detectives said she obtained more poison, but this was denied by her mother.

Chest Training Business Girls in Art Branches

Artistic pursuits are occupying the attention of the Los Angeles Business Girls' Club, one of the 125 agencies of the Community Chest.

A course in vocational training has been instituted through which it is hoped that the standard of working girls' ability will be elevated.

An old garage, adjoining the picturesque clubhouse at 1307 Allesandro street has been transformed from a "junk shop" to a cozy studio where the girls of the club will be taught sewing, designing, carving, tying and dying, batik work and every possible foundation which will later make them self-sustaining and independent.

On November 9 the Chest will launch its second annual appeal for funds with which to maintain 125 welfare agencies, which operate throughout Los Angeles, during the ensuing year.

The Los Angeles Business Girls' Club is the only residence club in the city specializing in girls under 21 years of age who are minimum wage earners or apprentice girls coming from broken homes. When, through loss of job or illness, a girl is unable to pay her board, this club, with the help of the Chest, maintains her nevertheless.

Former Denver Attorney Dies at Local Hotel

Charles Elbert Stubbs, former Colorado State Senator and prominent attorney of Denver, died at the Ambassador Sunday. He was 66 years of age and had been a a resident of Los Angeles for three years.

He was knighted by the King of the Belgians with the Order of the Crown in 1911, for services rendered as representative of the United States Department of Agriculture. He was a prominent member of the Elks.

Burial will be at Fairfield, Iowa, where he was born. He leaves a widow, May Logan Stubbs; his mother, Mrs. D. T. Stubbs, 93 years of age, and his stepson, Logan S. Metcalf, all living at the Ambassador; a sister, Mrs. D. T. Bradley, and a brother, O. D. Stubbs, both living in Iowa; and a daughter, Mrs. John Wooden of Des Moines.

LOCOMOTIVE TAKES DAY OFF

Celebrates Annual Holiday by Turning Lazily on Back in Nice Soft Bed of Sand

Union Pacific switch engine No. 4231 celebrated Labor Day yesterday with entire propriety by reclining in a soft sand bed of its own choosing the better part of the holiday and then retiring to a Union Pacific engine hospital for further relaxation.

The huge engine began its Labor Day celebration a little early. Late Sunday afternoon, as it was proceeding down the Bandini spur near the Union Stock Yards, it was apparently inspired to gymnastic feats by thoughts of the forthcoming holiday.

It attempted a somersault in the manner recommended by the best schools of physical culture. The somersault, however, was not a complete success. The engine brought up in a ditch with a crasch and roar of escaping steam and then pillowed its head in the sand bank and proceeded to take it easy.

A crew of workmen, headed by H. A. Heath, Union Pacific wrecking foreman, set to work on the obstreperous engine yesterday morning. By dint of much pulling, hauling and bracing, aided by a huge derrick, they succeeded in dragging the engine from the niche of soft sand bed yesterday afternoon and sent it away for repairs.

Engineer J. F. Crozier and Fireman T. Reintjes escaped the accident without a scratch.

Y.M.C.A. Will Start Class in Memory Work

Wives won't have to tie strings around husband's fingers any more to keep them from forgetting to mail that letter.

The "Y" schools are predicting this happy situation as a result of the course in memory training that is to open at Central Y.M.C.A. Building, 715 South Hope street, this evening at 7 o'clock under the instruction of David M. Roth, who will give the first of a course of six lessons, open to both women and men.

The classes will meet Tuesdays and Fridays. This is the first time in the five years that Mr. Roth has lived in Los Angeles that he has consented to give personal instruction to a course, he stated yesterday.

A commercial course, by C. E. Cross, for Tuesday and Thursdays, including a special typing demonstration on Thursday afternoon will begin this week.

Public lectures on "Relations of Organization and Finance," by H. A. I. Wolch, of the State Corporation Department, and H. W. Mills, C.P.A., are to be given on Thursday evening.

Building construction, preparing for the civil service and State board examinations and which will take up the various city building regulations and specifications, will begin Thursday, under C. W. Cook, architectural engineer.

A public speaking class for men on Friday evening and another for women on the following Tuesday are to be given by Clayton R. Rogers.

Keyhole Lock Inventor Sues for Accounting

In a suit on file in the Federal Court, John E. Bailey and Wendell Logg seek an accounting and an injunction against William B. Cather, formerly their partner in a venture known as the Automatic Keyhole Lock Company of Los Angeles.

According to the complaint, each of the men named held a third interest in the concern, dating back to June 15, 1924. On August 8, 1924, according to the complaint, Logg was granted letters patent on the lock, his invention, and Cather was taken into the partnership to organize the company and sell the locks. Cather is accused in the complaint of having appropriated the funds of the company, established himself as the Automatic Keyhole Lock Company, and to have deprived the inventor and Bailey of their rights.

Fleeing Driver Arrested After Street Chase

A chase of several blocks, police said, yesterday resulted in the arrest of B. L. Hines, 30 years of age, of 819¼ West Santa Barbara avenue, on a "hit-and-run" charge. Hines, it was said, ran into a car containing Miss Laurie Reyolds, 24 years of age, of 456 Centennial street, and Pasqual Diosdago, 23, of 726 Camden Drive, Beverly Hills, at First street and Benton Way, causing it to overturn. He extricated himself and his car from the wreck, it was said, and drove on. L. A. Watts, 677 South Westlake avenue, pursued him about a dozen blocks, it was said, and forced Hines to return, where he was arrested by Officers Lewis and Ryall.

Miss Reynolds, Diosdago and Hines were all treated at Receiving Hospital for minor injuries.

POISONED WOMAN IN HOSPITAL

Found Unconscious in Her Room at Hotel Following Supposed Veronal Dose

A woman about 50 years of age, who registered at the Nason Hotel, 6427 Sunset Boulevard, as Miss A. Maurice, was taken to Receiving Hospital yesterday, apparently suffering from veronal poisoning. Police found in her room a bottle that had contained ten tablets of the drug, but none remained.

No papers or marks of identification were found among her effects and there were not even laundry marks in her clothing, police said. She was found unconscious about 4:30 p.m. by Miss Lena Parks, manager of the hotel. She registered at the hotel Friday, it was said. Hollywood police are investigating.

Chiropractors Convene Here Next Thursday

Among the speakers will be Dr. Charles H. Wood, president of the California State Chiropractic Society; Dr. George Starr White of Los Angeles; Dr. Henry Duncan McFarland of Los Angeles, member of the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners; Dr. Gustave Haas, president of the Southern California Division of the American Naturopathic Association; Dr. Philip M. Lovell, editor of the Los Angeles Times' column "Care of the Body;" Dr. David Gustason, plastic surgeon; Dr. Henry Forbes, Dr. Frank I. Shigihara of Japan; Dr. Norman Sprague, superintendent of the Los Angeles Osteopathic Hospital, and Dr. Christopher C. Gleaves, lecturer of New York and London.

SCHOOL OPENS TONIGHT

Night school will open at the Buchanan-street school at 7 o'clock tonight. Classes will be held Tuesdays and Thursdays, with courses in English grammar and composition, spelling and arithmetic.

LIGHTING POSTS ASKED

The installation of ornamental lighting posts on Glendale Boulevard, from Sunset Boulevard to Effie street, has been asked of the City Council and the proceedings ordered prepared.

ULYSSES TO FACE IRATE PENELOPE

Wife Accuses Husband of Blows and Declares He Moved into Garage

When Ulysses S. Daniels tired of the "pent-up Utica" of his house, he did not go wandering off to the wars and to adventures with far-away Circes.

He simply moved out into the garage, according to the tale told by his wife, Blanche M. Daniels, in her complaint for divorce. And when she, a sorrowing Penelope, besought his return to the fireside, he gruffly replied: "Here I am; let's see you get me back into the house."

A stirring Odyssey of married life is awaiting the ears of some Superior Court judge, according to Mrs. Daniels's complaint, for she proposes to show that her husband beat her, knocked her down, stunned her and finally hurled her through a picket fence.

City Free From Paralysis Cases Over Week-End

No new cases of infantile paralysis were reported in Los Angeles either Sunday or yesterday, according to an announcement made yesterday at the quarantine office of the city health department.

The official records at the city health office show that the total number of cases since January 1, last, is 175, and that the total for the present month to date is eight cases. The official total number of cases last week was eight, and for last month was fifty-one.

HUNT MADE FOR TRIO OF LOST GIRLS

Three Local Children Missing from Homes Since Last Saturday

Under direction of Capt. George S. McCrary, head of the juvenile bureau, police are conducting a vigorous search for three girls missing since Saturday. The girls are Lily May Bryan, 14 years of age; Helen Gordon, 12, and Patricia Madison, 16. All live in Belvedere Gardens district.

About the only information available in connection with their disappearance is the statement of Mrs. Ethel Gordon, 1527 Ricker street, mother of Helen, that her daughter did not return home after cashing a check for $89 at a bank in the district.

The Bryan girl lives at 1164 San Antonio street.

KELLY FOR GIRLS NEW MILLINERY

"Fad" Hat Takes Its Name from Latest Musical Hit by George M. Cohan

Here is the Nellie Kelly hat!

It promises to be millinery style for the coming season.

It was created by Alice Cavanaugh, who plays in "Little Nellie Kelly," the George M. Cohan musical-comedy which opens at the Playhouse on Monday evening.

The Gloria Swanson poke has been quite the "fad" during the past year, but now it will be the Nellie Kelly hat.

Frederick Winn, a Hollywood designer, is responsible for the work on the hat.

MILLIONS OF COINS USED

In the United States mints coins to the value of about $1,000,000 are being turned out daily, that are destined never to go into circulation. They are coined to balance the output of gold certificates as there is a law that at least one-third of all gold certificates issued must be represented by actual gold coins in the Treasury. Nearly $300,000,000 in gold coins is needed for the background for the $870,564,000 outstanding gold certificates.

CAPT. GALLAGHER DIES

Former Jailer and Figure in Local Politics for Years Passes After Eventful Career

Capt. George Gallagher, for fourteen years jailer of the Los Angeles County Jail, former Mississippi River steamboat captain, and interesting figure in political life in this county for many years, died yesterday at the County Farm, where he had been pensioned by the Sheriffs' Relief Association during the last two years.

Capt. George Gallagher

Having spent an active and spectacular career in county service, Capt. Gallagher retired from actual service two years ago after a serious illness. He was 82 years of age at the time of his death.

The former jailer went through a stormy career, having served under different Sheriffs, beginning with former Sheriff Hammel, from 1899 to 1902, and Undersheriffs Cline and Traeger until 1921, when he was suspended upon charges preferred by former County Counsel Hill. He was reinstated and assigned by Sheriff Traeger as a bailiff in a civil court until he became ill two years ago.

Capt. Gallagher was a cabin boy on the Mississippi River, and once heard the leadsman call "mark twain" to Samuel L. Clemens, famous American humorist. He later became a steamboat captain on the same river. Thirty years ago he left for the West, taking in the Mexican border, Texas, and finally arriving in California.

The former jailer was known to thousands of persons of the underworld, who were his friends, though he was reputed to be a stern, but kind jailer. The humane treatment accorded prisoners, in spite of restrictions, won respect and admiration for Capt. Gallagher among the prisoners.

During the last two years Deputy Sheriff Osterholt has acted as guardian for Capt. Gallagher, who was declared incompetent. The body was taken to the chapel of Alvarez & Moore, and arrangements for the funeral are being made by the captain's former friends in the Sheriff's office, as he has no known living relatives in California.

MODERN PIED PIPER HITS SNAGS

Rat-Catching Art Degenerates Sinces Cheese-Baited Trap Has Replaced Lute as Lure for Rodents—Besides Its Great Chance for Dry Agents

Rat-catching efficiency has degenerated since the days of the Pied Piper of Hamelin. The legendary musician, it is true, never got mixed up with cats, canary birds and policemen in addition to his rodent prey.

Only incoherent accounts of what happened at Annetta Court, 5146 Sunset Boulevard, are as yet obtainable. A man, it appears, walked into an apartment, showed a metal badge, and announced that he was a Federal rat-catcher. A cat walked in with him. Whether this was an assistant or was working on its own has not been established.

The cat made for a canary bird in a low-hanging cage, the household dog disappeared and the woman tenant called for the police. The police certified that the rat-catcher was not a burglar in disguise, and that unfortunate officer proceeded to business despite declarations that there were no rats around.

The rat-catching campaign is causing suspicion in certain parts of the city, including Hollywood, that it is really part of the new prohibition enforcement drive. There is a wide-spread belief that dry officers have disguised themselves as rat catchers to pry into dark and forbidden places which may be haunts for rats, but are more likely to be repositories for contraband liquor.

"It isn't natural," is the summary of protesting opinion, "for a man to come around and stick a cheese-baited trap under the bathtub or the kitchen stove, saying he'll come back in a week."

CORNET PUTS TABOO ON SNORES

Long Quest of Man Disturbed in Slumbers by Wail of Instrument During Night Leads Him to City Hall, Where Solace Hopes Topple

There is a time and place for all things, but for a neighbor to toot away all night long on a cornet, playing "Moonlight and Roses" and other popular songs of the day, is unfair, unjust, un-American and against public health, peace, quiet and justice, according to C. J. Bawden, who came to the City Hall as his latest stop on his long trail about the city to find some one in authority who can stop the nightly cornet playing of his neighbor so that Bawden can sleep.

Bawden, who lives at 627 Alpine street, is an employe in the City Engineering Department. He came to America from England believing that here was a country which was the home of the free and the brave and where one could do his day's work and then go home o' nights and rest for the next day. Bawden took out his naturalization papers, and was happy and contented until the man with the night-blooming cornet moved into his neighborhood.

"I come home at nights, eat my supper, read the newspaper, and then go to bed," said Bowden, "Just as I am about to go to sleep that d—— cornet breaks out. No more sleep for me! For hours and hours the man with the cornet plays and plays. Next morning when I get up I am tired from loss of sleep. I cannot do my best work for the city while this nuisance continues."

After a few weeks' experience with the cornetist, Bawden started out to find some one in authority who could compel the neighbor to cease his night-playing, but Bawden said yesterday that so far he had failed. He had been to the City Attorney, the police, the City Prosecutor, and then, he came to the City Hall hunting for some one, for anyone, who could co-operate with him in silencing the cornet. Search of city ordinances, laws, the charter, and the State constitution seemed to offer no relief for Bawden, so he went away.

PASADENA ATTORNEY SUED

Woman Accuses Daniel Riordan of Collection on Her Notes and Use of One in Realty Deal

Daniel Riordan, Pasadena attorney, has been named defendant in a suit involving promissory notes valued at approximately $7000 which hs been filed in Superior Court by Mrs. Clara E. Burg of Pasadena, who declared the notes were part of her property and intrusted by her to Riordan while he was serving her as counsel in a business matter.

Mrs. Burg said she employed Riordan as her attorney February 28, last, and delivered the notes to him at his request. On one of the notes, she asserted, Riordan collected four monthly installments and she asserted on information that he then sold the note at discount for $1149. She charged Riordan refused to pay her the proceeds or make an accounting to her and she expressed the belief he had appropriated the money to his own use.

Riordan was asserted to have given the other note in exchange for an equity in real estate, it being declared in the complaint Riordan took the bill of sale for the furniture on the premises in his own name but had the real estate conveyed to Floyd P. Bowers, who was named a codefendant in the action.

She asserted on information the purported transfer to Bowers was made without consideration and was intended by Riordan to cover up the proceeds of the promissory note. Mrs. Burg asked that the property be declared held in trust for her, and damages of $4236. Her complaint was prepared by Attorneys Merriem, Rinehart & Merriam.

SOUTH GATE TO TAKE UP WATER PLANT SOON

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SOUTH GATE, Sept. 7.—It is thought that the water plant of the South Gate Gardens Water Company can be taken over by the city of South Gate within the next ten days or two weeks. The city recently floated a bond issue in the sum of $150,000 for the purchase of the plant, part of the bond issue to be used for improvements. It is stated that as soon as the plant is taken over or shortly afterward the water rate can be reduced. The schedule as proposed would fix a charge of $1.25 per month on a minimum of 1000 cubic feet. The second 1000 cubic feet would be charged for at the rate of 10 cents per 100 cubic feet. Up to 4000 cubic feet the rate would be 8 cents, and all over that 5 cents per 100 cubic feet. The present rate charged by the company which is still operating the plant is $1.25 minimum for 500 cubic feet. Tracing up the schedule as far as 10,000 cubic feet, it is found that a consumer is now paying $14.65 for this amount, whereas under the proposed new schedule be will be paying only $6.85.

Liverpool will have automatic telephones in all parts of the city.

CRIMINALS REST ON LABOR DAY

Anyway Police Take Life Easy With But Four Arrests Made

Even lawbreakers took a day off yesterday.

In the twenty-four hours ending at 6 p.m., only four prisoners were received at the County Jail, two charged with intoxication, once with suspected grand larceny and one with suspected forgery. The customary daily grist at the bastile is fifteen to forty, and occasionally it runs to a couple of hundred.

The jail now contains 375 prisoners. It was designed for 250.

GHOST HUNTERS TERRIFIED

Watchers in the Broad Mountain country of Pennsylvania had set out to catch the ghost of a woman who had been murdered, but during the night they were terrified by weird feminine shrieks. As a result professional spiritualists were called in to make the watch with them to give their version of the sounds which terrified the watchers.

MYSTERIOUS BLAST SETS STORE FIRE

Sunset Boulevard Shop Sustains $10,000 Damage; Explosion Unexplained

Fire, preceded by an explosion that blew out the front of the store and momentarily threw the neighborhood into panic, did $10,000 worth of damage to the Rosslyn Costume Shop at 1570 Sunset Boulevard, shortly before 8 o'clock last night.

Officers Wright and Pascal of Central Station, who investigated, reported the owner of the establishment was in the shop about an hour before the explosion occurred.

The cause of the explosion has not been determined. So great was its force, it blew the plate-glass windowp out into the street, narrowly missing a passing automobile. Garments, furs and fixtures in the shop suffered heavily from fire and water.

KE DALEY'S A DAILY HABIT

Of Interest to Women.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Of much interest to many friends in the Southland is the announcement of the marriage last evening of Miss Mildred Farrar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Farrar of 3101 Wilshire Boulevard, formerly of Seattle, to George J. Dunbaugh, Jr., son of George Dunbaugh of Chicago, the ceremony taking place at the family residence, with Bishop Horsfell Johnson officiating, in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few close friends.

The house was a bower of green and white, and an improvised altar was built in the drawing-room. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an exquisite Francis model of white satin and pearls, the veil of tulle and lace caught at the back of the head by orange blossoms, and she carried an arm shower of white orchids. Miss Geraldine Farrar, one of the young debutantes, who was graduated in June from Marlboro School, assisted her sister as maid of honor, wearing a white frock and carrying an armful of white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Frederick Hulbert of San Francisco, a bride of the year, who wore her wedding gown of white lace over silver cloth, with trimmings of pearls, was the matron of honor, and carried white chrysanthemums. Other attendants, Miss Helen Foster and Mrs. Niles Trammell of San Francisco, were attired in frocks of Nile green chiffon and carried white tiger lilies. Juseph Dunbaugh of New York City served his cousin as best man. The ushers were Robert Newton of Los Angeles and Niles Trammell of San Francisco. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Dunbaugh left for their wedding trip, which will include three or four months abroad before they return to Chicago, where they will make their home. The bride attended the Sacred Heart Convent in Seattle, and later was graduated from the Bishop's School in La Jolla, while Mr. Dunbaugh carried off the high honors of his class at Yale in 1917. The wedding last evening was the culmination of a romance which started early last winter, when Miss Farrar was in Chicago visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Potter Smith in Briar Place.

Oyster Supper

Following an old custom of brides-elect of Alpha Sorority of Occidental College, Miss Virginia Stellar, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stellar, who will become the bride of Rev. Clarence H. Parlour of Philadelphia Saturday, is entertaining this afternoon with an oyster supper at the Windsor Tea Rooms of the Brack-Shops, the guests being members of Alpha Sorority of Occidental College, to which the bride-elect belongs. Yellow will predominate in the table decorations, favors and refreshments, and those present will include Mrs. A. T. Sackett, Mrs. Fred McLain, Mrs. James Irvine, Mrs. Samuel Hayward, Mrs. Charles T. Harper, Mrs. William Hall, Miss Josephine Stellar, Miss Elizabeth Goss, Mrs. E. A. Stellar, Mrs. Frank Blauvelt, Mrs. F. E. Bookenooden, Mrs. Arthur Brett, Miss Bessie Campton, Mrs. Bruce McQueen, Mrs. Robert Burhans, Mrs. Ardell Stearns, Miss Margaret McGrath, Mrs. William Devison, Mrs. Joe Crick, Mrs. David Darling, Mrs. Otis Castle and Mrs. Paul Cook.

Saturday afternoon a charmingly arranged luncheon and miscellaneous shower were given in honor of Miss Stellar by Mrs. Gerald T. Hills at her home in Marguerita avenue, Alhambra, when the feature of the afternoon was the giving of the shower by Adelaide Hills, the attractive 4-year-old daughter of the hostess, who, wearing a frock made from the train of her mother's wedding gown, with veil of tulle and orange blossoms, made a most adorable little bride, coming into the drawing-room to the strains of the the bridal chorus from Lohengrin. The house was decorated with a profusion of yellow flowers and ferns. Those present included Mrs. Charles P. Harper, Mrs. Raymond Kenyon, Miss Marian Mundt, Mrs. E. A. Stellar, Mrs. Max Hayward, Mrs. Samuel Hayward, Mrs. Jack Struthers, Miss Florence MacInnes, Mrs. Arthur Brett, Miss Josephine Stellar, Mrs. F. E. Bookenooden, Mrs. James Irvine, Mrs. William Hall, Miss Barbara Durfy, Mrs. Frederick McLain, Mrs. Robert Burhans, Mrs. Joseph Crick, the honor guest and the hostess.

Wedding Announced

Formal announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Brook Hawkins of 339 South Hoover street of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Claire Virginia Nicholson, to James J. Hill, the 1st inst., the ceremony being performed with only a few close friends of the family attending. After a brief wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Hill will make their home in Los Angeles.

Visitor Honored

One of the most attractive visitors to Los Angeles this season is Mrs. Virgil Browne of Oklahoma City and New Orleans, who is the house guest of her old friend and classmate, Mrs. R. E. Callahan, on Westchester Place. A number of delightful affairs have been planned in honor of the visitor, and recently Mr. and Mrs. Callahan, with Mrs. Browne and Mrs. Callahan's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Doss of Texas, who are also visiting at the Callahans, motored to Yellowstone and Glacier national parks, on to Spokane, Portland, Lake, Louise, Banff, Vancouver, and then down the coast and back to Los Angeles.

After their return Mr. and Mrs. Callahan and their guests motored down to their beach cottage at Hermosa Beach for an indefinite sojourn.

Dinner Party

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. John H. Brittingham of Gomez Palacio, Mex., Mr. and Mrs. J. Dabney Day entertained Friday evening with a dinner party at their home, 129 Fremont Place.

The Dansant

Mrs. Henrietta Love of Santa Barbara, who is domiciled at the Ambassador during the restoration of her home in the northern city, entertained Saturday afternoon in the Cocoanut Grove with a dansant, honoring Mr. and Mrs. William Clark Poillon of Santa Barbara.

Bridge Tea

One of the delightful affairs of the week will be the "rushing" bridge tea with which Alpha Nu chapter of Delta Gamma of University of Southern California is entertaining tomorrow afternoon at the Oakmont Country Club in Glendale, "rushees" representing many of the towns in Southern California. Hostesses include Misses Virginia Clark, Marjorie Rice, Margaret Oarker, Marion Wilson, Martha Srone, Helen Hopkins, Hazel Babbitt, Helen Dutton, Viola Volmer, Marguerite Echles, Betty Van Warmer, Marie Wilson, Ada Wilson, Mazie Ramsey, Zada Pierce, Jerry Wright, Evah Ellis, Harriet Gulberson, Dorothy Negus, Marion Robertson, Mildred Martz, Wilma Lewis, Marion France, Alice Merritt, Lois Bovie and Marion Parker.

Home Again

Mrs. Charles H. Fayrum of 837 South Catalina street, was was called to Tipton, Iowa, by the death of her mother, Mrs. J. W. Reeder, returned to her home here Saturday morning.

Betrothal Told

Miss Bernardine Voelker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Voelker of 2225 Victoria Drive, entertained Thursday evening with an affair, the occasion serving to announce her engagement to Randall Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin of 3657 Arlington street. The news was told by place cards at the supper table. No date is set for the wedding. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Voelker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Roach, James Roach, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sedwell, Richard O'Connor, Misses Viola Hammerich, Rose Haut, Evelyn O'Connor, Edna Pfister, Virginia Pfister, Rosett Rapel, Jr., Marguerite Rasch, Marie Louise Reed, Rose Roach, Sue Roach, Hortense Schoettler, Hilda Voelker and Marie Voelker.

At Beach Club

One of the enjoyable affairs planned for the day will be the bridge tea with which Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority of University of California, Southern Branch, is entertaining this afternoon at the Surf and Sand Club, Hermosa Beach, honoring the new coeds of the university. The balcony of the club is selected as the locale for the party and small baskets of autumn flowers will carry out the decorations. Bridge and swimming will feature the afternoon. Those serving as hostesses include Miss Lillian Loudon, Miss Freeda L'Allemand, Miss Lillian Byrne, Miss Doris Cannon, Miss Marianne Gill, Miss Katherine White and Miss Cecelia Shields.

CONSIDER STREET OPENING

The opening and extending of Fourteenth street from Maple avenue to San Pedro are under consideration by the City Council's Street Opening and Widening Committee.

AMONG the visitors to Los Angeles this season, who has been much entertained, is Mrs. Virgil Browne of Oklahoma City, house guest at the home of Mrs. R. E. Callahan, 1232 Westchester Place. Mr. and Mrs. Callahan and their guest motored through the Yellowstone and Glacier National Parks on to Spokane, Portland, Lake Louise, Banff, Vancouver and then down the coast back to Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Doss of Brownsville, Tex., the former a brother of Mrs. Callahan, are also visiting them and enjoyed the outing.

SUES GIRL OVER AUTO HE BOUGHT

Engagement Termed Only Ruse to Get Use of Car; Cost Price Demanded

F. W. Lohnes wants returned to him the $354.14 he declared he paid in on an automobile at the request of Bessie Clark, to whom he said he was engaged to be married at the time the automobile was purchased. The request was contained in a suit for the amount Lohnes has filed against Miss Clark in Superior Court.

According to Lohnes's suit, he and Miss Clark became engaged January 1, 1924. A month later, he said, she requested they purchase an automobile and Lohnes stated he made the down payment and two installments on the contract. All this he did, he said, in view of the fact that he expected to marry Miss Clark.

Lohnes asserted Miss Clark since has refused to marry him and he asserted her promise was made for the sole purpose of getting his consent to purchase the automobile. He declared the defendant has at all times had the use, benefit and possession of the car which is involved in the lawsuit.

Conley, Screen Actor, Held in Auto Collision

Lige Conley, 28 years of age, a motion-picture actor, residing at 829 North McCadden Place, yesterday was in Hollywood station jail following his arrest Sunday night at Sunset Boulevard and Vine street by Officer Reynolds of Hollywood division after his car collided with a machine driven by William Allen of 41 Westmoreland Place.

Allen had brought his machine to a standstill for a boulevard stop when Conley's car crashed into the rear end, throwing Mrs. Allen out. She was removed to the Hollywood Community Hospital, where doctors reported she is suffering from severe bruises, lacerations and internal injuries. Conley had been drinking, according to police reports.

BOY SCOUTS PLAN OVERNIGHT CAMPS

Members of local patrols of the Boy Scouts of America are planning to conduct overnight camps in the Los Angeles River bed next Friday night and have applied to the Board of Park Commissioners for authority to camp at a location west of the Los Feliz Boulevard bridge. The boys' camp will be in charge of M. McDonald, one of the adult Boy Scout leaders.

CARBUNCLES (Part 2)

If you think you are suffering when you have a boil, console yourself with the thought that it might be a carbuncle, which is a sort of million-boils-in-one, with the same increase in the proportion of pain, discomfort and illness.

As I told you yesterday, a carbuncle is a very serious disease especially in those greatly run down or elderly, so if it possible to see a physician or surgeon, you should do so. Because it is not always possible to do so, I am going to tell you of some of the recognized treatments.

I'll review briefly the beginning of a carbuncle. The disease begins with an innocent-looking pimple, most often on the back of the neck and shoulders. It may appear on other parts. The inciting cause is a virulent pus germ which has been pressed or in some way ground into the hair follicles of the skin, and there is always some undetermining of the general resistance, from some cause, as a predisposing cause.

First, I'll tell you what not to do for carbuncles: Do not poultice with flaxseed, bread and milk, etcetera, or any other home poultice, for the same reason that you do not poultice boils or any other sores, and that is that poultices are breeders of germs.

Treatment: Stellwagon believes that operative treatment, performed before sloughing, is the proper method, rather than allowing the carbuncle to continue to the stage of sloughing itself.

Morrison, in one of the A.M.A. journals, tells of the successful treatment of twenty-eight cases with a paste made of epsom salts. This is the procedure he used in these cases:

Eleven ounces of glycerine are put in a hot mortar and one and a half pounds of epsom salts are added, slowly stirred and mixed with a warm pestle. The white cream resulting is spread thickly on a piece of sterile gauze sufficiently large to extend over the whole area and some part around liberally. Over this is placed another cloth and a large amount of cotton well over this. Then bind with a bandage and leave unchanged for twelve to twenty-four hours and then renew.

Within a few days the central slough separates and the raw granulating surface is left. After the slough comes out the ulcer is dressed with this paste until all of the sloughing is complete and the whole surface is clean. The cavity is then packed daily with strips of sterile gauze, one and one-half inches wide, wrung loosely out of a solution of the epsom salts, made by dissolving four ounces of the salts in one quart of boiling water and ten ounces of glycerine, and sterilized. (This can be sterilized by boiling for thirty minutes.)

The whole area is then covered with more of the lint saturated with the solution. This in turn is covered by a piece of gauze and then cotton wool, as in the application of the paste. This dressing is renewed daily until the healthy firm new tissue is level with the surrounding skin. This can be then covered with skin grafts or the skin allowed to grow over from the edge, if the surface is not too extensive.

If you happen to be where a doctor is not available, you will have to let the skin or scar tissue grow. Keep it covered with a piece of sterile gauze smeared over with plain petrolatum or lanoline and changed daily, until all healed.

The constitutional treatment is the treatment of the underlying causes of the lowered resistance. This means a thorough overhauling by a competent physician.

My dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Boys Study Cleaning at Universities

Boys from Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas are enrolling in the courses in dry cleaning and dyeing given at the Iowa State college at Ames and the A. and M. college at Stillwater, Okla.

The University of Cincinnati also offers dry cleaning courses and all students are required to specialize in chemistry, textiles, manipulation of materials and a background of college courses.

Because cleaning is a recognized science, a master cleaner makes a thorough study of clothes cleaning and is qualified, as an expert to increase the wear of your clothes. Send your garments to a MASTER cleaner.

STEWED TRIPE, CREOLE

Boil two pounds of cleaned tripe, until tender, cut into slices two inches long and half an inch wide. Place in a saucepan two tablespoonfuls of butter and two peeled and sliced onions, cover and cook until soft; add one chopped green pepper, one chopped clove of garlic, three tablespoonfuls of chopped raw ham, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, and one finely crushed bay leaf; stir and cook until the onion is browned, add a two-pound can of tomatoes, boil up and simmer ten minutes. Add a seasoning of salt and cayenne pepper, add the cooked tripe, cover and let simmer thirty minutes. Pour into a deep platter and garnish with points of toast.

OYSTER COCKTAIL

Mix in a cold bowl two cupfuls of tomato catsup, one teaspoonful of paprika, two teaspoonfuls of grated horseradish, the strained juice of two lemons, two teaspoonfuls of Worcestershire sauce, and a seasoning of salt. Just before serving add seventy-five California oysters, divide into six tall glasses, set in a bowl of cracked ice and garnish with lemon slices.

MINT SAUCE

Place a cupful of finely chopped mint leaves in a double boiler, add one teaspoonful of sugar, one teaspoonful of tarragon vinegar, and two cupfuls of clear beef stock, let stand in hot water to keep warm, but do not boil. Serve with roast lamb.

RUSSIAN DRESSING

Rub a cold bowl with a clove of crushed garlic, remove the garlic and mix in the bowl one cupful of mayonnaise, two tablespoonfuls of chili sauce, four tablespoonfuls of chopped chow-chow, half a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, one tablespoonful of chopped chives, and a seasoning of salt. Serve very cold over hearts of lettuce.

ORANGE SOUFFLE

Cut a slice from the tops of six large oranges and carefully remove the insides without breaking the skins. Cut the flesh in cubes and add an equal amount of diced pineapple, peeled and diced apples and peeled and seeded grapes. Fill the shells one-third full with the mixture, fill with vanilla ice cream and pile on the tops a meringue made by beating the whites of three eggs to a stiff froth with six tablespoonfuls of sugar and the grated rind of one orange. Dust with powdered sugar and brown in a hot oven.

perhaps you think that all bread is pretty much alike. If you do, ask your grocer today for Gordon's Bread. You'll realize then that bread can be deliciously different—so light, so tender, so outstandingly fine that people will remark upon its goodness!

Unquestionably, Gordon's Bread is the choice of Los Angeles. More people eat it. In homes of nice discrimination, it has been the favorite for eighteen years.

A superlative delivery service makes it possible for you to get this wonderful bread always fresh and tender. Sealed in an air-tight, dust-proof wrapper—it comes to you with all its fresh goodness to tempt and delight. Ask particularly for Gordon's at your grocer's—by name.

Use Colgate's
It removes causes of tooth decay

Because good teeth and good health are so closely related, modern dentists are urging preventive dentistry. Its aim is to combat disease by preventing tooth trouble—to fight tooth decay before it starts. Colgate's Ribbon Dental Cream always has been in the forefront of this scientific move for better teeth and health.

Colgate's is a modern dentifrice—widely recommended by modern dentists. It "washes" your teeth thoroughly clean—does not scratch or scour them. Causes of tooth decay thus are safely and effectively removed by Colgate's.

The taste of Colgate's is pleasant. It is made sensibly, advertised sensibly, and sold at a sensible price. Large tube 25c.

STAR AS CRITIC

GAYNE WHITMAN TELLS WHAT IS WHAT AT ORPHEUM

By Grace Kingsley

"Don't you think that Frances White is about the cutest thing in the vaudeville world?"

"No, I think she's over-rated."

"Over-rated—how? Hasn't she a method? Hasn't she personality, talent, dancing ability?"

"Well, she doesn't dance—say, don't make me have a fight with Frances White right here!"

Gayne Whitman says that he for one is never going to act as my understudy critic again. He said that after he had gone with me to the Orpheum yesterday. He said that for one thing, it upset his routine of life—if it hadn't been for getting excited about doing it, he wouldn't have lost his auto ticket, which was especially troublesome because he had also forgotten what parking station he had left his car in. And for another thing, he said I didn't seem to realize the autocracy of his position—kept butting in with my own ideas.

"Well, I'll keep still," I said meekly, "go on; show the public how good you can be on the subject of acting!"

"I'll bet Jim Toney writes his own stuff," commented Gayne, warming to his business. "He has genius, if you like—a lot of hoke, but some tang of originality that is all his own, too. He could lose a joke and never miss it—lots more where those came from. How he can dance, too! Of course Ann Norman is his wife! I'll bet she mends the old tights, gives him everything, lets him take all the credit—dear, faithful soul—as long as he brings his money home!

"That dancer," Gayne commented, concerning the acrobatic lady with the Fehnova Dancers, "that dancer is built like The Thinker, isn't she? No, I didn't say a thinker, I said The Thinker! Look at her muscles! But, why on earth are they doing those undress acrobatic dances in the Hawaiian setting?"

"Well, they have an excuse," I ventured, "and in winter they have a reason!"

Gayne looked at me in scorn, and resumed:

"Ernest R. Ball is the original showman when it comes to the piano. What a lovely voice that beautiful blonde girl, Mildred Carroll, has. She ought to be in pictures. What? No, of course I'm not sarcastic. I mean she ought to be in pictures because she is so beautiful, smarty. No, not necessarily Warner Brothers pictures. That's a stunning act, anyhow, with all those women musicians.

"Ah, ah! Ben Bard and Jack Pearl ought to cook their jokes a little!

"Great pair of aces, Remond and Wells—the girl has beauty and much s.a. How odd and effective her enunciation. But, if that Spanish shawl ever slips—"

"Too bad," I said drily, "that there isn't a real dramatic act on for you to have a try at criticising!"

"Oh, never mind about my critical technique. You made me do it, you know! Anyhow, here's Bert Melrose. You've simply got to agree with me he's one of the greatest clowns in the world—you will at least give me credit for knowing a good clown when I see one—"

Just then everybody gave a breathless cry—a long-drawn sigh of horror, as Bert toppled over backward from that pyramid of tables—critics, audience, and all, joined in that sigh.

"That's the touch of nature that makes the critic and understudy critic in the whole world twins!" I exclaimed, as we went out of the house.

"That quotation doesn't sound just right," sniffed Gayne, wrinkling his brow.

"Oh, please park your critical faculty and unpark your car!" I admonished. And that's when he said all those rude things about never being a critic again.

MRS. WALLACE REID BUSY ON NEW FILM

Mrs. Wallace Reid, having returned from her long personal-appearance tour of the United States and Canada with her picture, "Broken Laws," during which she supposedly had a rather strenuous time, inasmuch as she took her two children with her, is in nowise the worse for her experience. On the other hand, she has gone right back to work on another picture.

The new picture is entitled "The Red Kimono," and is from a story by Adela Rogers St. John. It will be made at the Fine Arts studio.

But not is Mrs. Reid alone going to produce the picture, she is also stepping out to take a hand in the direction along with Walter Lang. This is Mrs. Reid's first real directorial enterprise, but we doubt not, knowing what we know of her genius, that she will succeed nobly. She herself does not appear in the picture, except in the prologue and epilogue.

Priscilla Bonner, the brilliant young actress who has been stirring the world lately with her characterization in "Drusilla With a Million," will have the leading role. Mrs. Reid praises her work enthusiastically, saying that Miss Bonner is one of the finest young actresses of today.

A notable cast has been assembled to appear in Mrs. Reid's picture. The players include Theodore Von Eltz, who plays opposite Miss Bonner; Carl Miller, Virginia Pearson, George Siegman, Tyrone Power, Sheldon Lewis, Emily Fitzroy and Mary Carr.

If there is any woman connected with the film business who should command all our admiration and respect, it is Mrs. Wallace Reid, who, out of the wreckage of her life brought about by the illness and death of her brilliant husband, the late Wallace Reid, has made a gallant fight and has won at every point.

Leatrice Joy's Bob Caused Her Inconvenience

Bobbed hair is all right, if one isn't a movie star, in the opinion of Leatrice Joy, star of the Cecil B. De Mille supervised production, "Hell's Highroad," now playing at Tally's Theater.

Miss Joy, who is shingled as becomes the mode, declares there is so little with which to work when one's hair is cut that new coiffures are difficult to achieve. And when Leatrice found that her journey over "Hell's Highroad" required her to appear in five different hair dresses, she had to do a lot of experimenting. However, the results are entirely satisfactory. She is first seen with her hair uncut, simple bob in the next sequence, and as the picture progresses her coiffures become more elaborate, the "zig-zag part" being the climax of the series.

HILLSTREET ENTERTAINING

If the Hillstreet continues to present such attractive bills as they have been the last few weeks, even their commodious house won't hold the avid vaudevillians anxious to be amused. Take this week's bill, for instance, four of the five acts are listed and live up to their listing as headliners and the fifth manages to be one of those dark horses of the profession.

Jimmy Savo, who bears a suspiciously close resemblance to one Jimmy Savoy, who was here with his brother just a few weeks ago, garnered onto himself the most vociferous applause of the bill, although there was a goodly amount of appreciation for all the other numbers. The noteworthy element in Savo's art is that although he doesn't utter a word during the first few minutes of the time he is on the stage, yet he has his audience doubled up in laughter. His pantomime is so deliriously funny that he ought to be a riot in films. He has a note of pathos that reminds one of that arch-comedian, Harry Langdon.

To old-timers in Los Angeles the appearance of Bill Desmond brought back many a memory. A popular favorite on the screen now there is many an admirer of his who realishes the opportunity to see him in the flesh as in the days when he was a matinee idol at the Burbank. His little act, in which Mary McIvor, his wife, assists, is patterned somewhat after "The Bad Man" in plot and manages to be quite interesting and amusing. Both he and Mrs. Desmond seemed to show signs of nervous exhaustion throughout the act, which was puzzling in the case of such seasoned troupers. In his curtain call he explained that at dawn yesterday morning two doctors were working over his wife to make her performance possible.

At first glance, Allen White's entertainers appeared to be just like any other entertainers and too much like the countless number of other orchestras that are cluttering our vaudeville right now. But by the finish of the act the audience was almost on their feet to them. Their circus number was amusing, decidely so, with a flavor of the novelty in it. As separate entertainers, each one of the group contributed a rollicking bit.

As for physical skill and prowess Harry La Vail and his sister are utterly amazing. They nonchalantly defy gravity in the most breathtaking feats. Miss La Vail exhibits strength and remarkable acrobatic ability seldom seen in a woman performer.

Ann Greenway is most notable for her soul-stirring gowns and shawls. However, Miss Greenway's dancing and singing didn't knock anyone off their chair.

Puzzling hokum card tricks, rather skillfully done, but not particularly novel, were those presented by Nate Laipsic. Perhaps it is his rather unattractive stage presence or maybe it is just because card tricks at a distance are just so much blah, but the hand Nate received would blister a single palm.

Fairly oozing in moral is the feature photoplay, "Go Straight," which despite its overdose of the above mentioned moral aspect, has a very good cast headed by Mary Carr, Owen Moore, George Fawcett and Gladys Hulette.

Tips to the Playgoers

"Wild Horse Mesa"—(Metropolitan:) That irrepressible author, Zane Grey, is responsible for another typical western. Jack Holt, hero; Noah Beery, villain; Billie Dove, heroine, and Douglas Fairbanks, juvenile, interpret Mr. Grey.

"Never the Twain Shall Meet"—(Loew's State:) Anita Stewart is hauntingly lovely and plaintive as the Tahitian princess. Bert Lytell more than an acceptable romantic hero.

"Whispering Wires"—(Morosco:) Not so essentially thrilling as its predecessors—"The Cat and the Canary" and "The Bat"—but entertaining mystery melodrama. Gavin Gordon most promising.

"Off the Highway"—(Forum:) Title quite descriptive of this unusual film. London's Bohemia an effective background. William V. Mong, John Bowers, Marguerite De la Motte and Charles Gerard appear.

"Dangerous Pleasure"—(Hippodrome:) Intriguing tale of society life, with Dorothy Revier and Niles Welch as the principals.

"The Unholy Three"—(Alhambra: Lon Chaney again proves his undeniable genius as a delineator of underworld characters. Capable cast includes Mae Busch, Matt Moore and Victor McLaglen.

Musical Comedy—(Burbank:) Amazingly amusing, this weekly pageant of girls and gowns, with dance and song, by the way.

"White Collars"—(Egan:) Real people in a play dealing with real situations. Need more be said?

"The Gold Rush"—(Egyptian:) The latest achievement of that past master of the art of combining the laugh with the tear—one Charles Chaplin.

"The Sap"—(Majestic:) Humor combined with realism, deftly interpreted by Edward Everett Horton, Ruth Renick and a fine cast.

"Lady, Be Good"—(Mason:) The Thrilling Trio—called Doner—and T. Roy Barnes are the chief reasons for the success of this latest musical comedy. And the dancing chorus.

"The Freshman"—(Million Dollar:) Harold Lloyd in a human comedy. Comedy, yes, though the trials of an exuberant, misguided youngster are rather near to pathos at times.

"White Cargo"—(Orange Grove:) Stark tale of life reduced to the fundamentals. Remarkably fine cast.

"Sally of the Sawdust"—(Rialto:) Carol Dempster poignant as the wistful waif, with W. C. Fields the other bright light of this comedy. Produced by D. W. Griffith.

"Hell's Highroad"—(Tally's:) Another of those sad, long stories of the folly of good intentions. Leatrice Joy, lovely as ever, cannot redeem the film.

"The Iron Horse"—(Criterion:) How they made it possible for us to take a hurried little trip back to New York. In other words, how the first transcontinental railroad was built. George O'Brien and Madge Bellamy provide the romantic interest.

Tourneur Back From Islands of South Seas

Maurice Tourneur, director of "Never the Twain Shall Meet," adapted from Peter B. Kyne's story of the same name, now at Loew's State, declares he was very much at home in the South Seas, where a great part of the picture was filmed.

More than half the story was picturized in the vicinity of Tahiti, and the director, being French, found it easy to handle the natives, as they all speak a French patois.

"It is not at all difficult for one to get used to going without telephones, the mail, telegrams, radios, street cars, elevators, tubes, motors, and all other apparently necessary accessories of civilization," says Mr. Tourneur.

"As a matter of fact, it seemed a pleasure to do without them. In the South Seas one is never distracted, each day flows into the other without interruptions. There is only one way to travel—and that is to walk. Of course, there are a few Fords, but they are regarded as curiosities.

"The mail comes in once a month, and, to tell the truth, the Americans there always seem to feel a little regretful that anything so exciting should come into their lives.

"In Tahiti everyone is happy with one costume at a time and frequently quite a skimpy costume at that; they have enough to eat whether they have money or not and it really doesn't matter much where one sleeps unless it happens to be raining.

"Members of the company had everything the island afforded, including the finest French wines and perfumes, and the highest bill we had to pay for an individual was $95.60—this including board, room, laundry and everything for one month."

DUAL BILL OPENS AT MOROSCO

Gavin Gordon, New Leading Man, Appears in "Whispering Wires"

A dual premiere greets patrons at the Morosco Theater, where "Whispering Wires," sensational superthriller mystery play, is showing, and Gavin Gordon, prominent New York star, is making his debut as the new leading man of the popular Morosco players.

That the New York success will receive an appreciative reception in Los Angeles is almost a certainty inasmuch as similar mystery dramas such as "The Bat," "The Cat and the Canary" and "The Last Warning" have scored their greatest successes here.

With Gavin Gordon playing opposite Charlotte Treadway, the popular leading woman of the Morosco company, local audiences are assured of seeing "Whispering Wires" at its best interpretation. Gordon was formerly associated with the original "Whispering Wires" company that played Broadway. He also played with Jane Cowl in "Romeo and Juliet" and has played opposite Marjorie Rambeau, Florence Reed and other stars of world-wide prominence.

The balance of the cast of "Whispering Wires" includes the popular Morosco players: Joseph Eggenton, J. Morris Foster, Will H. Gregory, Ann McKay, Jane Morgan, Thomas Miller, Richard LaSalle, Irving Kennedy and Harry R. Hoyt.

Food Eaten in 'White Collars' Expense Item

In Frank Egan's comedy, "White Collars," now entering its mere eighty-fifth week at the Egan Theater, there are several scenes at which the family assembles at the table in the dining-room of the little New York flat.

First, the Thayers are seen at breakfast and then at dinner. In the long run of the comedy, the grocery bill has become a real item of expense and, no doubt, the members of the company are weary of the nightly menus in which bananas appear as potatoes, and, so far, it is estimated that 8000 bananas have been eaten by the six persons who comprise the Thayer family in the play. The apple pies, which appear nightly, have reached a total of more than 1200, while 4350 rolls have been dispatched with stimulated relish. Five thousand eggs have been boiled to the proper degree of hardness to permit of Henry's effective use of a knife as he opens one and emphasizing an amusing speech. In addition, 10,000 lemons have been requisitioned for lemonade. Only one item in the list of food properties survives each performance. This is the chocolate cake which Mrs. Thayer brings in when the lemonade appears.

Nobody eats the cake because the dramatic action becomes so engrossing that there is no chance for any to even taste it, and that is fortunate at this period in the long run, because the cake is now eight months old and is said to be slightly the worse for wear.

The facts concerning the "White Collars" grocery account came out incidentally the other afternoon, when Craig Ward, the leading man, declined a glass of lemonade. He confesses that he is not keen on lemonade because he has been drinking it daily until he has a record of close to 1000 glasses.

New Company For Burbank Coming Week

New faces—new smiles—new songs—new settings—new costumery—new everything! Such will take place at the Burbank Theater on the 13th inst. when the present cast of favorites will depart and a new company and revue will open.

Negotiations are now under way for the bringing of this new cast of favorites to Los Angeles. However, until the last moment when all contracts will be signed, the names of these stock players are being withheld.

For the final week of the now present revue, a tempting and hilarious offering will be given in which the popular duo of comedian headliners, Jack Miller and Lee Bud Harrison, will furnish their farewell comedy relief. The balance of the revue, along with the famous baby doll chorus, will be seen in pleasing characters and snappy numbers. Lou Traveller and his jazz band will furnish the music for the final "Aloha."

Seat Sale for Playhouse Show Now Under Way

Seats for Louis O. Macloon's production of George Cohan's greatest musical-comedy success, "Little Nellie Kelly," are now on sale at the Playhouse box office. This charming musical play will open a limited engagement on Monday evening, the 14th inst.

Lillian Albertson, who staged "No, No, Nanette," and "Lady, Be Good," is directing the staging of "Little Nellie Kelly." Macloon states the advance mail-order sale is the largest that he has ever seen in his theatrical experience.

Alice Cavanaugh, a beautiful and noted New York musical-comedy star, has the role of Nellie Kelly. Lester Cole, a handsome and dashing young juvenile, has the role of Jerry Conroy. Other important members in the cast include Joseph Neimeyer, Franklyn Farnum, Bob Carter, Eugene Borden, Joe Griffin, Bettie Gallagher, Clay Hill, Una Fleming, Catherine Ward, Ida Moore and many others.

A Better Explanation

Rev. T. K. O'Connor (addressing a graduating class:) I was going to say I knew all of the girls in the class when they wore short dresses, but I presume it would be more appropriate to say I knew them when they wore hair ribbons.

"Fine Clothes" Now Showing at West Coast

The story of a woman who would pawn her very soul for cheap fineries is told in "Fine Clothes," the John M. Stahl production now at the West Coast Boulevard Theater, Washington and Vermont.

Alma Rubens is convincing in the role of the poor London shop girl whose ambition is centered in luxurious apparel. Lewis Stone plays the part of the wealthy Earl of Hungerford, who caters to the girl's desires, while the touching role of the humble shopkeeper is portrayed by Percy Marmont. These players are supported by an excellent cast, which includes Raymond Griffith, Eileen Percy and William V. Mong.

West Coast presentations include Rube Wolff and his Boulevardiers; Hy Meyer, America's representative planologist; Paul Howard and Jack Eddy, acrobatic dancers, and Leola Turner, coloratura. By popular request the management has secured a return engagement of the Meglen Junior Follies.

Real Estate Improvements

REDUCED INTEREST RATES.

We are now in a position to give our clients 5¾% money on improved property (residential as well as business) in Los Angeles and immediate vicinity on 3 to 5 year basis, or at 6% on 200 month basis.

PREPAYMENT PRIVILEGE.

$100 or any multiple may be paid on the principal at any interest paying date, without bonus.

6% MONTHLY INSTALLMENTS.

On this plan we make a loan close to 60% of an appraised valuation of the property. The payments required are small. For instance, on a $4000 loan $30 per month is required. More may be paid if borrower wishes.

MONEY READY.

Loans closed with dispatch. We handle our own escrows so as to save time. Money ready at all times for disbursing loans.

BUILDING LOANS.

We are making building loans at the low rate of 7%. Will refinance into one of the above loans according to the nature of the loan. You can start building within 4 or 5 days after application for loan has been made. Call at our office and get advice on refinancing.

PRINCE HUNTS WITH GAUCHOS

Wales Makes Hit in Rides With Argentinians

Royalty Risks Neck During Round-up on Pampas

Men Found Far Inferior to American Cowboys

BY G. WARD PRICE
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1925, in United States and Canada by North American Newspaper Alliance. Great Britain, London Daily Mail.]

HUETAL (Argentina) Sept. 7.—The Prince of Wales's vacation among the Gauchos and cowboys of the Argentine pampas has been a period of undiluted joy. Never was royalty more carefree. The Prince has shown himself a real out-of-doors man, more at home on the grassy plain than in a ballroom or salon.

Dressed in an old tweed coat and fawn-colored riding breeches, his fair flushed face and slender figure made a strange contrast with the swarthy, black-mustached, heavy-jowled Gauchos, dressed in their picturesque silver-spangled cowboy uniforms, with frilled leather aprons, rough hide boots and enormous gleaming spurs. Their mere bulk, reinforced by a splendid swaggering stride, completely overshadows the slim Anglo-Saxon visitor.

RISKS HIS NECK

At the Casares ranch, the Prince risked his neck chasing wild horses over the plain. He had gone out for a ride with a group of a hundred Gauchos. Real rough-stuff bad men of the Wild West films they looked, although their employers gave them an excellent reputation for loyalty and hard work. They wore short bolero jackets and long bell-mouthed trousers supported at the top by broad belts studded with worn silver coins of ancient Spanish currency gleaming brightly in the flashing sunlight. At the back of each belt was a silver-hilted knife as big as any butcher ever wielded. In a silver scabbard in front was slung a silver cup, with a tube like a pipestem, through which the Gaucho sucks his bitter yerba-mate tea.

This was the Prince's first encounter with the Gauchos, and he was frankly interested in every member of his formidable bodyguard, as they doffed their slouch hats and extended grimy paws for his handshake. He examined their equipment with the canny eye of one who knows horses and horsemen. The silver-mounted bridles interested him especially, until he caught sight of the various kinds of bolladoras hanging from the saddles. The bolladora is the long weighted string with which the Gaucho brings down horses, cattle or ostriches on the run.

HUNTS WILD HORSES

"Let's see how they work!" exclaimed the Prince.

So the whole vacalcade set out in search of wild horses. The next half-hour was as rough riding as anyone could wish, the whole plain being honeycombed with jackals' holes as big as a man's arm. "It's jolly dangerous," I heard the Prince call out as his horse recovered luckily from a false step into one of these holes.

But he led the way. His mount was an excellent one, and the rider seemed to understand intuitively the nature of the chase. Up and down the hillocks scampered the band of Gauchos, turning the scared wild horses this way and that, whirling the bolladoras constantly overhead in preparation for a throw. At last a horse was cornered—an animal that never had felt the authority of man suddenly found his heels caught in the flying cords and he crashed to the ground.

A few days later, at the great Liebig ranch, he participated in a round-up. He mounted one of the regulation cowboy saddles, so abundantly padded with wool that the Prince remarked, "It makes you feel as if you were riding on the back of a sheep." All day he galloped over the plain, seeing the horses rounded up, and taking part in the cowboy races.

The Prince knows the cowboy of the American and Canadian West, and he expected something of the same skill in handling horses to be shown here. But the South American Gaucho not in the same class with the northern riders.

In the rough-riding or unbroken horses, the Argentine cowboy is not very skillful. At one of the ranches, a youthful Gaucho volunteered to try his skill. As the horse lay roped on the ground, the Gaucho removed his rawhide boots and buckled spurs over his socks. Then he got astride the prostrate horse and the rope was cast off. In a convulsive bound the panic-stricken horse struggled to his feet and gave two bucks of the true Wild West quality. The brave Gaucho promptly rocketed over the horse's head and hit the earth ten feet beyond with a tremendous thump, amid the delighted laughter of his fellows.

In all the displays of rough riding, we found that the Argentine Gaucho has only mediocre ability in comparison with the skill of the cowboys of the United States and Canada.

WEEKLY LOCAL INCOMES HIGH

Estimate Based on Revenue Figures Sets Sum at $40,000,000

An income of at least $40,000,000 a week is enjoyed by citizens of Los Angeles, according to calculations made by John Burbaw, vice-president of the Citizens' National Company. He points out that income-tax figures now made public by the local Collector of Internal Revenue show that $50,000,000 a year is being paid to the United States government in income tax by the people of this district. Mr. Burbaw said:

"If we take 5 per cent as the net average rate, this represents taxable income of $1,000,000,000. Add to this the large income that is derived from tax-free securities and the small incomes which pay no tax, and the totals of these on a very conservative estimate will amount to at least another $1,000,000,000. These figures being correct we have $2,000,000,000 a year, or $40,000,000 a week coming into the hands of our people and passing into the channels of business."

SCHOOLS OF CITY START WORK TODAY

Registration Expected to Surpass Last Year's by Large Margin

Vacation days will come to an end today when the doors of the schools of Los Angeles are thrown open to begin the heavy registration of pupils expected for the fall term. The registration this year, it is believed, will surpass last year's mark by many thousands.

With many new additions and new schools in a number of districts, it is believed that housing conditions will be sufficient to take care of the anticipated increase.

A total of 7400 public school teachers will be on hand today to welcome back the school children after the usual summer vacation period. Two hundred teachers have been added to the pay roll this year.

It was announced that all registrations must be made today, but actual study will not commence until Thursday, inasmuch as the schools will be closed tomorrow for Admission Day.

In addition to the regular schools the McKinley Evening High School at Vernon and McKinley avenues will open tomorrow night, offering courses in the commercial branches, English, Spanish, dressmaking, millinery, furniture making, mechanical drawing, printing and linotyping. An employment bureau is to be operated in conjunction with this school to aid the students in getting work.

ALHAMBRA BURGLARS GET VARIETY OF LOOT

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, Sept. 7.—Cash, clothing and a variety of other articles were stolen last night from the residence of P. F. Hogan at 113 South Elm street, police reported today. Entrance was obtained by cutting the screen of a rear window during the absence of the family. Madelene Scott, who also lives at this address, lost a handbag containing about $25 in currency, she told the police. A large quantity of linens was among the loot taken by the burglar.

Greenland Greenbacks

For many years Greenland has used the coinage of her mother country, Denmark. Now she is to have her own currency, which will be more or less characteristic of the country. On one side of the coins there is to be the figure of a polar bear. The bills will have to be extra tough paper to withstand the hard usage that the Eskimos give to everything.

COUNCIL TALK PROVES COSTLY

Los Angeles Spending $98 Hourly While Managers Meet; Taxpayers Mulcted $49 for Thirty Minute Debate on Ordinance Barring Dogs From Barking

John Doe, taxpayer, walked down Broadway one day last week, and as he passed by the City Hall he asked a friend:

"Well, I wonder how much of the taxpayers' money the City Council is spending this morning?"

Investigation at the City Hall showed that on the morning in question the Council was spending $4761 of the taxpayers' money. This figure does not include the Councilmen's salaries of $100 a week each. Further investigation showed that on the salary basis alone, the Council sessions were costing the taxpayers $98 an hour. One of the topics which used up $49 worth of the taxpayers' money was the half-hour's discussion at last Thursday's session over the question as to whether or not the Council could, in its wisdom, adopt an ordinance prohibiting dogs from barking at nights in Los Angeles.

The statement that each daily Council session thus far in the history of the present Council, which took office on July 1, last, increased the city government expenditures $4761, was secured from tabulations in the Controller's office, which showed that during the two months the City Council has been in office the Council has authorized appropriations totaling $100,000 in round numbers, or, to be exact, $99,077.95.

These appropriations were in addition to the departmental bidget of $20,365,298 which was adopted by the former City Council for the expenses of all city departments for the fiscal year, which began on July 1 and ends on June 30, next. Under this budget, the cost of the city government was set at $67,884 a day. Of the $20,000,000 total for the year, $16,000,000 was the city government pay roll for salaries of policemen, firemen and other city employees, not including the harbor, and water and power department employees, who are paid from revenues of those departments. Of the $20,000,000 total required for the expenses of the city government, $18,000,000 is secured from direct taxation on the people of Los Angeles, the remainder being financed from police court fines, rents, dog licenses and franchise fees.

Ten Santa Fe Years

How the Santa Fe has grown in ten years and what that growth means to Santa Fe patrons. Better service at reasonable rates, due to efficiency of operation and millions spent for improvements.

That Santa Fe freight moves promptly, that Santa Fe journeys are enjoyable—doesn't just happen.

Wise economies, 284 million dollars spent between 1914 and 1924 on track and equipment, and the co-operation of patrons and employes—these have helped to build up a great transportation machine which is at your instant service for a most reasonable charge. And this in the face of heavy increase in costs of operation without corresponding increase in rates.

In these ten years the Santa Fe and the Southwest have grown together. The Santa Fe's growth has been not only in mileage and facilities, but also in ability to serve patrons better.

This decade has been a period of expansion. In it the Santa Fe's operated mileage has increased 922 miles. Each locomotive now hauls 54 per cent more. Nearly 14,000 more Santa Fe freight cars are available. There has been an increase of 15 per cent in passengers carried one mile and 79 per cent in revenue tons carried one mile.

Other important items have [illegible] too. Such as expense of main[illegible] the railroad, which increased 121 p[illegible] or $1,700 a mile. WHAT PRICE BEAUTY? CHEESE!

Two Tame Ibex Goat Kids Pave Way for Swiss Farmer to Turn Complexion Specialist With Packs of Vispburger Instead of Mud Treatments

Packs of Vispburger cheese may supersede the application of mud now used for beautifying complexions when the world finds out about the new beautifier, which was accidentally developed from ibex milk by Franz Imweghausen of Visp, Switzerland, the only ibex farmer on earth.

Imweghausen, now on a tour of the world and a guest at the Biltmore, yesterday told the story of how he tamed the ibex, the wild goat of the Alps, and now operates an ibex farm near Visp, where he produces great quantities of ibex milk and the cheese which has become known as Vispburger cheese.

"Years ago, on a hunting trip in the mountains near my home, I inadvertently shot a female ibex, whose two young kids I afterward found among the rocks," narrated Imweghausen. "I took the kids home, where they became very tame. They were allowed to roam all over their native crags, but always returned home to be fed. One day they brought home with them a wild ibex, which also quickly became domesticated, and later other animals attached themselves to the group, until I had a herd of nineteen ibex as tame as house cats.

"Goat milk is a cherished article of diet in Switzerland and I finally tried the experiment of procuring some ibex milk. I found it far superior to goat milk and had no difficulty in disposing of it at a near-by resort hotel. [illegible] cheese from the milk, [illegible] demand grew up at the [illegible] ceeding the milk demand."

Vispburger cheese, [illegible] said, is regarded by [illegible] health specialists as the [illegible] nourishing article of [illegible] world. It has a delicacy [illegible] unknown in cheese from [illegible] goats and has been found [illegible] tain a larger amount of [illegible] than any other food.

In addition, Imweghausen [illegible] he discovered that it [illegible] markable healing pro[illegible] applied externally. He [illegible] duced his two daughters [illegible] as a face cream and the [illegible] were astonishing. A [illegible] cation obliterated all [illegible] ishes and, after two [illegible] treatment, the young [illegible] somed out in complexion [illegible] the talk of the neighbor[illegible]

In an incredibly short [illegible] mand grew up for the [illegible] beautifying purposes [illegible] of the supply.

"At this time nearly all the [illegible] produced on the farm [illegible] beauty cheese," Imweghausen concluded.
